Library, Dance Halls and Pool Rooms Are Not Freed Yet.

People will be able to go to church in London again on Sunday. The board of health, at a meeting held today, decided to grant the privilege of reopening the churches on Sunday, November 3, and the schools and theatres on Monday, 4th. Strong pressure was brought to bear upon the board by a deputation of theatre and picture show managers. It was only after assurance was given that the managers had no idea of advertising anything like a grand reopening, were, indeed, cutting aown space, and that they did not expect to get back business for a week or ten days, that the board consented to name a definite date so early in the week The view was taken that people have become so thoroughly awakened to the menace of Spanish influenza and dan-ger of crowding that they will pretty well take care of themselves now.

Others Left Over. The question of reopening poolrooms, dance hails and the public library was left over to the next meeting of the board on Friday.
So far as the schools are concerned, the question came up in regard to the question came up in regard to the "common drinking cups" used in the commercial section of the collegiate

"It's dangerous," declared ex-Ald. H. M. Douglass, "not the same thing as the theatres, because in dancing the people face one another."

Dr. Downham stated that the epidemic is continuing to abate, Mrs. McKillop reporting that the public health nurse is quite optimistic this morning. On request of the board, the diet kitchen relief work will be kept going until Tuesday night, a way to be found or made to continue it at least that longs. After that, help will be registered for private homes.

Another general meeting of the women workers with the board will be held on Tuesday, November 12. Mrs. McKillop referred to the gratitude and testimonies of benefit received in re-

Hotels Have Helped.

The hotels have been most generous in furnishing mattresses, sheets, pillow cases and dishes for homes where need has existed of these supplies.

Only three or four new cases have been reported today, and the smallest number of deaths in several days.

Farmers are besieging the office of J. W. McCallum, local fuel controller, for permits for the purchase of coal. Mr. McCallum is far away from the turmoil, as he has left for the north on a hunting expedition. The farmers are invariably toid that they will have to arrange to secure some wood for this winter's fuel. One permit was given yesterday to one farmer, who could not procure any other fuel, and he was allowed to take some coal home with him.

There has been received no word respecting the coal at the customs house and postoffice yet. In the meantime hundreds of pounds of anthracite coal are being shovelled into the furnaces at these buildings every day.

Inference of Bonar Law's Reply to Question on Subject.

London, Oct. 30.—In the House of Commons Mr. Alden asked whether the German Government had kept its recent promise to President Wilson regarding the breach of international law on land and sea, and if the Government would obtain information proving or disproving statements of destruction of villages contrary to international law villages contrary to international law. Right Hon. Bonar Law was also asked whether the loss of merchandise since Germany had replied to President Wilson would throw any light on Germany's promise to change her methods of sea warfare.

Right Hon. Bonar Law replied that time was needed to make a full reply, but that he believed it was a fact that there recently had been a change in German methods of evacuation, and there was for the time being cessation of submarine attacks on passenger steamers. Replying further to the question, Mr. Law said there had been submarine attacks on other vessels in the past week. villages contrary to international law

The word has been passed down the line, "Stand ready to go over the top." But not as our soldiers do—to face gunfire and bayonets. While we await the word to advance, we consider our actual needs, we figure just how much we can spare as a loan to our country, and when WE go over the top it is with our open pocketbooks in our hands, to loan on the best security in the world, the money that will help to bring VICTORY, and after
