Strong westerly winds; colder and cloudy; local showers of rain or sleet. ROBERT SIMPSON

Fox and Lynx

TWO of the furs most in demand this autumn were worn originally by Mr. and Mrs. Fox and Mr. and Mrs. Lynx, good Can-adians of the Hudson Bay District.

The best of these skins were sent to Leipzig, Germany, where they do know how to dye fur.

Now here's the pointand it's a Simpson point— Every made-up article of black ynx or brown or black fox we offer for sale was dyed in Leipzig.

So that—the fur is the finest in the world.

—The colors are perfect and permanent. Our styles are quiet, lady-like, superior. Our prices are decidedly mod-

The Worsted Suits at $14.95

T HERE never was a fixed ideal yet, and we know that we'll have better suits at $14.95 before we give up, but up to date these suits represent our ideal for 1909at the price. We claim that you may go much higher than fifteen dollars and fare no better, as far as appearance goes. As for quality, all the important points have been considered. The materials are the best possible to procure in their grade. The workmanship is the same as on the higherpriced suits. The style ing simple, we are able to put the maximum of quality into the things that really count —the making, the lining, and, above all, the worsted. Ask to see the $14.95 suits. We'll be delighted to show them.

The $16.50 Coats are also worth looking at carefully. Kill two birds with the one stone to-

Re-Upholstering Orders

WE WOULD respectfully remind our customers that work of renovating furniture should be put in hand at once. In a little while we will be so busy as to make it problematical how soon your work can be promised. And that, too, at the very time when social affairs make it most necessary that your rooms be right.

Let us send a man to your house to-morrow to give you estimates. A phone message will bring him. We'll send samples from our overflowing choice of materials, too, if you wish. We have about everything. We might particularly recommend our new tapestries at 75c to $2.00 per yard. Variety enough to suit every purpose.

Colonial Casements

TY E have an assortment of fabrics for casement windows we sincerely believe suit that sort of window in a way that leaves nothing to be desired. It is called Colonial Casement Cloth, and the Marshall Field Company have given us our choice of the designs for exclusive sale in Toronto. These cloths sell at 25c and 30c a yard, and look quite as effective as goods costing $1.00, wearing as well and washing into the bargain.
