No Oppressive Tariff.

Mr. Meighen commended the tariff platform on which the Australian government was elected, and which declares for the protection of industries born during the war, the encouragement of others that are desirable, and the extension of existing ones. He quoted the platform of the Labor party of the commonwealth in its support of adequate protection, and declared that the first people who would suffer by the adoption of any policy approaching free trade would be the laboring classes. He denied that the tariff had been oppressive to the agricultural interests of Can-ada. "The tariff never has been oppressive to agriculture under any government, and it never will be so long as I have anything to do in determining the tariff policy of Canada." the prime minister asserted, and the remark was greeted with vigorous applause. As for the third party in parliament, no member of that party had ever taken the trouble to move lution. "I have challenged them to do it, but never a man of them got up," he said
