MORNING NEWS

OVER THE WIRES

The case against William Stewart, charged with a criminal assault on Abigail Mutch, was taken up at Newcastle yesterday. Stewart addressed the court at some length and threw himself on the mercy of the court. His trial will be taken up later. Some question as to his sanity has been raised. The case of the King vs. Edward Hachey was taken up. Hachey was indicted for breaking entering the store of Allen Black and stealing a quantity of cigarettes and money. He pleaded guilty and his counsel asked for leniency. Sentence was deferred.

The cigar factory of William Ward & Sons, King street, London, Ont., was damaged by fire last night to an extent of about $30,000.

According to results received from Woodstock, Ont., last evening in the provincial by-election in North Oxford, David M. Ross, government candidate, defeated his nearest opponent, W. W. Day, Liberal, by a majority of 1,303. This was a great surprise as this constituency has been Liberal for many years.

TRACKLESS TROLLEYS FOR WINDSOR IN THE SPRING.

Windsor, Ont., Dec. 20—Additional transportation facilities in the border municipalities, including the use of trackless trolleys in the southeastern section of Windsor, are planned by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, according to T. U. Fairlie, commission engineer. Engineer Fairlie, who was in conference this evening with Mayor Wilson and the Transportation Committee of the City Council, said the commission would be in a position to use trackless trolley early next spring. Removal of the tracks on Wellington avenue to the centre of the street, an repairs to the tracks on East Sandwic street, are among other improvements to be undertaken, the engineer stated. The trackless trolley will run from Lincoln road, Walkerville, to Ouellet avenue, Windsor, via Ottawa street, Langlois avenue and Erie street.
