LADIES' NIGHT OF ROTARIANS

Dinner, Programme and a Dance in Pythian Hall—More Than Two Hundred Laugh and Sing.

"Service above self. He profits most who serves best." These slogans of Rotary and the emblem of St. John Rotary Club, which is a steamer surrounded by a Rotary wheel, adorned the first page of the pretty leaflet given to each guest at Pythian Hall last evening. The occasion was ladies' night and also an observance of the seventeenth anniversary of Rotary. The leaflet had on its inside pages an alphabetical list of the members of the club, and the evening's programme. On the back were condensed facts about Rotary, which had one club in 1905 and now has 1,048 clubs and 80,000 members in eighteen countries. St. John club led all those having between 100 and 500 members in December attendance at weekly luncheons, making a record of 96.75 per cent.

More than two hundred persons, about evenly divided as to sex, sat down at the prettily arranged dining tables a little after 8.30 o'clock, and Rotarian Bond and his staff gave an excellent and efficient service. The pleasures of the table were varied by lively choruses, with Mrs. Scovill at the piano. A rose and a lemon were set in motion, the former among the ladies and the latter among the gentlemen, and when the wheel was turned by the chairman the lady who had the rose received a bouquet of flowers, and the gentleman who had the lemon had to make the presentation and receive a bill for the flowers, amounting to ten thousand marks. The spirit of fun pervaded the banquet hall.

The regular programme began with a ten-minute talk on Rotary by Canon Armstrong, who sought to interpret Rotary to the wives of Rotarians. His delightful address was in part humorous, providing much laughter, and in part dealing with higher things of an organization that is unique in the annals of human brotherhood. L. L. Lachance, sang with fine feeling and expression, and responded to an insistent encore. M. M. Birding read selections from the "Bards of Rotary," explaining that in order rightly to interpret the soul of Rotary, as of a nation, one must turn to its poets. His selections from the poetical works of Canon Armstrong, Robert Ross, F. A. Dylman, F. L. Spangler, Mont. Jones, Ken. MacRae, Frank Donagan and other bards were perhaps new to the audience, but made a deep impression on the audience. A duet by Thomas Guy and Mrs. Guy, who was introduced as "the main Guy," had to be repeated, so keen was the universal appreciation. Miss Gladys Gibson, whose skill as a reader is delightful, gave a number of humorous impersonations and was twice recalled. Not less enthusiastic was the reception of the telephone selections by Rotarian William Putnam, who, the chairman said, "will now swear the Rotarians to repeat, and later give the orchestra substantial assistance." The last number was a male quartette, by "The Quinlan Ailes," Spangler, Cairns and Guy, and it took three numbers to satisfy the listeners.

Rotarian Bond, the fine-master, with his aides, Rotarians Fraser and Skinner, extracted fines from each member of the club who was unaccompanied by a lady, and gathered in some further spoil for the orphans by discovering causes for inflicting a penalty. The fine-master's dialogues with protesting victims were impromptu but highly entertaining. From the dining room to the hall above the party moved a little after nine o'clock, and amid tossing balloons and changing lights the Rotarians and their ladies to the strains of an excellent orchestra danced till a little after eleven. Some giddy young persons with lovely gray hair insisted on introducing a "square dance" between the fox trots, one-steps and waltzes, and the way they went through a polka-quadrille would have given Torquillora a stitch. There was an elimination waltz, and the prizes, large and handsome Rotary wheels, went to Rotarian G. N. Hatfield and Mrs. Hatfield. The happy evening, enjoyed to the utmost by all, concluded with the National Anthem. "On to Moncton" to the district conference, is now the Rotary slogan.

GEO. E. CARTER AND MISS DOGGETT OF ENGLAND WED

A wedding of interest to a great many friends throughout Canada took place at noon in the Episcopal church at Robb's, when Miss Hilma Beatrice Doggett, of Mithurst, Cavendish avenue, Cambridge, England, became the bride of George E. Carter, of the Canadian Pacific passenger service. Rev. Canon A. W. Daniel officiated in the presence of Rotarian relatives and friends of the contracting parties. Miss Doggett made her first trip to Canada in 1920 to visit her V. A. D. comrade, Miss Irene McQuade, and on that occasion traveled by the same steamer as that which brought her to keep her 22nd-42nd birthday engagement. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doggett, of Cambridge, England, and before sailing was lovingly remembered by her numerous friends in the university city, where the Doggett home has been for so long. The beautiful wedding gifts from overseas were added to by a handsome chest of silver from Mr. Carter's associates in the C. P. R. staff and a complete set of mahogany dining room furniture from the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Carter, of Fair Vale.

Reductions From Our Usual Low Prices Mean More Than The Ordinary Sale

Every woman prides herself on her buying. She is quick to recognize good values. If she does not know comparative prices she soon finds out. Unlike a man, she insists upon shopping around until she finds just what she wants at a price that satisfies.

Because we know every woman will shop around at least until she has learned to have confidence in one store—we always urge that our quality and our prices be used as a basis for comparison.

Our values are worthy—our quality is always good—we never have merchandise of questionable construction. However, questionable furniture is made. Considering quality and the fact that our furniture is guaranteed—our prices are always very reasonable.

And now from our low prices everything is reduced—reductions you'd hardly believe existed. Won't you come in and let us show you?
