

his missionary labours he seems to have taken the resolution of the Apostle ; " I determined to know nothing among you save Christ and him crucified ; " and this resolution was most strictly carried out in the whole of his deportment. It was a very difficult thing to draw him out into worldly conversation. He had to transact business for eternity. He saw precious souls exposed to eternal ruin. It was his business, his great business, and his only business, to try to save them. To this he devoted all his energies. No person in so short a time gained a greater number of friends. He was most sincerely beloved by all who knew him. The church has sustained a great loss in his removal. We have need to pray that the Lord may build up the waste places of Zion.

Our dear Brother during his affliction manifested great patience and resignation to the Divine will. Heaven beamed in his countenance. His prospects of a blessed immortality were unclouded, and hence he met death with a smile. " Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace. "
