BRITISH "MESSIAH" POSES ON THRONE.

The Rev. John Smyth Pigott Holds a Festival Surrounded by His Crowd of Admirers.

St. John, July 6.—The Rev. John Pigott, who declares he is the "Messiah," yesterday in the chapel of the St. John's Hospital, a picture village in Somersetshire, held a special service, which is the first of several reports in this issue's London papers, one of which is an article with the single word "phenomenon."

At all accounts, it was a remarkable service. None but the full were present, the great oak of the retreat being closely guarded. It was the calendar day of the festival, the chief disciples having been summoned from far and wide. Norway was perhaps most largely represented, but the worshippers included at least one Russian countess and any handsome young Englishwomen.

By long disuse the "Messiah" throne had become tawdry and faded, but a little upholstery and loving work by ministering damsels had made it luxurious and stately. The service was timed for midday. A select cosmopolitan congregation of hero worshippers and gathered in the temple, when suddenly there was a hush and the self-styled "Lamb of God" approached.

The "Messiah" slowly and silently walked to his renovated throne, his disciples rising as he crossed the portals and bowing their heads reverently. "Behold the Lamb of God," uttered slowly and deliberately and unaffectedly, was the astounding exclamation which suddenly broke the spell of silence.

The words had scarcely passed the lips of the "Messiah" before all his disciples made an obeisance, the women bowing low and uttering exclamations of love and devotion. The central figure of the service was a young man, dressed in clerical garb. There were two hymns, and the "Messiah" himself preached a short sermon, selecting as his text the words "Love one another." Next followed psalms sung in a subdued key by a splendidly trained choir. The service lasted a little more than half an hour, and then the "Messiah" and the congregation went to partake of luncheon.

MILLION DOLLAR COTTAGE BURNED.

NEW YORK, July 6.—In the fire which destroyed the Cammack cottage at Tuxedo Park, N. Y., the jewels of Mrs. Bernard P. Steinman, of New Orleans, worth several hundred thousand dollars, were probably so damaged that they will be worthless hereafter. The cottage was valued at nearly one million. It was one of the handsomest in the exclusive section of Tuxedo. Mrs. Steinman's jewels were in a safe in a room where the fire started. There was little water pressure and the local department was unable to check the flames.

STRAWBERRIES FOR THE COMPLEXION.

Strawberries, according to the "Country Gentleman," are an aid to beauty. A crushed strawberry rubbed over the teeth will whiten them. A strawberry cut in two and rubbed over the face is an excellent remedy for freckles, summer pimples, and generally defective complexion.

DOUBLE LIFE OF FRED. GOSS.

North End Man Charged with Serious Crime.

Lived With a Woman Here, While He Had a Real Wife in Boston.

This morning Detective Killen and Sgt. Kilpatrick arrested Besse Patience Hutchings, who for some years past, it is stated, has been living with Frederick Goss as his wife. The arrest was made on a warrant issued out by a lady who came here from Boston, who claims to be Goss' wife, and charges the woman now under arrest with adultery. A warrant was also issued for Goss, but till the time of going to press the police were unable to locate him.

The Hutchings woman, who was accompanied by her child, was in court this morning and the charge was read over to her. She first replied "Yes," but when it was explained that that was not an answer to the charge she refused to say anything. His honor remanded her to jail. She then broke down and cried, saying she could not go to jail. She is a woman 31 years of age and is said to be in a delicate condition, however, was sent into jail.

The story of all concerned is an interesting one and as far as can be learned is as follows: All parties concerned belong to Newfoundland, where Goss years ago married the woman who made the information. About nine years ago Goss and family moved from Newfoundland. His wife and grown up daughter, his wife being a woman about 50 years of age, resided in Boston. Goss, it is said, worked in various places as a carpenter. At the time the Goss family moved from Newfoundland there was a man that place one Besse Patience Hutchings, who is said to be a niece of Mrs. Goss. She and Goss came to live here. Part of the year Goss would work here and part in Boston and vicinity. The woman now under arrest is the mother of three children, two, however, died and the third is in jail with her. For some time past they resided at 78 High street.

Goss returned from Boston a week ago Monday and the story is that the Boston Mrs. Goss gave him one hundred dollars to go to a certain place with, but that he came down here. Learning this, Mrs. Goss came here and tried to persuade her husband to remain in Boston, but with no success.

BATTLE RAGING IN THIBET.

British Troops Assaulting Thibetian Fort Meet With Fierce Resistance—British Officer Killed.

GYANGSE, Thibet, July 6, noon.—The assault of the British troops on the Gung (fort) is now in progress. They have already captured the village at the base of the rock. The Thibetans are fiercely resisting. Lieut. Gordon, of the Thirty-second Sikhs, is among the killed. (The fort which the British are assaulting is a great castle on the top of an almost inaccessible hill. The London Times expert a few days ago estimated that a week's siege and a counter-attack would be the price of capture.)

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—The Democratic National Convention convened here today. It is being held in the fringe of the city on Olive street. This monster meeting place, within the walls of which democracy's standard bearers are to be named, was the scene for all whose interest here centered in the Democratic convention. Long before the doors were swung open vast crowds thronged the streets in the vicinity of the main entrance to the exposition building. In the surging line of the crowd the Democratic standard bearers were men and women and visiting political organizations, eagerly seeking entrance. Those who have charge of the distribution of tickets for admission have been deluged with requests for them. Cards have been provided only to the extent of the seating capacity of the hall and many persons were disappointed. The preliminary skirmishes have taken place and the big contest for the nomination for president is now on in earnest.

FOURTH OF JULY CASUALTIES.

CHICAGO, July 6.—The Tribune says the casualties resulting from the country's celebration of the fourth of July have reached 53 killed, and 3,949 hurt. The figures for Chicago are one dead and 101 injured. Lockjaw in a few days will begin to reap its harvest. It is expected to more than double the number of fatalities. The death toll this year is one less than that of 1903, but the number of injured is 615 smaller.

The many friends of Miss Laura M. Green, 109 Pitt street, will regret to hear of her death which occurred this morning. The deceased young lady was only eighteen years old. She is a daughter of Joseph W. Green, engineer of No. 123, 233, 235, 237, 239, 241, 243, 245, 247, 249, 251, 253, 255, 257, 259, 261, 263, 265, 267, 269, 271, 273, 275, 277, 279, 281, 283, 285, 287, 289, 291, 293, 295, 297, 299,
