Why Actresses Never Grow Old

Nothing concerning the profession seems more puzzling to the dear old public than the perpetual youth of our feminine members. How often we hear remarks like, "Why, I saw her as Juliet forty years ago and she doesn't look a year older now!" Of course allowance is made for makeup, but when they see us off the stage at close range, they need another explanation. Few strange women generally haven't learned the secret of keeping the face young! How simple a matter to get an ounce of mercurochrome wax at the drug store, apply it like cold cream, and in the morning wash it off. We know how this gradually, imperceptibly, absorbs old cuticle, keeping the complexion new and fresh, free from fine lines, sallowness or over-ripeness. We know, too, that this mercurochrome wax is the reason actresses don't wear freckles, moth patches, liver spots, pimples and the like. Why don't our sisters on the other side of the footlights see the reason, and profit by it?—Theatrical World.

CITY AND DISTRICT

ALL THE LATEST LOCAL AND DISTRICT NEWS

Mishap Was the Cause

A break in the rolling machine used in making the mats of the stereotyping operations was responsible for the soiled appearance of yesterday's Record.

Water is Good

The city water at present is good. Sanitary Inspector J. Buchaupt states he has received the report on the recent test. "The bacteriological control should be maintained" the report says.

Mayor Has Received Report

Mayor Gros has received the report on the recent test by the underwriters of the city water pressure and the fire department. The report having just been received by him he has not had the opportunity as yet to look over it.

Wellknown Resident Passed away

The death occurred in St. Agatha yesterday of one of the best known residents of that vicinity, namely Mr. George Buche who passed away in his 77th year. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Further particulars will follow.

Boys and Manholes

Some boys in the city have been causing the board of works considerable annoyance of late. They have been throwing dirt in the manholes, just for fun. It recently became necessary to remove three loads of earth from four manholes, principally owing to this harmful practice. Young lads are warned to stop this mischief or suffer the consequences. Also they are warned not to remove covers from the manholes.

Jansen-Sauder

The marriage took place at nine thirty o'clock this morning of Mr. Edward W. Jansen son of Reeve August Jansen of Centerville, who was wedded to Miss Ruby Pearl Sauder, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sauder of Centerville. Mr. Stanley Sauder and Miss Clara Jansen, sister of the groom, were the attendants. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Swartz 47 South Ely street.

May Open One Here

Among the educational features which may be undertaken locally is one for the benefit of the children. This movement which is strictly interdenominational enables children to profitably employ children's time during vacation in work and play. The matter of opening a daily vocational bible school in Kitchener has been discussed and is being considered it has been taken up by the local workers and they hope to have something definite decided on in the near future. For the purpose of furnishing facts and information to the local people who are interested in the movement Rev. G.S. Buckingham of Ottawa, head of the Daily Vocation Bible Schools for that city is being brought here. He will address a public meeting at the Y.W.C.A. tomorrow evening.

Ten Heroes welcomed home yesterday

Yesterday was a day of welcoming and the reception committee and friends and relatives were busy on the arrival of every train welcoming home dear ones who have returned from overseas.

SMILE OR TWO

Unsuccessful Author: "After my death this world will realize what I have done."

Sympathetic Friend: "Well, don't worry about it, old chap. You'll be out of harm's way then."

Papa (from the stairs): "Mary, what are you doing out there?"

Mary: "I'm looking at the moon."

Papa: "Well, tell the moon to go home and you come into the house. It's half-past eleven."

Judge: "So you claim that the defendant hit you with malice aforethought?"

Complainant (suspiciously): "It's no good tryin' to make me contradict myself, guv'nor. I said he hit me with a hammer, and that I stick to through thick and thin."

Building at Hamilton

More than 25 holders of vacant lots in Hamilton took advantage of the Government's housing scheme and their applications were filed yesterday. A private session of the Hamilton Commission was held yesterday, and discussed plans for four, five and six roomed houses.

Ontario Cities Awake to Industrial Expansion

Ontario municipalities are taking a more aggressive attitude with regard to securing of new industries. The opportunities held undoubtedly face Ontario cities to secure industries financed by either English or American capital are being more generally recognized. The border cities on the Detroit River have secured this year several industries connected with the manufacture of automobiles. Prospects secured within the space of one week numbered twenty four according to a statement by the Industrial Commissioner of the border municipalities. This included four automobile, three automobile accessory, six iron and steel and two textile companies. Certain other cities are equally as active. Agreements have been closed in a number of Ontario municipalities for industries to locate. Most of the companies seeking to establish in Canada have been American.

Experiment Performed on Pet Dog

Sister Elizabeth Kimball, of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade, London, performed a most wonderful experiment on a dying pet dog. While on her way from her duties to home she went down Clarence Street, London, as far as Eastbury and a pet dog owned by Mrs. Mathews, was lying in a dyer's workshop and its contents of strychnine and by some way or other she gave the dog two hypodermics about one and a half hours apart. Eyewitness who saw this done were more than amazed to see Mr. Dog regain strength in less than two hours and it is reported that the dog is doing as well as could be expected.

DAD CAPITULATES. Dad can't reconcile himself to it altogether, but he isn't taking quite as badly as he did at first. When young Gregson told him that he wanted to marry Nettie, Dad had just one thought and that was to throw Gregson down the front steps as quickly as possible. Oh there is nothing wrong with young Gregson, Dad will admit that. Gregson has a good position, and he is a boy who has fine moral principals. If Dad had been allowed to pick his own son-in-law he couldn't have picked a better one. But that's just the point, Dad didn't want a son-in-law or even a prospective son-in-law. Dad wanted to keep Nettie for himself. "The young Jack-a-napes" he blustered to Mother after the interview with Gregson, "the impudent young Jack-a-napes, he wants to marry our Nettie! You're not encouraging them are you?" he cried struck by the fact that Mother, his ever faithful ally, did not add her voice to his in condemnation of the young man's audacity. "Well, dear, it's only natural..." "Natural! Nonsense! Netties only an infant!" "She's three years older than I was when we were married, and Gregson is a nice boy."
