If you are or were a university student and are thinking about a career consider the Master of Urban and Rural Planning degree at TUNS.

We are looking for motivated students with an honours degree or a professional preparation in a variety of fields who are interested in a graduate professional Degree in Planning.

We're located in Halifax and are training people to be sensitive to the balances and conflicts between rural and urban development and to be rigorous in resolving them.

So if you have studied Administration, Engineering, Law, Biology, Economics, Geography, Political Science, Sociology or other Social and Physical Sciences, send information on yourself (including previous degree) to:
