

SPORT SCENE

Continued from p. 1

fifth end to take a lead of 4 to 1. Sweden got one more in the seventh to come within two. Jim Sullivan peeled off every Swedish rock for the next two ends to win four to two, and become the first Canadian team to win since Bob Urser of Winnipeg in Perth, Scotland, won in 1985.

"But I don't think it has really sunk in yet," commented Burgess. "All we want to do is sleep," said Jim Sullivan, upon arriving at the Capital Winter Club, their home rink, for a welcome back reception on Sunday night after arriving from Montreal. Five hundred 500 people showed up for a reception at the C.W.C.

Photo by Eric Drummie

Premier McKenna congratulates coach Sullivan and Team Canada.

Lifeguard team goes to Nationals

The members of the lifeguard team have proven their desire to go to the "1988 National Lifeguard Competitions" by participating in a tread-athon on Saturday, March 19, 1988. What is a Tread-athon?

Get sponsored by the hour and tread water for 12 hours, easy huh! Of the ten guards who started only four were pulled out of the water at 2:00 a.m. after 12 hours of treading (five minutes of each hour participant's were allowed out to eat and you know you're not supposed to do that in a pool). Thumbs to the four prunes who finished: Caroline Galvin, Tracy Jewett, Jody Crowther, and Jordan Cooper. The other participants, that also did very well, were: Kim Crosman, Jill Reader, Laura McMahon, T.J. Sellinek, Ian MacKenzie, and Martin Keanan. Why would they do this?

The $500 raised will go towards sending two teams to the "1988 National Lifeguard Competition" from May 4 -6, 1988. The best lifeguard teams in Canada will be given an opportunity to demonstrate their skills and knowledge in the practice of lifeguarding.

Events include: iron team relay, education event, pool rescue simulations, aquatic emergency care situations, priority assessment, CPR event, water rescue drill.

The various events will be held in three of Edmonton's major aquatic facilities to push the teams and individuals to their limits.

1. The Kinsmen Sports Centre (iron team relay, water rescue): international level competitive environment, indoor track, held 1978 Commonwealth Games.

2. The Mill Woods Leisure Centre (first aid, pool sits, priority assessment): large wave pool, tube slide, diving tank.

3. Finals at West Edmonton Mall's "World Water Park": world's largest indoor aquatic center, 17 water slides, 300 meters in length (3 football fields), huge wave pool, indoor sailboarding, board and body surfing.

Special thanks to Steve Power, the Coach, and best of luck to all eight guards going: Caroline Galvin, Laura McMahon, Jill Reader, Tawnya Desaulnier, Jody Crowther, T.J. Sellinek, Ian MacKenzie, and Daryl Thompson. Please try to bring all eight back but this time leave a little hair on your heads and the number one team's at the competitions and at the parties (if you have time).

like to participate in an event, the response was predictable. "Yes, we would like to see such an event." We can only hope that their success brings some light to this sport at the University level. If it had, UNB could have been home of the C.I.A.U. champions as well.

On Monday they received a parade starting at the Legislative Assembly and ending at City Hall. At the L.A. they received special awards from Premier McKenna along with the Grace Donald Rink from the C.W.C. (Third place in the Canadian Ladies Seniors in Peterborough, Ont.).

When asked if they would

.A.U.A.A./C.I.A.U. event, the response was predictable. "Yes, we would like to see such an event." We can only hope that their success brings some light to this sport at the University level. If it had, UNB could have been home of the C.I.A.U. champions as well.

The Sullivan rink is back to school now and everyone at the Brunswickan congratulates them and wishes them the best of luck in the rest of the term.

EXPRESS win but train might leave
The Express beat Sherbroke last Saturday night to a 2-1 victory. The attendance record was broken, but speculation has it that this might not save the team from leaving.
Photo by Eric Drummie

World Water Park

The West Edmonton Mall's "World Water Park"