

The Household

Mixed Eggs—Chop hard boiled eggs and heat to boiling in milk seasoned with butter, pepper, catsup or any chopped herb; thicken with some flour, and serve garnish with crotons.

Meat Cake—Mix any cold beef or mutton, and mix it with an equal weight of bread crumbs; add a little very finely chopped onions and parsley, a little stock, seasoning and a well beaten egg. Form into a cake and fry in dripping (about an ounce will be sufficient). This may be served without or without brown sauce.

Butter Rolls—Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of butter in one pint of scalded milk. When cool add one scant teaspoonful of sugar, one-half of a yeast cake dissolved in a little warm water and enough flour to make a soft dough. Knead lightly for five minutes and set aside to rise. When very light make into small rolls and let rise again; then bake in moderate oven for twenty minutes.

Prune Jelly—One pound of prunes, one-half box of gelatin. Soak the prunes over night and stew until tender in the water in which they have been soaked. Remove the stones and sweeten to taste. Dissolve the gelatin in a little hot water and add the prunes while hot. Lastly add the juice of a lemon and two tablespoonfuls of blanched almonds. Pour the jelly into mould and set it on the ice to harden. Serve with whipped cream.

Rice Fritters—Boil one-half cup of rice in a cup of milk until the rice is tender and has absorbed all the milk, using an inner boiler. Add the beaten yolks of two eggs, a tablespoonful of sugar, a sprinkle of cinnamon and a nutmeg and two teaspoonfuls of softened butter. Remove from the fire and let cool before adding the beaten whites of the eggs. Drop in spoonfuls into plenty of boiling fat or oil and let them fry a light brown. Serve with one flavored strongly with lemon.

USEFUL HINTS.

When a wall is found to be too damp to retain wall paper, prepare a coating of the following ingredients: A quart of a pound of shellac and a quart of naphtha. Brush this over the damp spots, and when it dries, the wall will be found to be impervious to moisture from the other side.

If you want your palms to thrive in an ordinary sitting room, sponge the leaves once a week with lukewarm water to which a little milk has been added. Then stand the plant for two hours in lukewarm water, deep enough to completely cover the pot. This is the proper way to water palms. Many plants are killed every year because they are improperly watered.

To clean white serge, if it is not too dirty, the following process will be found effective: Heat some flour in the oven, and with this rub every part of the material. Then shake and brush out the flour, and if any soiled places still remain repeat the process.

The new china closets are much higher than those in use of recent years, and very many of them set up quite high on a lower shelf of wood to display large bowls, pitchers, etc., are often seen on these latest closets, too.

In screwing glass globes on lamps or gas fixtures be careful not to screw them too tightly, as the heat will cause an expansion of the glass, which, if not provided for, will result in breaking the globe.

When a skirt shows signs of wear, pocket out and put it on the other side, sewing up the seam where it was before. This looks neater than putting a patch around the pocket.

To preserve brooms, dip them into boiling soap suds weekly, and they will last much longer than they otherwise would.

Flowers can be kept fresh for some time if a pinch of soda is added to the water they are placed in.

Mould can be kept from book cases by scattering here and there about them a few drops of oil of lavender.

A teaspoonful of vinegar put into the water in which eggs are poached sets the white and helps to keep the eggs in good shape.

For a burn on the nose is better than a quick application of dry baking soda sprinkled thickly over wound.

To clean black cashmere wash the goods in hot suds containing a little borax. Rinse them in very blue bluing water and iron while damp.

HALL AND PARLOR IN ONE.
There is a growing tendency among housewives who have to live in the often cramped spaces of the modern house to throw hall and parlor into one, thus making a fair-sized room which they use as a living room-hall. Interior decorations usually object to this plan as lacking privacy, because drafts blowing from the stairway, and, in the case of entertainment, the visitor is ushered at once into the presence of the family. Are walked by the Millard player, as he moves around the table. That is the only exercise many a city man gets. It is this lack of exercise in the shut-in-life of the city, combined with irregular eating and indigestion, which tends to make the city man the victim of "stomach trouble."

When there is undue fullness after eating, sour risings and other distressing symptoms, a prompt use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will effect a speedy cure. In the most extreme cases of disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, the persistent use of the "Discovery" will result in a complete cure in ninety-eight cases out of every hundred.

"The paper I would like to give you 'Golden Medical Discovery' I cannot utter in words or describe with pen," writes James B. Andrews, Esq., of 1234 Millard Street, Huntington, Pa. "I was taken down with what our physicians said was indigestion. I doctored with all and all around here and found no relief. I wrote to you and you sent me a question blank to fill out and I did so and you then advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took three bottles and I felt so good that I stopped—being as I think, cured. I have no symptoms of gastric trouble or indigestion now."

FRILLS OF FASHION.
Low and flat is the word in the Parisian mode.

Panne velvet is to be seen and more velvet and satin.

A white chiffon bow is edged with a narrow ribbon in black and white.

Jet buckles and pins, as well as jet-laced shoes, are very good hats, and buttons of jet are used to finish straps in mourning millinery.

Very brilliant colors appear in some of the Paris hat, orange velvet and rich crimson and chiffon trills are combined with velvet and fur.

How are reversible skirts in silk? Black for one side and a black and white plaid for the other. The economical woman has two silk skirts in one.

A SUGGESTION.
"Don't you think that the wires ought to be put under ground?" asked Cawker.

"Yes, and the wire-pullers, too," replied Cawker.

UNTRUSTWORTHY.
"But, Jones gave you his word, didn't he?" said Friable.

"Yes," replied Friable, "but I don't like to take Jones' word. He won't even keep it himself."

LATER.
Having used the word "kick" in its slang sense, Little Clarence was promptly taken to task by his mother.

"You shouldn't use that word," said she.

"That's true," mamma, I shouldn't," frankly confessed the manly little fellow. "It's more up-to-date to say 'knock'."

WORTH MORE.
"A penny for your thoughts, Reggie."

"Worth more, weally; make it a frank."

"A frank? Nonsense! Why?"

"Was thinking in French, ye know, you don't ye know!"

Some men rise in the world because they are light weight.

An editor in Blenheim printed an item that a man who was hugging the bird girl had better stop or his name would be published. In a few days about 25 citizens paid up their subscriptions and told the editor to pay no attention to foolish stories going around.—Ridgeway Standard.

Saturday afternoon about three o'clock, while Mrs. Marcell, of Hedgesville, was absent, some persons effected an entrance to her house by removing the screen from a back door, and the following articles and money were stolen: About $25 in cash, a silver watch and some silverware. As no person was seen about the premises it is not known who the party was.—Ridgeway Standard.

Game Warden Quillins says that game has not been so abundant in years. Every class of birds has had a good increase during the breeding season, and partridges, that have been scarce for some years are reported to be plentiful. He cannot account for the increase unless it is that the foxes, weasels and other animals that prey upon young birds are being killed off.—Blenheim Tribune.

S. L. Wellwood and wife were seriously injured Monday evening by driving into the Hickey drain at the Middle Road, which is being repaired. They fell a distance of nine feet off the stone abutments and had a narrow escape. Mr. Wellwood had a finger broken and his wife was bruised about the face. She was taken to Dr. Bell for treatment. Mr. Wellwood threatens an action against Tilbury East.—Tilbury Times.

The anniversary services of the Wesleyan Methodist church will be held on Sunday and Monday, Nov. 3 and 4. Dr. Hannan, of Chatham, will preach on Sunday. An entertainment will be given on Monday evening. Among those who will assist in the program are Rev. Dr. Hannan, Rev. E. F. Armstrong, B. A., B. D., Rev. J. Nichol, B. A., B. D., and Rev. Mr. Baker. There will also be vocal and instrumental music, readings, etc.—Wallaceburg Herald-Record.

A., who for a number of years has been pastor of the Blenheim Presbyterian church, has received a call to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Larchmont, a thriving town near Montreal, at a salary of $1,200 per year. We understand that Mr. McLaren has decided to accept the call. His many admirers in Blenheim and vicinity while regretting to see him go, will be pleased to know of his large increase in salary.—Blenheim Tribune.

A very pretty though quiet event took place on Tuesday evening, Oct. 17th, at the home of Mrs. M. A. Lloyd, Victoria street, when her young daughter, Maggie, was united in marriage to Charles Osterhout of Northwood. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. E. Lloyd, of Vienna, brother of the bride, assisted by the Rev. T. W. Blatchford. Only immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony. On their return the happy couple will take up their residence at Northwood.—Thamesville Herald.

Not long ago the wife of a Middlesex politician asked him to lay aside politics long enough one day to dig the potatoes in the garden. He agreed to do it. After digging for a few minutes he went into the house and said he had found another coin. He washed it off and it proved to be a silver quarter. He put it in his jeans and went back to work. Presently he went to the house again and said he had found another coin. He washed the dirt off it. It was a silver half dollar. He put it into his jeans. "I have worked pretty hard said he to his wife. I guess I'll take a short nap." When he awoke he found that his wife had dug all the potatoes. But she found no coins. In then dawned upon her that she had been "worked."

The Fadettes, No. 2 of Lyceum course, at Chatham Wednesday evening, Nov. 13th. Mary Henck Wilczek, of the Fadettes, the violin soloist and concert mistress, is a most fitting complement to this company of artists, and is the best note of artistic excellence to which each player is attached. As a pupil of Prof. Dr. Joachim, she enjoyed four years of study at the Royal School of Music, Berlin, Germany, and in her several tours with the Wilczek Concert Company, she played her way into the hearts of her audiences by her scholarly work and charming personality. Her press notices speak volumes—no further recommendation need be added.

"Little Lina" Hartman, of the Fadettes. For variety no greater attraction could have been found than the one selected, "Little Lina," America's greatest child impersonator. The orchestra will also have the assistance of a prominent soprano whose vocal numbers will lend further charm to the program.

Sparkling with wit, yet mingled with romance to excite its revelry, George H. Broadhurst's latest farce, "The House That Jack Built," which comes here on Saturday evening, Nov. 16th, bids fair to be one of the most popular theatrical ventures of the season. In the piece the author has attained the playwright's happy ideal of mingling fun with pathos. It's three acts tell a love story in pantomime. While the company devotes its attention to working out the laughable situations, the author paints the romantic side, and at the close the picture is complete. Under the unromantic name of "Willie Slab" George H. Summers is the pivot upon which the love involves and his peculiar talent is given its fullest sway. His comedy is buoyant and consistent and his quaint but lively humors give a rich and jolly humor to everything that he attempts. Miss St. George Hussey, always popular with our theatre-goers, makes an excellent foil for him, and finds abundant opportunity for her talents in the impersonation of "Mrs. Dooley," the widow who has regrets, yet is not without hope. Miss May Courtney, too, makes a decidedly favorable impression and furnishes what she herself is pleased to call a "lively fifteen minutes" as a vaudeville, who brings to the stage comedy sketch a touch of real pathos as an offset to her comedies.

The coming of the famous Passion Play at the Grand Opera House on Saturday evening, Nov. 9th, for one night only, should draw a large audience. They produce ten miles of pictures, showing the life of our Saviour and The Story of the Cross, accompanied by sacred music with illustrated songs.

The impressive story of the Life of the Saviour is impressively shown as follows:

The Annunciation, Birth of Jesus, Flight into Egypt, Baptism of Jesus, John the Baptist, Raising of Lazarus, The Transfiguration, Last Supper, Judas' Betrayal, Way of the Cross, Christ Healing the Sick, the High Priest, Christ before Pilate, Christ and the Disciples Plucking Corn, Christ Calling Zacchaeus from the Tree, Christ Feeding the Multitude, Christ Blessing Little Children, Crucifixion, Taking Down from the Cross, Placing the Body of Jesus in the Tomb, Resurrection, Ascension.

There is no other Passion Play in existence to-day showing the birth, life, sufferings and death of Jesus in Life Motion Pictures so complete in every detail—scenes that were heretofore considered impossible to produce. Each one is a masterpiece. Educational, instructive, sublime, refined, cultured, and entertaining. Endorsed by the press and clergy.

Mr. Handel Hastings, the eminent baritone, will sing "The Holy City," "The Palm," "Calvary," "Adeste Fideles."

This is a grand opportunity to see a wonderful performance and will probably only be given one night in Chatham.

You cannot afford to miss it. Come and bring the children, Saturday evening, Nov. 9th.

Seats will be on sale at Central Drug Store, Saturday morning at 10 a.m.
