The Sire of King Segis Walker

Was the first sire of the breed to have a 30-lb. dam and 30-lb. granddam. He is the only sire of the breed having a 30-lb. daughter whose dam, granddam and great granddam have each produced a 30-lb. daughter. His three nearest dams have each produced a 30-lb. daughter, and also a son that has produced a 30-lb. daughter, something that can be said of no other sire that ever lived. He is the only living bull having a two-year-old daughter with a record over 925 lbs. butter in one year. Just one of his sons for sale from the only cow in the world to have two 31-lb. daughters and herself a 31-lb. cow.

The Highland Show at Hawick.

The Highland Society's Show is now a thing of the past for 1914. The attendance was satisfactory, but the number of entries was not up to the record of former years. Shorthorns came out in smaller numbers, but with good quality. Sir Herbert Leon's Silver Mt 3rd won the aged-bull class, and ultimately became the breed champion. Mr. Cornelius Bankfield's Belle and R. J. Balston's Cumberland Orphan were a close pair in the aged-cow class, but honors finally went to the former animal. The winner of the two-year-old heifer class, Mr. Cazalet's Butterfly 64th won over the aged cow, and procured the female championship. She is by the famous sire, Village Beau.

The Aberdeen-Angus breed made a good showing, as one would expect them to do in their native country. Here, again, a two-year-old won the premiership from an aged bull. Sir John Macpherson Grant was showing Eris of Harviestown in the two-year-olds, the strongest of the bull classes, and won easily. Dr. Clement Stephenson's Prince of Jesters won from the aged bulls, but took second place to the two-year-old. The best cow was considered Mr. Kerr's Pride of Palermo, and so well did she measure up to the requirements of the breed, that she won the breed championship, with the winning bull standing reserve.

Another female won the breed championship in the Ayrshire classes. Hillhouse Heather, owned by John Drennan, was an outstanding winner in the aged-cow class, and continued throughout the judging with success. Only two aged bulls came out, and first went to Jas. Howie, on Sir Hugh. This bull also won a special as being out of a cow with a stipulated performance of high standard, but stood reserve to the winning cow in the final test.

Holsteins are just getting entrenched in Scotland, and cannot yet compete with the Ayrshire in numbers. Dr. Wm. Sinclair won the championship medal with Colton Queen's Own, a six-year-old which has the honor of siring last year's champion at the same show, as well as the bull which stood second to him at Hawick this year. The reserve for breed championship was a handsome four-year-old cow belonging to Adam Smith, which was first in the aged-cow class. Competition was keen in the heifer classes, where Geo. Francis won with Hedges Astern.

The champion male of the Clydesdales was to be found in the three-year-old class, where A. & W. Montgomery's Baron Seal was a feature. He is by Baron's Pride, and a rare sort. The Birkenwood, a promising yearling by Apukwa, was a close competitor for honors, but must wait another year. Dunure Chosen, an unbeaten three-year-old brood mare, by Baron of Buchlyvie, won her class, and later carried off the highest honors of the breed, and the Cawdor Cup for premier female.

Co-operative Egg Circles.

"The Organization of Co-operative Egg Circles" is the title of pamphlet No. 4, by W. A. Brown, B.S.A., of the Poultry Division of the Live-stock Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture. In introducing this subject the writer defines a co-operative egg circle, states the need for organization, and the work that can be accomplished. The benefits, methods, and details of organization are exhaustively dealt with, and directions for setting up and using an egg-testing appliance are given. The pamphlet, copies of which may be obtained upon application, from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, concludes with a proposed constitution and by-laws suitable for an egg circle.

British Live-stock Notes.

The Hackney stud maintained by Sir Walter Gilbey, at Elsenham, has been sold, and 23 lots realized £2,433 18s. The stallions sold very well. There was a strong competition for Rumping Bonnie, but T. W. Simpson would not give way until he got him at 330 guineas, and there was an exceedingly spirited duel between J. H. Truman, President of the
