Pretty Thin Soup

Numerous complaints had come before a certain public official in regard to the quality of food served to the inmates of one of the public institutions, and he determined to make a personal investigation in order to see if the matter really needed remedying.

Making his way just about dinner-time to the particular building in question, he walked straight over to where the kitchen was located. At the very door he encountered two muscular-looking men carrying a huge steaming boiler.

"Put that kettle down," he ordered brusquely, and the men at once obeyed. "Get me a spoon," he next commanded.

The man that brought the spoon was about to say something, but he was ordered to keep silent.

"Take off the lid," was the next command: "I'm going to taste it."

The two men were utterly cowed by the brusqueness of the official, and wonderingly watched him gulp down a good mouthful.

"Do you mean to say you call this soup?" the official demanded. "Why, it tastes to me like dirty water."

"So it is, sir," replied one of the men respectfully. "We were just scrubbing the floors."

Mr. Bacon: Did you hear those mealy roosters crowing this morning early?

Mrs. Bacon: Yes, dear.

Mr. Bacon: I wonder what on earth they want to do that for?

Mrs. Bacon: Why, don't you remember, dear, you got up one morning early, and you crowed about it for a week?

"Wal," said Farmer Wilkins to his city boarder, who was up early and looking round, "been out to hear the hay-crow crow, I s'pose?" and he winked at the hired man. "No," replied the city boarder, "I've been out tying a knot in a cord of wood."

"I wish to complain," said a newly married wife, "about that flour you sold me. It was tough."

"Tough, ma'am?" rejoined the shop-keeper.

"Yes, tough. I made a pie of it and my husband could hardly cut it!"

Mistress (to new servant): I must impress upon you, when you go to the dining-room, not to try to get the dirt off the "Old Master" with a wet rag, but use a dry, soft cloth only.

Servant: Mercy on us, marm, be I to wash the master?

Mistress: Do you call this sponge cake? Why, it's as hard as it can be! New Cook: Yes, mum, that's the way a sponge is before it's wet. Soak it in your tea, mum.

"Papa," wrote the sweet girl, "I have become infatuated with callisthenics." "Well, daughter," replied the old man. "If your heart's set on him I haven't a word to say; but I always did hope you'd marry a Canadian."

"As I understand it, they have lost their money, but all of the daughters are able to earn their own living save one, who is most idle and incompetent. What will become of her?" "She'll have to get married."

Our Breeders' Directory

DO you want to buy farm stock, horses, cattle, pigs, poultry, etc.? Where are you going to get them? The Breeders' Directory of The Guide aims to supply this information.

The Breeders whose cards appear in this column wisely conclude that the best means of reaching the farmer is his own paper. In return it will be well for the readers of The Guide when purchasing stock to buy from those Breeders who advertise in The Guide.

In this way you will help to build up the advertising columns of your paper, and in turn we will be able to produce a better paper for you.

If you have stock which you wish to sell, evidence your faith in your own paper by advertising them in The Guide. The Guide will tell your story in twenty thousand Western homes, and somewhere among them will find a buyer for you.

Mr. Mitchell, of Radisson, Saskatchewan, has the right idea. Here is his advertisement:

FOR SALE, TWO YOUNG PURE BRED Shorthorn Bulls, cheap, good pedigree. Apply to James A. Mitchell, Radisson, Sask.

It is appearing in The Guide for six weeks, and the total cost is only $1.80.

A similar advertisement will do the work for you. The rate is 2 cents per word for one week, or 10 cents per word for six weeks. Send your advertisement in now, accompanied by Express Order covering the number of insertions you desire.
