

NATIONAL SERIES MOVING PICTURES

The best Canadian National series of moving pictures that has ever been collected will be shown under the auspices of Brotherhood Bible Class, of St. Andrew's Church in the School Room on Tuesday eve, March 10th at 8 o'clock.

The first set of films embraces typical scenes from Halifax, to Vancouver Island. The people of the Maritime Provinces will be shown at work and play in the natural surroundings. Coming to Quebec the audience will be taken on a trip from Quebec City to Montreal, vast water power developments, the pulp and paper industries from tree to finished product and other interesting scenes showing the resources of our oldest province will be thrown on the screen. Beautiful fishing and orchard scenes in Ontario are next shown, along with numerous views of Niagara Falls, and street scenes in St. Catharines, Hamilton, Toronto and other cities. Passing over the Great Lakes every day scenes in the leading cities and towns of the prairies are shown, together with a fine selection of pictures of big farms in the West, with actual farming operations going on before the audience. In British Columbia the magnificent mountain, river and ocean scenery is shown in all its glory while the lumbering, salmon canning, lead and coal mining industries are carried out in all their processes in the pictures. No better method could be devised for impressing Canadians young and old, with the wealth and diversity of the resources of this great new country.

The individual industries will be—
1—The Rubber Industry—Scenes from the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company's plant, Toronto.
2—How our paint is made—Scenes from The Sherwin-Williams Co., of Canada, Ltd., Montreal.
3—The Iron Industry—From the iron to finished product. Scenes from the McCloy Mfg. Co., London.

It is wise to prevent disorder—Many lead to disorders of the stomach and few are free from them. At the first manifestation that the stomach and liver are not performing their functions, a course of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills should be tried, and it will be found that the digestive organs will speedily resume healthy action. Laxatives and cathartics are so blended in these pills that no other preparation can be so effective as they.

PREPARING TO RUSH THINGS THROUGH

(Special to The Ontario)

Toronto, March 9th.

When will the Public Accounts Committee of the Legislature be called on March 2nd last year's accounts, in accordance with the resolution of the Opposition, and in accordance with an agreement made by the Government last session, were referred back of the committee in order that some of the uncompleted business could be concluded. Three times during the week the Government was asked when this committee would be called but only indefinite replies could be obtained and yet the week was comparatively free one. Other important commitments were not sitting and the time was admirable for the Public Accounts.

It is being openly stated that the Government is deliberately holding the committee back in their desire to tramp the Opposition for time and not allow them to make a full investigation into points that need to be cleared up.

It is bad enough when only one year's accounts are before the committee, but at this session, when both this year's and last are under scrutiny, the committee obviously should have been called at the earliest possible moment.

It is understood that the Opposition (Monday), if they do not, re-act, will move that the House instruct the Clerk of the Public Accounts to call the committee together immediately.

PASSED AWAY AT WINNIPEG

Another old Belleville boy joined the great majority in the person of Arthur Pitts in his 66th year, who passed away at Winnipeg on Saturday. For the last few years Mr. Pitts resided in Winnipeg. The late Mr. Pitts was a veteran of the Fenian Raid, being a member of the No. 10 company, Fifteenth Battalion. Mr. Pitts was well and favorably known by the older residents of this city and is survived by a widow and four children two sons and two daughters. Mr. Alfred Pitts of Toronto is a brother and Mr. George R. Brown of this city is a sister of the deceased.

Rev. J. J. Rae, Chicago, Ill., who preached to large congregations in Simcoe street Methodist church, Oshawa, Sunday and lectured Monday evening was in town Tuesday renewing old acquaintances here. He received many a hearty handshake and had time permitted many more would have been glad of the opportunity to greet him. A considerable number from here went to Oshawa on Sunday and were delighted with his able discourses. Mr. Rae was guest of Mr. T. H. Everson during his stay in Oshawa and of Mr. W. B. Couch and Editor James in Bowmanville—Statesman.

THE CHURCH'S POSITION IN REGARD TO TEMPERANCE

Rev. Canon G. R. Beamish Delivers an Able Exposition of the Attitude of the Church of England Towards This Great Question of the Day.

From Saturday's Daily

A large congregation, filling St. Thomas' church, attended at seven o'clock last evening. After the bright and hearty choral evensong was rendered, the rector ascended the pulpit and announced his text, the answer given in the Church Catechism to the question, "What is thy duty towards thy neighbor?" "My duty towards my neighbor is to love him as myself, and to do to all men, as I would they should do unto me; to love honor and accord my father and mother; to honor and obey the King; and all that are put in authority under him; to submit myself to all my governors, teachers, spiritual pastors and masters, to order myself lowly and reverently to all my betters to hurt nobody by word or deed; to be true and just in all my dealings; to bear no malice nor hatred in my heart; to keep my hands from picking and stealing, and my tongue from evil-speaking, lying or slandering; TO KEEP MY BODY IN TEMPERANCE, SOBERNESS, AND CHASTITY; not to covet nor desire other men's goods but to learn and labor truly to get mine own living, and to do my duty in that state of life, unto which I shall please God to call me."

The church teaches this to her children from their earliest years. It happens to be the very portion of the Catechism taught today in our Sunday schools. It was declared by Charles Kingsley to be "the heart and soul of the Christian religion." "What is thy duty towards thy neighbor?" "To keep my body in temperance, sobriety, and chastity" is one of the first duties taught by the church of England. The church of England was it not, that eminent liberal statesman, the Right Honorable William Ewart Gladstone, said, "She is the greatest temperance society in the world."

Turning directly to the question in hand, the preacher quoted the report from the Press Bureau to which his attention had been called by "The Ontario." In defence of the action of the Diocesan Synod the preacher stated 1—That no invitation or communication had been received from the Dominion Alliance asking that delegates be appointed to their convention; 2—that a representative of the Dominion Alliance was granted permission to address the Synod assembly, which was done; 3—that Judge MacDonald, Bishop Bidwell and Canon Beamish opposed the proposed action by reason of their own personal experiences in regard to the Alliance and what it stands for. Judge

MacDonald was a member of the Royal Commission appointed by the Dominion Government some years ago to report on the best means of controlling the liquor traffic. The report of the commission led him to the conviction that local prohibitory measures were utterly inadequate and not as useful as a restricted and well-enforced license system.

Bishop Bidwell, as chairman for two years of the local organization in Kingston, had openly, at the annual meetings, called attention to the political attitude and action of the Alliance and denounced it. Canon Beamish had the experience last autumn, when a field day was proposed for Belleville, of being asked to have a representative of the Alliance occupy the pulpit of St. Thomas' church, gladly acceding to the request, with one reservation, that politics should be "barred," and having no one sent, although the president, a clergyman of the Church of England, preached in Belleville on that Sunday. Moreover, the Diocesan Synod felt it could not consistently take any action, as it is only one of the six dioceses forming the Provisional Synod, when the action of that body last September was to decline the privilege of appointing two members on the Executive of the Dominion Alliance, for the reason of its political actions and affiliations.

The preacher then turned to the position of the Church of England as a whole, as reflected in her action in her General Synod as representing the entire Canadian Church. In passing, he said, he felt it an honor to be called to St. Thomas' Belleville, that body should be chosen at the late Diocesan Synod, by the highest vote to represent the diocese of Ontario at the coming session of the General Synod to be held in Vancouver in September next. He then quoted from the last journal of the General Synod in regard to Temperance.

(September 1911) "Your Committee has not been able to obtain figures for the whole of the Dominion, but the local option movement in the Province of Ontario is making steady progress. Out of 822 municipalities, 422 are now under local option, and 380 under license. It is still more gratifying to learn that during the past three years there has been a steady decrease in the number of arrests for drunkenness in the rural districts of this province. Thus in Ontario the splendid enforcement of a good license law has done much to mitigate the evil of temperance." After referring to the work in Quebec and British Columbia the report proceeds "While there has been advance in the matters of legislation, and while the legislation has served to promote habits of sobriety, it is not time for the Christian worker to feel that there is no more to be done. Drunkenness is a sin, and today, as ever, the great adversary of the souls of men seeks to make it a means of degrading those of whom he can bring under its influence. Persistent prayer for those who have fallen under the power of intemperance, and persistent effort to bring them back to a 'godly, righteous and sober life,' is necessary today as ever. Reckless work is as necessary for the intemperate as for those who are the slaves of a more sensual vice."

Your committee commends to the attention of Synod the system of farms for the reformation of the intemperate, where, under wholesome restraint and steady work this class of persons may be brought back to a life of self-control. The Ontario Government, by this humane method, is now doing much to reduce the number of disreputable, heretofore confined to prisons with little hope that he might be reformed.

In the matter of temperance, however, the church should continue to teach that we must look not alone upon the use of intoxicating liquors, but her people must be temperate in all things, and as individuals learn to abstain from that which might make a brother to stumble."

These were given extracts from the report of the Committee on Social and Moral Reform. The Church of England takes a deep interest in this work and has representatives appointed to its general council, and delegates sent to its meetings and congresses as she has also on the Lord's Day Alliance. She withholds this from the Dominion Alliance as she is firmly convinced that the rival claims of measures dealing with the liquor traffic should not claim her authority to sanction any one of them, thus, in a measure, binding the consciences of her individual members. They are free, as responsible Christian men, to seek any means or measure which they believe to be in the interest of public temperance. The preacher then stated his own personal convictions on the matter. He said, "I am not satisfied with either the licensing system or local prohibitory measures. We manufacture spirits, we hold the keys of the warehouses in which it is stored, we collect $2.40 per gallon when it is taken out of bond and put on the market, paying a large part of our country's expenses in this way; now, my contention is, that we should, as honest honorable men, go further in our responsibility and make ourselves responsible for its retailing and dispensing. Some such system as an adaptation of the Gothenburg System is needed in our province and country at the present time. Let us see to the proper retail of liquor or stop making it."
