LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

KILLED IN ACTION.

This morning's official casualty list gave the name of Pte. Henry Richards of this city as killed in action. The news of his death was reported in The Courier yesterday.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The annual meeting of the town-ship Board of Health was held in the office of the clerk this afternoon, at two o'clock.

ROUTE MARCH.

The route march of the 215th was conducted according to schedule to Paris yesterday, the battalion leaving about ten o'clock and returning at 4.30. While there, the men were supplied with cigars through the kindness of Mr. J. H. Fisher, M.P., of North Brant.

CHRISTMAS BOXES.

The First Baptist Church has just sent overseas, to the members of the church on active service, seventy-five Christmas boxes. The work of preparing the gifts was undertaken by the Ladies' Aid.

TRANSFERRED TO 215TH.

Two soldiers, formerly attached to the 133rd battalion, now overseas, who were left in the base hospital at Toronto when the battalion went away, appeared at the armouries this morning. Some time ago their transference to the 215th was secured, and now that they are convalescent, they have been added to the strength of the local unit.

A SALMAGUNDI.

A Harvest Salmagundi was the happy thought which resulted in a delightful social reunion of the H. H. Class of Colborne St. Methodist Church, in the church parlors on Tuesday evening. The S.P.I. young men's class were the guests of the young ladies and their vote of thanks included the remarks that it had been the most successful event of its kind that they had attended. After dainty refreshments had been served, the company were dismissed by the singing of the National Anthem.

REGRETS RETIRING.

Mr. E. Cameron, the retiring manager of the local office of the G.N.W. Telegraph Company, has written the City Clerk, expressing regret at leaving his position after fifty years service therein, and soliciting a continuance of the city's patronage for his successor, Mr. Jas. L. Murphy, of Peterboro, who he states, is a courteous, thorough and painstaking business man, who is determined to give Brantfordites the best service in his power.

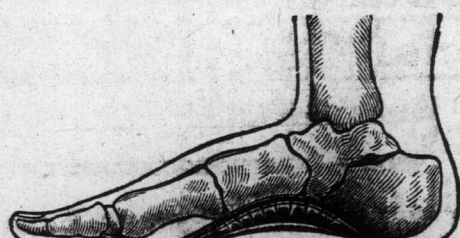

Some people see clearly without glasses by squinting and straining their eyes. They need glasses to enable them to see clearly without effort. When you strain to see you strain your eyes and make trouble for the future.

Obituary

The late Joseph Blayborough, who died last Monday at the General Hospital, was born 84 years ago. He was at the crowning of Queen Victoria and was a soldier in the Royal British Artillery. He could also tell of the Indian Mutiny. He was stationed in Montreal with part of his regiment. After serving the colors 13 years he settled in Canada and lived 57 years with his bereaved wife, who is nearing her 90th year, and resided on Ontario St. He had seven children. Four survive him: Private William of 169 Batt., now en route for France; Mr. Charles, Superintendent of Walworth Manufacturing Co., Boston, U.S., who for many years has faithfully supported his aged parents, and who was present at the funeral, to pay his last act of devotion. Mrs. J. Eaton of Hamilton was also present, and Mrs. C. J. W. Page of Eagle Place, who was present with her husband and children. The old veterans laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery. Rev. David Alexander, who conducted the funeral, paid a well-merited tribute to the integrity and sterling worth of this old Englishman.

Infant Clayton George Clayton mourn the death of his infant daughter, Freda, whose death occurred yesterday. The funeral took place this afternoon from the family residence, 68 Wallace Street, to Mount Hope Cemetery.

To The Editor

NEED FOR ECONOMY.
To the Editor, The Brantford Courier: Dear Sir: The following is taken from the monthly commercial letter issued by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and I hope you will consider it important enough for prominent display in the Courier:

"If the people as a whole understood clearly why it was necessary to economize, there would be a much greater response to the appeals of the leaders of the nation. The enormous purchases made by the Allies from our manufacturers have entailed the payment of high wages to industrial workers, and thus from the very necessities of the Empire, the latter find themselves possessed of a son and a father. This power can be used either for selfish gratification or for helping to win the war. If the former—the selfish—course is followed, it is practically frittering away the resources of the Empire. On the other hand, the thoughtful patriot will save every cent to lend to his country. Those with the habit of spending freely are apt to look with aversion upon those with a disposition to save, but for the time being those who do save are the ones who forge the 'silver bullets' that are now more than ever necessary."

Yours truly,
A. K. BUNNELL,
City Treasurer.

HE FORCED THE ISSUE HIMSELF

Says Sir Sam Hughes, Speaking of His Retirement From Office.

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—General Sir Sam Hughes said today: "Yesterday to his department staff. During the course of his address he said: 'The reason of my retirement does not concern this occasion. Suffice it to say that the interferences with the conditions imposed on the administration of this department seemed to me a reflection not only on myself, but on my officers, and I therefore deliberately forced the issue.'"

"Let me hope no one of you can feel that I have ever asked you to do anything that was not the soul of honor. We have had but one desire—the success of our great cause—and to you ladies and gentlemen I wish publicly to acknowledge the deep debt owed for your splendid share in its success."

"If at times, in my recognition of the need of drive, of urgency, of energy, and of action, the feelings of any of you have been ruffled, permit me to express regret therefore. In cases such as this the individual should always come second to the cause."

During his reply the Deputy Minister said:—"We feel extremely sorry to say good-bye to you. I wish you, in the name of all your officers and officials, Godspeed and good luck."

Mr. F. E. McCurdy, Parliamentary Secretary of the Militia Department, returned to Ottawa to-night after a short visit to the Maritime Provinces. Sir Sam Hughes will remain in Ottawa for some days and will present the colors to the 207th Battalion. His friends expect that he will spend a good deal of his time in the capital.

POLICE COURT.

The four Russians arrested in London for committing robbery on two foreigners here appeared in the police court this morning, when a stiff sentence of nine months in the reformatory was handed down by Judge Strugak. Pete Koyapczak and Pete Patshuk were each given three months in jail, while Pete Praduk was allowed to go on suspended sentence. The last mentioned, also faced a charge of theft of an automobile, but was discharged on this count, as he had been intimidated into committing the robbery by his companions. Tony Beethski, John Nzie and Brunello Bistkowski appeared to answer for a breach of the Health Act. They were remanded for one week.

SAGE AND SULPHUR
DARKENS GREY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents. Don't stay gray. Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure or prevention of disease.

"LONG LIVE ENGLAND"

"Nevertheless the Bloc's declaration was an emphatic document which protested against the Russian Government for leniency to the duma. It concluded with the statement:

"In the interests of victory the present government must give place to one united by a single mind and ready to act with the support of the duma and to carry out the duma's program." The declaration says that there has been utter disorder in dealing with the food question. "All Russia," it says, "is suffering, not from lack of food, but from inefficient organization of the happy industrial workers, and thus from the very necessities of the Empire, the latter find themselves possessed of a son and a father. This power can be used either for selfish gratification or for helping to win the war. If the former—the selfish—course is followed, it is practically frittering away the resources of the Empire. On the other hand, the thoughtful patriot will save every cent to lend to his country. Those with the habit of spending freely are apt to look with aversion upon those with a disposition to save, but for the time being those who do save are the ones who forge the 'silver bullets' that are now more than ever necessary."

City Treasurer.

SURRENDERED TO CHAPLAIN

Party of 400 Huns Gave Themselves Up To Small Band.

With the British Armies in France Thursday, Nov. 16.—A British chaplain while searching the battlefield of the Ancre for wounded hidden in the shell craters during the British advance, accompanied by a few soldiers, came upon an isolated trench containing nearly 400 Germans, who promptly surrendered. The chaplain ordered the men to file out upon the open ground preparatory to passing them back with an escort when the German officer, seeing the small size of the force to which he had surrendered, tried to rally his men and overpower it. He was about to kill the chaplain when a British infantryman shot him dead, whereupon the other Germans again held up their hands and awaited their eagerness to be made prisoner.
