AFTERMETH OF TORNADO. By Courier Leased Wire.

Tyler, Minn., Aug. 22.- Between 30 and 35 persons were killed and more than 100 were injured by the tornado which struck Tyler about 10 o'clock last night and tore the town to pieces in a twinkling. Twenty-seven bodies have been identified. The tornado tore through the heart of the town, sparing only one building, a motion picture theatre in which 200 persons were sheltered. The greatest loss of life was in restaurant. Eighteen persons were in the place when the brick walls collapsed. Sixteen were killed and the other two were seriously injur-

WEALTHY LOAFERS.

SEE THESE ronto Police Say That Retired Men Are Now Working.

What Toronto's retired gentlemen are doing individually to comply with the order-in-Council requiring every male under the age of sixty years to have a job is a police secret. Collectively, however, the police say, these men are getting back into harness, most of them at their old occupation There is no police record of just how many wealthy men have been prodded into jobs by the Police Department, but an official estimate says about one hundred. With the police the male unemployed are di-vided sharply into two classes—the wealthy and the loafers. Of the former there has been just one prosecution in the Police Court. It was a broker, and there was a little more involved than a charge of unemploy ment. Of the latter class, however, twenty-five faced the magistrate, half of whom the police believe are now earning instead of begging a living. No less than seven are, or are supposed to be, out hunting jobs with which to make a showing when they appear before the magistrate again. And there are five or six doing six months at the jail farm, in default of a $50 fine. The lure of the land is strong with the wealthy unemployed. At least a score of them have notified headquarters that their particular job from now till the end of the war will keep them on a brother's or son's farm, where only the county constable will have supervision over the farm. There are a dozen that the police recall have decided to open real estate offices. Some retired contractors have taken supervisory jobs with their sons to whom the business has been handed over. Two decided that in their leisure years they learned enough about motor cars to open garages. One retired business whose income is estimated at $6,000 a year, has a clerkship in a trust concern which nets him $20 a week. A designer has gone back to his trade, and a retired manufacturer has taken over the office management.

has taken over the office management for his son.

Enforcement of the order-in-Council rests entirely with the police force. The loafers are looked after by the police constables on the beat, and are picked up here, there, and everywhere. Headquarters has been notifying the first class by gentle letters that they must seek work. Upon the police inspectors rests some responsibility to ferret out and know the eligibles so that they can be notified.

So far, the police say, they have had the least difficulty in getting those living on incomes to get work. They have received the order so good-naturedly that it is not anticipated that there will be any prosecutions. Of course, sufficient time has not elapsed since the order to check up usefulness or uselessness of the employment they secure, but, according to the police, that will come later.

High Price for Calf.

High Price for Calf.

A. Milwaukee, Wis., despatch states that Champion Sylvia Johanna, a seven-months-old calf, bred by A. C. Hardy at his Avondale Farm, near Brockville, Ont., sold by auction at the Moyer Holstein sale for $106,-000. This young built is entitled to the distinction of being the highest priced animal in the world, and the figure received for him constitutes a double world's record, no sum even approximating that netted by Champion Sylvia Johanna having previously been paid for an animal. The dam of Champion Sylvia Johanna is the world's record cow for milk production, May Echo Sylvia, and his sire is King Echo Sylvia, and his sire is King Echo Sylvia Johanna, whose dam is a twice 37-pound cow and whose sire is in jurn a son of May Echo Sylvia.
