DR. A. A. HICKS ...DENTIST ...

CARTERS

CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK.

LONDON'S TRIBUTE TO CRIME.

Annual Burden Upon Ratepayers Is

About $15,000,000. The annual bill that peaceful, law-

The annual bili that peaceful, law-abiding Londobers have to pay for crime will show an alarming increase this year, says The London Express. All this season the international "crooks" have been busy emptying the shops, houses and pockets of honest citizens and reaping a record harvest, and the public will have to pay.

pay.
This boom in crime and the conse

Daily Warfare.

MONEY IN CANARIES

Small Dose. Small Price.

CE: 26 KING STREET WEST

Dr. Neil Smith

ver A.I. McCall & Co's Drug Store

WE HANDLE THE

National Portland Cement

THE CEMENT OF QUALITY, ONE GRADE-THE HIGH-EST, ALSO

J. & A. OLDERSHAW King St. West - Telephone 85

-

* THE WESTERN BRIDGE $

EQUIPMENT COMPANY General Contractors and

Manufacturers of Steel Bridges, Roof Trusses, Fire Escapes

And Reinforced Concrete Constructions. work that you may require. DRÉW, Manager, CHATHAM - - ONT.

STRICTLY PRIVATE YOUR MARRIAGE LICENSE AND WEDDING RING VONGUNTEN

S. F. GARDININER

NANGIAL AND INSURANCE AGENCY $100,000 to Lend on Mortgages of Rea Estate at best rates.

Bstate at best rates.

$30,000 Debentures at 4 and 5 per cent.
interest half-yearly, and 30 Shares
Reliance Loan and Savings Co.
Stock for Sale.

Choice bargains for investors in City
Dwelling Houses and other Real Estate Properties in desirable locations.

Fire and Life Insurance Attended to

Office | King Street, Upstairs, Oppo-site Reliance Loan Co. Building.

CLARIFIED AND BOTTLED MILK

only sanitary and up-to-date way to handle such an important product off the dairy as milk, for while it is one of the best and most necessary foods we see if properly cared for, it is certainly one of the most dangerous if neglected or carelland. gerous if neglected or carelessly handled, and should never be ex-posed to street dust, as is done in the ordinary way of peddling milk from large cans with open measures. The Steam Turbine Machine used to clarify all the milk sold from the will certainly take all the impurities out of the milk, thereby removing the danger of many cases of sickness, especially among children, that can be traced directly to the milk supply. Don't take such chances this hot dry weather when you can get

Maple City Creamery

Clarified and Bottled Milk, Cream and Bottled Buttermilk

delivered promptly from

MAPLE CITY CREAMERY

Minard's Liniment Relieves Neu- COTTAM BIRD SEED

HEROES ARE HONORED

MODEST STORY OF THRILLING RESCUE IN NORTH SEA.

French Government Acknowledge Ser vices of British Skipper and Mate -Vessel Was Disabled and Sinking-Crew Taken Off After Five Attempts In Stormy Sea-Oil Bags

A thrilling North Sea rescue was described at a special meeting of the Hull Marine Board when the skipper and mate of the Hull trawler Lord Wolseley, Samuel Murlin and George Rawlinson, were presented with a chronometer and binoculars, on behalf of the French Government, for saving the captain and crew—eighteen hands—of the French schooner Promise, of Dunkirk, on March 22 last. Mr. Forrest, representing the Board of Trade, read the statement of Skipper Murlin describing the rescue, and the story modestly told, as becomes a brave man, created a profound impression. The statement was as follows: "On March 22 last, when off the Faroe Islands, we sighted a vessel flying signals of distress, and on nearing her we found her to be the French schooner Promise, of Dunkirk. Leaving my vessel in charge of my second hand, George Rawlinson, with instructions to him to keep as close to us as possible, we launched our boat, and manned by our boatswain, Robert Appleton, a spare hand, John William Thorpe, and myself, we boarded the Primrose, and found her in a very disabled and sinking condition, her bulwarks, hatches, and boats having all been washed away, and her pumps broken and useless. Some of her sails had been nailed over the hatchways in order to keep out the water, but the seas constantly breaking over her had more than half filled the vessel. Her crew had been pumping for over thirty hours, and were completely done up, whilst her captain had hurth is foot, and one of the sailors had been injured by a falling spar. The captain begged me to take them all off. We therefore proceeded to do so, but her crew, consisting of 18 hands all told, decessitated our making five trips to the schooner before we could transfer the whole of the stallers had been liowing for 30 hours other was a high sea running, but we found great assistance by using oil-bags, both when in the boat and aboard the trawler. A hurricane, which had been lowing for 30 hours other was a filled on the second trip by Edwin Rimmer, another of the spare hands. H This boom in crime and the consequent activity among criminals entail a double loss on the public, for not only has the value of the stolen property to be taken into account, but heavy extra bills have to be paid for detective and police services.

The total cost this year is estimated at more than $15,000,000. These millions have to be provided to pay for the police courts, prisons, detectives and prosecuting officers. The estimate, based on the latest available figures, is as follows:

Police and courts, £1,900,000; railway and private detectives, £240,000; lost property, £400,000; loss by injuries and assaults, £200,000; loss in labor of criminals, £230,000; making a total of £3,010,000.

The London lawbreakers who run up this enormous bill make away with a lump sum equal to the total earnings of the population of a town the size of Brighton.

Daily Warfare.

Under the eyes of the public every day a constant warfare is being waged between the police and the "crooks." The ordinary citizen, unless he is unfortunate enough to be the victim of a robbery, pays little attention to the struggle between crime and the law, but at every great railway station and race meeting, and in all busy streets, the daily drama is played.

A spruce, well-groomed man, in fashionable clothing, may be seen entering a first-class carriage, while a quiet, sturdy looking man in a bowler hat watches him carefully out of a corner of his eye.

Travelers who are not "in the know" pay little attention, and would be surprised to learn that the man of gentlemanly appearance is a notorious "crook," and the lounger on the platform a detective, who has just recognized him.

Unless there is a warrant out for oranged him.

Unless there is a warrant out for the arrest of the "crook," or he is caught in the act of theft, the detective can do nothing but keep a watch-ful eye on his man, and find out, if possible, his destination. Messages can then be sent to the local police of the town where it is likely the

LAST OF THE SMOCK.

Lincolnshire Farmer Who Has Worn

The smock, formerly the universal dress of the agricultural worker, comes within the category of "old-fashioned" things that are fast disappearing. This coarse linen garopearing. This coarse linen gar-ent, once generally used as a kind

MR. SEORGE MOULDEN. of overall, is now seldom seen, but there is still living in Lincolnshire a farmer who sticks to the old-time farmer who sticks to the old-time tiress.

This is Mr. George Houlden, of West Pinchbeck, near Spalding, who has just entered on his 84th year, and who has worn a smock on all occasions for 70 years. He has always made a practice of attending Spalding, Boston, Bourne, Donington, and other markets and fairs in his smock, and has refused a guinea to come to Spalding without his beloved garment. He has never been to dhurch without wearing a smock, and is probably the only farmer in Lincolnshirs who thus sticks to this antiquated dress.

Look for the Label

Stanfield's Underwear comes in three weights for winter wear.

And you can get just the weight you want by looking for the label on every genuine Stanfield garment.

Red label-light weight Blue label __medium weight Black label—heavy weight

Your dealer will likely nave all weights. If not, he can get them for you.

STANFIELDS Stanfields LIMITED, N.S. Men

WAS CANADA ROBBED?

Russian Declares His Country Stole Alaska by Forged Documents.

Alaska by Forged Documents.

Leo Nabokoff, a friend of Count Leo Tolstoi, who is armed with a mission from his chief to the wandering Doukhobors, is in Winnipeg, and has opened an office there. Mr. Nabokoff has unearthed some ancient Russian documents in Alaska which materially affect Canada's position on the Alaska boundary question, and showing how Russia forged evidences of early occupation of the Pacific coast. Mr. Nabokoff formerly resided at Sitka, Alaska, where he was at the time of the transfer of that territory from Russia to the United States. Later Mr. Nabokoff was sent by his Government to Sitka to put in order the archives kept by the Russian authorities, which they had not taken the trouble to remove. In doing this work he found there some very interesting documents. These were kept in old Russian, which is not generally understood by those who know that language, but which he had studied. Some transactions, which he has recently forwarded to the Governor-General of Canada, have a most important bearing on the Canadian boundary question, and if they had come to light at the time of the conference in London would have affected decisions as to the marking of the Canadian frontier most materially. The purport of the records is that Russia stole the whole of the Pacific coast, and secretly buried tablets, to be dug up in proof of its claims to prior discovery.

THE BRITISH CRIMINAL

Leader Begs Canada Not to Reject Him Altogether.

Referring to Lord Strathcona's correspondence to the Under Secretary of State for the Colonies respecting the sending of offenders to Canada instead of sentencing them, The Leader says it is to be hoped that the colonies will not draw the line too strictly, merely on the ground of amour propre. There is plenty of evidence that morals which were unable to ry, merely of the ground of amour propre. There is plenty of evidence that morals which were unable to stand the strain of our complex city life have often been invigorated and strengthened by a fresh start under simpler conditions. Perhaps Canada's ends might be served if in these cases the merging the property of the merging the street of the stree cases the magistrate were to invite the opinion of the High Commissioner before taking action

Compliments often are placed far bove their actual worth

Love throws a grandeur around surroundings the most gloomy.

BEER*MAKES BLOOD

MALT has certain foodelements which the body can health v blood quickly and with the least digestive effort.

ly. Beer, by some HOPS icant, is not so - it contain a medical principle which tones the nerves without suppliesnervou energyand saves

BEER as brewed in Ontario is made rom choices Ontario barle malt, selected is a blood-maker with barely enough alcohol in it to help the stomach do its work far better Beer with meals is good for 997 people out of every thousand good for women. Ask your own doctor about itbeer is probably good for you.

THE better

the health, and the surer the body to combat

disease effective-

counted an intox-

the sounder

TERRORIST

Tales of Blood From Various Parts of Russia.

Prince Tzereteli Hacked to Pieces-Captain Assassinated - Thirty-Six Political Prisoners Escaped-Home of Baroness Set on Fire-Cholera Rapidly Spreading-Follows Trail of Last Year's Famine. St. Petersburg, Oct. 12.-From vari-

St. Petersburg, Oct. 12.—From various points yesterday reports were received here of murders and acts of violence by terrorists or peasants.

A Tiffis despatch says that the body of Prince Tzereteli, a cousin of Prince I. G. Tzereteli, member of the former Douma from Kutais, was found hacked to pieces in the suburbs of Gori. The police have evidence that the crime was committed by peasants.

by peasants.

Captain Lilin was shot down and killed in Sevastopol by an unknown man as he was stepping out of his house. The assassin escaped.

The home of Baroness Alshenvog, in Politary was at on fix hy ness.

in Poltava, was set on fire by peasants and totally destroyed.

Thirty-six political prisoners broke out of the prison at Kutais yesterday and got away. They had been incarcerated in secret cells for over a carcerated in secret converges.

The cholera at Kiev, in Russia, shows no signs of diminishing, but on the contrary it is spreading steadily. Every province that suffered from famine last year is now in the grasp of the scourge and every day hundreds of new cases are reported.

FATALITY ON STEAMER.

Bursting Pipe Causes Death of Two Stokers by Scalding.

Bursting Pipe Causes Death of Two Stokers by Scalding.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 12.—The propeller City of Naples of the Gilchrist fleet came into port last night with two of her crew dead and one of her officers badly scalded. The dead are: Louis Hornbustle, 43 years of age, a freman, of Milwaukee, and James Flanagan, 35 years of age, a coal passer, of Buffalo.

The City of Naples was off Long Point about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. There was a stiff gale blowing, and the sea was running high. Hornbustle and Flanagan were stoking, and Louis Fittinger was in charge of the engines. A 51-2-inch steam pipe between the boilers and engine burst, sending a cloud of scalding steam and water down into the boiler room. Deprived of her power, the City of Naples swung into the trough of the sea and began to roll heavily. The coal in the bunkers where Hornbustle and Flanagan had fled to escape the blinding steam suddenly shifted, burying the two men. The boiling water poured in upon them, scalding them to death.

First Engineer Fittinger, who went below to rescue his two men, stepped into a foot of boiling hot water. He managed to return to the deck unaided.

Druggists' Lights.

An apothecary found himself minus his red light one night at a time when it was customary for tradesmen of his class to ornament their store fronts with a simple red lamp. To supply his need he took a glass bottle filled with a red fluid and placed a candle behind it. The effect so pleased him that he added another. Rival druggists illuminated their windows increasing the minated their windows, increasing the number of lights and also changing the Thus the entire town followed the lead. So it became the fashion

They Shelved Browning. They Shelved Browning.

Douglas Jerrold was convalescing from an illness when he read Browning's "Sordello." Not a consecutive idea could he get from that mystic production. It struck him that he had lost his reason during his illness. He thrust the volume into his wife's hand. After several attempte to make any sense out of the first page she returned it, saying: "Bother the gibberish! I don't understand a word of it."

Scene at a "Wake."

Scene at a "Wake."

An extraordinary story comes from Youghal, County Oork. A young man named O'Donnell, who had been an inmate in a charitable institution there, died a short time ago, and arrangements were made for his interment at Ferrypoint, County Waterford. A coffin was ordered, and forwarded to the institution. Next morning the relatives removed it to the young man's former residence, carrying it all the way on their shoulders. Remarks were frequent from the pall-bearers about the lightness of the coffin, but, as the young man's illness was protracted, it was concluded that he had wasted sway. Some hours after the coffin had been deposited at his house a relative, who had not seen him for several years expressed a desire to see his face. The desire was opposed, but, in face of a persistent request, the lid of the coffin was allowed to be unscrewed. All attending the "wake" had gathered round to take a last view of the body, but to their astonishment a quantity of shavings was all that was to be seen. As soon as the parties recovered from their shock the empty coffin was taken back to Youghal, and in the institution from which it had been taken the corpse still lay. The funeral party returned with the body in the early hours of the following morning, and encountered on its way revellers returning from Queenstown regatts. The spectagle gave the supersitious peasantry a shock, and they field from the road to the nearest farmhouse.

Scorcher Himself.

"The venerable judge of the county doesn't fine the motorists for speeding like he used to," remarked the man in the big green touring car.

"By heck, no!" drawled the rural constable. "You see, the judge took in so much in fines that, swing ding it, he's gone and bought a racing automobile for himself!"

For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought Avegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of Bears the INIANTS CHILDREN Signature Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest Contains neither Opnum, Morphine nor Mineral pe of Old Dr.SAMUEL PITCHER

Use For Thirty Years

PURSUED BY A BEAR.

900 Drops

OT NARCOTIC.

Aperfect Remedy for Constipa-tion, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea Worms, Convulsions, Feverish-less and Loss of SLEEP.

Chatt Fleteter.

Fac Simile Signature of

NEW YORK.

At6 months old

35 Doses - 35 CINIS

Bruin Headed Off Two Prospectors on French River.

"Bears are uncomfortably numerous in the French River country, and you have to be always on the watch for them when landing on the shore or camping at night, for they are not the kind that run away at the sight of a human being," said a prospector who had just come down from the north-man being, said a prespector who had just come down from the northern mining country.

"An exciting time was experienced a few days ago by a couple of prospectors paddling down the river," he continued. "They were making good time and were hastening on to their destination down the river when a big black bear spied them from the shore and swam out to head them off. They preferred not to meet the animal, and turned and paddled up stream with the bear in hot pursuit. At length one of the men got a good chance at him with a rifle, and that ended the chase.

"I was coming down the river behind them, and they were in the act of flaying the bear when I came along. It was a large buck one, and the skin would be worth about $12."

Adventure With a Moose.

Adventure With a Moose.

Cy Warman, poet aand story writer, who now resides in London, Ont., has made a reputation for himself in the wilds of New Ontario, that being about the only part of the continent where he was formerly unknown. Mr. Warman, with a party of friends and Indian guides, was in the Temagami country catching black bass, and was greatly interested in a number of moose which he saw standing in shady places in the water to escape the pest of flies that bother them so much in the hot weather. One big bull moose fascinated Mr. Warman and he decided to steal up in his cance and pat him on the back, although warned by the Indian guides that the animal could be very dangerous. Finding, however, that Mr. Warman was bent on paddling as close as possible to the bull, one of the guides humored him. They stole silently over the water to the rear of the moose without disturbing him, but when the animal saw the cance between him and the land he gave an angry snort and swam out into the lake, the cance after him.

Quite an exciting race ensued, but atthough the guide would have held off, Mr. Warman paddled up close, patted the animal's back, playfully pulled his ear and finally gave his head an affectionate push under water. This liberty the moose resented.

"He'll horn you!" shouted the guide striking the water with his feet, breaking in the side of the cance. The guide paddled for dear life, but the moose did not follow, and, as the light craft swamped the two passengers were rescued by other canceists of the party.

"That's all right," said Cy Warman, "that's all I want to know. I party.

"That's all right," said Cy Warman, "that's all I want to krow. I have studied the moose in his frative haunts."

C. P. R. GIVES OLD RATES.

Western Newspapers Claim a Victory
Over the Company.

Winnipeg, Oct. 12.—The C. P. R. Telegraph Co. notified the Winnipeg papers yesterday morning that the old telegraph rates in force to Oct. I would be re-established immediately. This action on the part of the company is a direct result of the severe criticism throughout Canada on their effort to deal a death-blow to the Western Associated Press, a newly formed organization of newspapers to compete with the inadequate service furnished by the C. P. R.

No better relation than a prudent and faithful friend.

Minard's Liniment cures Colds, etc | worthless one.

SYSTEM OF PASSPORTS. Spectator Thinks This Will Solve the

Asiatic Problem. The London journals comment on the recent Vancouver riots, and all admit the seriousness of the question. They deprecate the violence used, but suggest no remedy. The Saturday Review states that there is no ignoring the fact that Imperial obligations and the sentiment of large masses of British subjects are divergent on a vital point. It suggests a conference between Britain and the self-govern-ing colonies to decide on a policy which must be unflinchingly adhered which must be unflinchingly adhered to.

The Outlook admits the correctness of popular instinct in British Columbia, but says that in thinking this question is to be considered on merely utilitarian grounds the people of British Columbia are pursuing an irreproachable object by methods at once impolitic and disgraceful.

The Nation suggests compromise on the question of yellow immigration, adding that it would be folly to ignore the contingency which our peculiar Asiatic relations may force on our consideration if the more headstrong colonists refuse to listen to counsels of moderation.

The Spectator says the Imperial Government must treat openly and frankly with the Chinese and Japanese Governments and induce them to prohibit the emigration of laborers except under strict regulations regarding number and character, and, if possible, return. The Spectator looks for a solution in a system of passports.

CANADA IS FORTUNATE.

Her Ship of State Well Officered Says

London Times. The London Times recently publish tive, who was a guest of the Cana-dian Pacific in Canada, and who deals ed the first article by dian Pacific in Canada, and who deals with immigration. Commenting editorially, The Times refers to the ignorance regarding Canada which is still prevalent in England, and adds that there is probably no country in the world wherein the conditions of prosperity are so completely within the reach of the man or woman who will grasp them. The Times refers to the labor question, and says that in the new as well as the old countries men who work with their hands seem sometimes in need of being reminded of their essential dependence upon the men who also work with their brains.

the men who also work with team brains.

After dwelling on this point the article concludes. "If the Canadian ship of State is ty make a prosperous voyage officers are fully as essential as a crew. If these were not forth-coming the gos would be far more difficult of attainment. Canada is fortunate at least in having among her leaders on both sides of politics, and representing oth race; statesmen of tried experience, approved patriotism and sane Imperialism.

Used foung Girl Rougehly.

11. Thoms, Oct. 12.—Joseph Drinkwater is it trouble again. Mr. Frank Cohre, liferyman, laid an information against him, charging him with assault upon his daughter Dora.

Miss Chre, who is 14 years of age, went inc his store to purchase an article, and on not being waited on walked to the back of the store, where, it is aliged, Drinkwater grabbed helpy the faroat and attempted to throw her on the counter. Her screams brought help quickly to her rescue, it is said, but his alleged rough usage of the girl has caused considerable feeling among the neighborhood. He will come up for trial before P. M. Gleen this morning.

No life is more costly than the