

"Amoy" and a crew of the value of 1000 guineas, was presented to him by the British inhabitants of Calcutta. In March, 1805, he received to return to Europe, and in September, 1805, he arrived in England.

In 1807, Sir Arthur Wellesley was appointed Colonel of the 23d Regiment, and commander of a brigade of infantry in the Sussex district.

In 1807 he was appointed Secretary for Ireland, the Duke of Richmond being Lord Lieutenant, and was sworn of the Privy Council. The same year he accompanied the expedition against Copenhagen.

In the year 1808, the rising of the Spaniards against the French opened the highest scenes of his military glory, and prepared the way for the deliverance of Europe. We can merely refer, in the briefest possible manner, to the leading events that memorable struggle.

On the 1st, 2d, and 3d August, Sir Arthur Wellesley landed his army at the mouth of the river Mondego, in Portugal. On the 15th of the same month he had his first skirmish with the French at Oporto; on the 17th of the same month, he drove the division of Laborda from a strong position at Ralicia; and on the 21st, he repulsed the army of General Junot, at Vimiero. Although superseded immediately after that great victory by Lieutenant-General Sir H. Burrard and Sir Hugh Dalrymple, yet his success led to the evacuation of Portugal by Junot's army, and to the occupation of Lisbon and the surrounding country; a position, which in his hands, was afterwards successfully defended against the whole French army of the Peninsula.

In April 1809, Sir Arthur Wellesley was again appointed to the command of the British army in Portugal. On the 23d of April, he arrived at Lisbon; on the 26th of May, he crossed the river Douro at midday, in the face of Marshal Soult, the greatest of the French army; and he had been victoriously supported by the Spanish army of the Peninsula, which commencing general to save himself by a hasty retreat into Spain. On the 27th and 28th of July, he advanced within a few marches of Madrid, repulsed the army of Joseph Bonaparte and Marshal Victor and Jourdan, in a great battle at Talavera; and had he been victoriously supported by the Spaniards, would have driven King Joseph from his capital. For these services he was raised to the rank of a Viscount and Baron, with the titles of Viscount Wellington, of Talavera, Baron of Douro, of Waterloo, and of Ciudad Rodrigo.

In 1810 he successfully defended Portugal against the grand army of the Peninsula, commanded by Marshal Massena, the spoiled child of victory; and Marshal Ney, the bravest of the brave. In his slow and masterly retreat through Portugal, he repulsed the French army on the heights of Bussaco, effectually arrested its course at the lines of Torres Vedras, and before the close of the year, followed in his retreat to Santarom.

In the opening of 1811 he continued his pursuit of the retreating army of Massena and Ney into Spain, bringing them to action at Fombal, at Redinha, at Casal Nova, at Foz d'Arouca, at Sabugal. On the 26th of April he received the thanks of parliament for the liberation of Portugal. On the 11th of May he fought the well-contested, but indecisive, battle of Fuentes de Oñoro. On the 15th he captured the fortress of Ciudad Rodrigo, and on the 16th he defeated another of Napoleon's most famous marshals, Marmont, whom he totally defeated at the battle of Salamanca, for which service he was again advanced in the British peerage, by the title of Marquis of Wellington, and received from the King the title of Earl of Wellington, and the title of Duke of Wellington and Stratford.

The year 1812 was a year of perpetual victories. On the 12th of July he blew up the Castle of Burgos; on the 12th he crossed the Ebro; on the 16th he was victorious at St. Martin; on the 21st he defeated King Joseph and Marshal Jourdan at Vittoria, for which service he was promoted to the rank of field-marshal. In July he again found himself opposed to that consummate general, Marshal Soult, whom he repulsed at Somorrostro, on the 25th July, followed across the Bidassoa into France on the 26th July, defeated at the passage and battle of Nivelle on the 10th November, and defeated in his successive attacks on the right and left wings of the British army, on the 10th and 13th December.

The year 1814 saw the close of the war. On the 14th February the French made a brilliant sally from the 27th of March the British army passed the Adour at St. Sever; on the 4th April it passed the Garonne; and on the 16th of April, Wellington and Soult, the worthy rivals in the art of war, fought their last great battle under the walls of Toulouse. Before this great battle was fought, the Allies were in possession of Paris, and the Emperor Napoleon was on his way to Elba. At the close of the war, the liberator of the Peninsula was again advanced in the British peerage, by the titles of Duke of Wellington and Marquis of Douro.

The 10th of April, 1814, saw the close of the Peninsular War; the 11th of April, 1815, saw the Duke of Wellington at Brussels, organizing an army to resist the Emperor Napoleon, who had re-appeared in France to triumph. On the 16th of June, the French army crossed the frontier at Charleroi; on the 16th the Duke of Wellington encountered and repulsed Marshal Ney, at Quatre Bras; on the 18th of June, the battle of Waterloo, again made Napoleon an exile and a captive, and put an end to the career of almost forty years' duration, which England has since enjoyed.

The Duke, 12, Commander Napier, is destined for service in North America and the West Indies. Her complement of officers and men will be 130. She will relieve the Supho, 32, Commander the Hon. Arthur A. Cochrane.

The new Parliament, it is expected, will be opened by the Sovereign in person, on her Majesty's return from Scotland, in the second week in November.

THE IMPENDING FALL OF THE TURKISH EMPIRE.—We have been favoured by a Liverpool merchant, with the following extract from a letter just received from his correspondent, long resident in the Levant:—

Constantinople has recently been the scene of very many extensive and destructive conflagrations—no less than eight in some number of days—by which property to the amount of 400 millions of piastres is said to have been destroyed. The cause of these terrible fires, which entail ruin to thousands, is undoubtedly disquiet at the maladministration and extravagance of the government. A change in the ministry is announced, but by no means a satisfactory one. It consists in men of the same opinions as those set aside; and it seems very questionable, if some more serious means be not at once resorted to by the suffering people. Surely these hitheerto put in force can but tend to increase their misery and ruin. Ottoman rule is fast drawing to a close in Europe; and unfitted as they are to adopt the new order of things, it is high time they were set aside altogether. The question seems alone to be, who are to replace them in the possession of their splendid country? but this fear to their removal cannot much longer continue to prevail. The Greeks I fancy, will not be tolerated by civilized Europe, looking to their incapacity to govern, exemplified by a quarter of a century of flagrant misrule. Who, then, is to come? This is considered to be of little moment, seeing that a change can but be for the better; still European jealousy will be in motion. Monsieur Veroyes

The French are presumptuous in their demand for immediate satisfaction on 17 different subjects. With the Charlemagne sailing on the Bosphorus to back them at Tripoli, the French admiral, La Suse, gave the Pasha short time to reflect, and had satisfaction, or threatened to bombard the place; and the French admiral, La Suse, is supposed to have proceeded for the Dardanelles. The present moment is a critical one for the Turks, and may embroil the political horizon of Europe.

Mazany's (the historian's) health is so feeble, that it is doubted if he will be able to take his seat in the new Parliament, to which he has been elected for Edinburgh.

AN EARTHQUAKE AT SEA.—The following is an extract from the log of the Tropic, arrived in the Downs:—"On the 17th of July, at 7 30 a.m., being then 70° west from Jamaica, a severe shock of an earthquake, continuing nearly two minutes. The watch below ran out of the fore-cabin, declaring the tanks (containing 400 gallons of water) were dancing the waltz dance. While the horrid rumbling noise continued going along under the bottom, the sensation on deck was that of a ship tearing over rocks at a rapid rate; in a few minutes, the ship was quietly gliding beneath the water at three fathoms depth."

LESS NAPOLION HAS CONTRIBUTED 2000 FRANCES FOR THE RELIEF OF THE SUFFERERS BY THE LATE FIRE IN MONTREAL.

TOURISTS IN IRELAND.—The English and Scotch visitors in Ireland, at present, far surpass in number, those of any previous year. The number of tourists' tickets already issued by the Chester and Holyhead, with other railway companies, in arrears of the present season, is an extraordinary one, £10 for each holding the present season.

As we go on in life we find we cannot afford excitement, and we learn to be parsimonious in our emotions.

It is stated, that the law officers of the Crown will take no part in the prosecution against Mr. Delaney and the soldiers implicated by the verdict of the coroner's jury at Six-mile Cross, and that the responsibility of carrying on the proceedings will be left to the next of kin of the deceased. It is said, however, that the Crown will prosecute in the case of the two Roman Catholic clergymen against whom information have been taken, and in other cases against some of the peasantry.

There has been a great diminution of papers in the workhouses, owing to the demand for harvest labourers.

FLAX COTTON.—The London correspondent of the National Intelligencer says, Chevalier Glauson's flax company is progressing very favorably; all the shares have been subscribed for, and an adequate amount of capital for carrying on business, paid up. Extensive works at Broomley, in Middlesex, have been taken, and will be soon in operation.

CAPTURE TO STUFF RAZORS.—The neighbours of a woman named Ferron, near St. George's-Esq., department of the Eure, (France), were surprised to find her dead in her bed three mornings ago. The judicial authorities were immediately called in, and it was believed that she had been murdered; but on a medical examination of the body it was found that she had died of congestion of the brain, caused by taking snuff to excess.

The Morning Herald is authorized to state, "for the information of the public," that two ships of war have been sent by the Peruvian Government to Labos Alfuzo, and a small military force permanently stationed there; that the whole of the Peruvian Islands, Labos included, are formally annexed to the main-land of Peru; and by article 213 of the new law, none but vessels under contract with the Peruvian Government will be allowed to load guano; that all other vessels anchoring in the roadsteads of the Islands shall be confiscated, and if guano be found on board, the captain and crew will be proceeded against for robbery.

The recent high dividend of the Submarine Telegraph Company has given an impetus to telegraphic enterprise. Among the projects it has brought into prominence, is Messrs. Harrison's proposal to unite Europe and America via Orkney, Shetland and Faroe Islands to Iceland and Greenland, (having obtained exclusive right from the Danish Government,) and thence to Labrador and Quebec. The project is proposed at Kirkwall, (Orkney); Lerwick, (Shetland); Thorshavn, (Faroe); Reikiavik, (Iceland); Juliana's Hope, (Greenland); and at one of the most eligible of the English settlements on Labrador coast. Surveys have shown that the bed of the sea is favorable, and the greatest length of submarine wire would not exceed five hundred miles.

There is great scarcity of silver coin in England, large shipments continuing to be made by emigrants to Australia; and also for India, and for the Straits Settlements. It is to be met immediately by a new issue from the mint.

The Sarah Sands, Steamer, sails from Liverpool to-day (18th) via Queenstown, with a full complement of passengers, and carrying the mails for Australia and Cape of Good Hope.

FRANCE.—Louis Napoleon left Paris, on Tuesday, on his promised tour through the south and West. The papers contain little else than accounts of his receptions, which have all the semblance, at least, of being enthusiastic.—Along the whole route he was received with cries of Vive l'Empereur, with which, it is stated, he appeared much pleased. In Paris a petition to the Senate is circulating among the poorer classes, purporting to be the memorial of "fathers of families and laborers, for the re-establishment of the Empire in the person and family of Bonaparte. And in reply to an address of the Council General of Nevers, in favor of a new imperial regime, Louis made the significant answer—"when the general interest is at stake I will try and anticipate the public, but I follow it in the case of an interest which may appear personal."

During the past year, the trade of France with the United States has been—Imports, 110,000,000 francs; Exports, 145,000,000. With England, imports, 600,000,000 francs; exports, 223,000,000.

The French Uruguay, at Havre, brings information, 21st July, of the landing, at Monte Video, of Sir C. Locham, British Envoy at La Plata, at which date M. St. George, the French Envoy was hourly expected.

The "Constitutionnel" has an article on the present state of the French steam navy, in which it assumes the possibility of a successful invasion of England.

As a matter of curiosity it is worthy of note that the Duke of Wellington, indulges in remarks depreciatory of the deceased. The Duke gives the following account of the "Constitutionnel" article:—"The Duke takes a middle course—the Union, the Assemblée Nationale, and other journals, merely announce his demise.

The 'Akbar,' Algerian paper, has an article evidently put forth as a feeler, respecting the liberation of Abd-el-kadir, on condition that he shall reside at Mecca. The 'Akbar' intimates that it would be dangerous to liberate him at all. There is no truth in the reported conclusion of a free-trade treaty between France and England.

SPAIN.—Five of the Madrid papers have ceased to appear; their Publishers being in prison.

PORTUGAL.—The Mail arrived, no news of interest.

ITALY.—The intrigues of Sir Henry Bulwer in Italy causes the Austrian Government some anxiety. The garisons of Florence and Bologna are to be reduced.

It is announced in the Italia e Popolo that the Democratic (Mazzinian) Committee of Turin and the Roman States have formally united.

Letters from Batavia of the 30th ult., describe the damage done by the late eruption of Merapi. One stream of lava flowed towards Zelfarava, 15 miles from the crater, and another towards Milo, devastating the vineyards in both directions. Prayers had been offered in all the churches by way of averting the evil.

UNITED STATES.—NAVAL.—Yesterday orders were received at the Navy Yard, in Charleston, to fit out the sloop-of-war Albatross. Her place of destination has not yet been made known. She will be ready for sea in about a fortnight. On Monday and Tuesday, fifty men principally riggers, painters and joiners, were received into the Yard. The officers of the Albatross have not yet received orders, but the majority of the crew, which will number about one hundred and seventy-five men, have been shipped.

The British American is the name of a new weekly paper just established in this city by Robert Winton, designed particularly for circulation in the British Provinces. The first number appeared on Saturday; it is neatly printed, short, and contains articles upon a variety of subjects. It will not fail to attract the attention of advertisers who are desirous of being known in the region where it is expected to be most read.

AFFAIRS AT THE NAVY YARD.—The Deceatur will be ready for sea in about a fortnight. 300 men have been shipped for the crew, and of this number, the greater part are of the crew of the Albatross who were discharged.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—A collision occurred on the 15th inst., on the Erie Railroad between Dankirk and Hornellsville, between the passenger train which left New York on Tuesday, and a freight train. Nine passengers and one brakeman were killed instantly, and about thirty wounded. It was not the up-train that was run into by the down accommodation train. The former was behind time, and the latter had just stopped at Hornellsville, and was about to start to send a signal back to the freight train, and the freight train ran into it while it stood still at the station. Five persons are now dead, and four severely, if not fatally, injured. The rest were but slightly hurt.

A LARGE RAFT FROM NORTH CAROLINA.—Not long since, a raft of lumber containing 60,156 feet arrived at Norfolk, Va., from the yellow pine forests of North Carolina, bordering upon Pamlico sound. One piece measured 591 cubic feet, being 53 feet long by 32 inches square. The tolls upon it through the Dismal Swamp Canal amounted to upwards of $450, and it sold, delivered at Norfolk, at a price not far short of $17,000. The whole of it is intended for New York, and was towed on the 26th ult., by the steamer Jewes, up the Chesapeake Bay, and from thence it will proceed through the canals round to New York. We learn from the Norfolk Argus, that timber can be transported for half as much that way as it costs to be shipped in vessels, and that an extensive field is likely soon to be opened, when a profitable trade will be commenced in this business between Norfolk and the Northern cities.

SIX CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH.—In Wardborough, Vt., at ten o'clock on the night of the 8th inst., the house of Peter Moore took fire. This was discovered by the neighbours, who broke open the doors, brought out Mrs. Moore and two children, who were in bed with her, her husband having taken the alarm a moment before; but two children who were in bed in the same room, and four children who were in bed in the chambers, were burned to death. The mother attempted to rush back into the house to save her burning children, but was held back, and became deranged.

Accounts from the Cape of Good Hope show that Earl Cathcart has not been able to prosecute the war against the Kaffirs with any better effect than his predecessor, Sir Harry Smith. Indeed a termination of hostilities seems as far off as ever.

FURTHER FROM MEXICO.—The insurgents have taken possession of Cordoba, and the authorities have fled to Orizaba. The insurgent Robledo has offered to surrender upon a guarantee of the pardon of himself and companions, but the Legislature of Vera Cruz required an unconditional surrender. The Legislature of Oaxaca demand an extra session to settle the Tehuantepec question.

NEW BRUNSWICK.—HONORABLE MURDER.—On yesterday (Friday) morning, about 8 o'clock, the body of a man was found at Fisher's wharf, Lower Cove, between two rafts of logs, and it was at once seen, that a foul and deliberate murder had been perpetrated. A wide gash made with an axe or other blunt instrument, extended from the back of the neck under the right jaw to the throat, severing arteries, muscles, and tendons, completely. The face is horribly mutilated, evidently for the purpose of preventing the identification of the deceased. One gash extends down the face across the eye, another almost cut away the nose and the chin, lips, cheeks, and forehead, are all lacerated in a shocking manner; there is also the mark of a blow on the temple. There is no mark on the body, nor are the hands even scratched. When the body was first discovered, a shoemaker's striped trousers, the trousers were loose, and strange to say, there was no blood on them. The feet were tied together by a rope. It is probable the man was murdered somewhere in the neighbourhood, stripped of his clothes, and then conveyed to the place where he was found. The coroner's jury at all day, but no clue was obtained that seems to promise a discovery of the murderers, nor could it be ascertained who the man was, and the color of his hair, his want of whiskers, &c., some witnesses were of opinion, that he was a man named Paddy Sullivan, a drover, who was known to have money always in his possession, and who has not been seen since Wednesday.—A relative of Sullivan, a shoemaker, applied his own stick to the foot of the deceased, and says the measure is precisely the same as that of Sullivan.

The deceased has a wart on his forehead, and a mole on the neck, which some of the parties seemed to recognize.—St. John News.

The Queen has given her assent to the New Brunswick Liquor Bill passed last session.

The heavy rains during last week, and probably a predisposition of state to disease, have caused the several parishes in this neighbourhood have lost their entire crop of potatoes. In the upper parishes, however, there was but little damage done to this crop.—St. Andrew's Standard.

HASZARD'S GAZETTE. TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1852.

We received the English Mail on Friday last, which brings the melancholy news of the death of the Duke of Wellington, who expired at 3 o'clock, after a succession of fits, aged 83 years, four months and 15 days. The day previous, his Grace took his customary walk in the grounds attached to the Castle. A telegraphic dispatch states, that by his will, which has been opened, he has expressed a wish, that no mourning be observed as the Sovereign may direct. The funeral will be a public ceremonial.

We are happy to announce that the Senate of Amherst College, Mass., has conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity, upon the Rev. John Keir, President of this Island. Dr. Keir has exercised the office of the Ministry in Malpique, for upwards of Forty years, and is now surrounded by a large and most respectable congregation, who venerate his Person, and appreciate his labors, and his high and devoted Pastor. The Presbyterian Church of Nova Scotia, selected him as their Professor of Divinity, on the decease of the late Dr. McColloch, and in this, the highest office which the church could confer, Dr. Keir has honorably continued to this day. His Brethren in the Ministry and all who enjoy the honor of his acquaintance, will regard the distinguished mark of respect, by which he will be henceforth designated, as well merited.

CHARLOTTETOWN HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY. The Autumnal Exhibition of Fruits, Vegetables and Flowers by this Institution, took place on Saturday last, in the Temperance Hall; and was more successful, than the most sanguine of its supporters could have anticipated. The show of Grapes, Apples, Green Gages, Peas, Marjoram Bonum, and Plants of different sorts, and Apples in every variety, as well as of Vegetables and Flowers, was not only highly creditable to the Exhibition, but to the Island, but far surpassing anything that could have been expected. As it is, we understand, the intention of the Secretary to give a more detailed account of the proceedings, on his return from Saint Eleanors, we will merely observe, that the operations were numerous, and appeared highly gratified. His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor and Lady Sumner, honored the Exhibition with their presence, and expressed themselves greatly pleased with the demonstration of the capability of the Island, to furnish the delicacies and luxuries, in equal profusion with the necessities and comforts of vegetable origin.

Charlottetown, October 4, 1852.

The Charlottetown Fair and Cattle Show, under the direction of the Royal Agricultural Society, took place on the Market Square on Wednesday last, the 29th Sept. The first part of the day was very wet and unpleasant, but about one o'clock the sky began to clear up. Notwithstanding, there were a large number of persons assembled. The show of Cattle was much superior to any of the kind ever witnessed in Charlottetown. There were also some very fine young Horses to be seen. The Pigs, too, were very good—some of the Sheep were inferior to what has been exhibited on former occasions. This may be attributed to the weather being so very wet. We have not as yet been able to get the list of Prizes awarded, &c. Having been promised the return of King's and Queen's Cattle Show, we will bring the whole under the public notice at the same time.

SALE OF HORSES.—We learn that upwards of 400 Horses have been sold from Bedouin to Shelburne, since the opening of the Navigation, and a considerable number, recently purchased at the Fair, are now on their way to Bedouin for New Brunswick. Some of these horses have realized £40, and we understand none less than £20. This will have circulated, in Cash, amongst our Farmers and others, something like the handsome sum of near £10,000.—Id.
