Poetry.

WHILE THE HEART BEATS YOUNG.

While the heart beats young—oh, the splendor of the spring,
With all her dewy jewels on, is not so fair a thing—
The fairest, rarest morning of the blossom-time of May
Is not so sweet a season as the season of to-day.

While youth's diviner climate folds and holds us, close caressed,
As we feel our mothers with us by the touch of face and breast;
Our bare feet in the meadows, and our fancies up among
The airy clouds of morning—while the heart beats young.

While the heart beats young and our pulses leap and dance,
With every day a holiday and life a glad romance,
We hear the birds with wonder, and with wonder watch their flight,
Standing still more enchanted, both of hearing and of sight,
When they have vanished wholly, for, in fancy, wing to wing
We fly to heaven with them; and returning, still we sing
The praise of this lower heaven with tireless voice of tongue,
Even as the Master sanctions—while the heart beats young.

While the heart beats young! While the heart beats young!
Oh, green and gold old earth of ours, with aureole overhung
And leaped with rainbows, grant us yet the grassy lap of thine;
We would be still thy children, through the shower and the shine!
So pray we, lying, whispering, in childish love and trust,
With our beseeching hands and faces lifted from the dust,
By fervor of the poem, all unwritten and unsewn
Thou givest us an answer, while the heart beats young.

MY LITTLE WOMAN.

She isn't fresh from college, with a lot of lore and knowledge,
And "voluminous" and "ologies" quite at her fingers' ends.
For the mathematics higher, she has not the least desire,
Nor the faintest notions of deep philosophic friends.

She has organized no mission to correct the world's condition—
On finance and on politics she never wastes a thought;
For a ballot she's not burning, a career gives her no yearning,
And life has no dark problems for her introspective thought.

She has never down the ages
Cort the ancient sages,
In learned club discussions never taken any part.
She couldn't tell the scisms, doesn't know the fads and isms,
For her sunny, curly little head thinks only with her heart.

She is just a loving woman, full of impulse, wholly human,
A look of childish wonder in the startled big blue eyes,
As she gazes all around her from the safe home guards that bound her,
On the great world's craft and evil with a simple child's surprise.

Yet far more than books have taught me, has she, all unknowing brought me;
In her I gain a knowledge which in all my books I miss,
She has made life sweet and fresher—my little girl, God bless her!
As all my doubts she answers with the logic of her kiss.

THE DAY OF SATISFACTION.

When I shall wake on that fair morn of morn,
After whose dawning never night returns,
And with whose glory day eternal burns,
I shall be satisfied.

When I shall see thy glory face to face,
When in thine arms thou wilt thy child embrace,
When thou shalt open all the stores of grace,
I shall be satisfied.

When I shall meet with those who I have loved,
Clasp in my eager arms the long removed,
And find how faithful thou hast proved,
I shall be satisfied.

When this vile body shall arise again,
Purged by thy power from every taint and stain,
Delivered from all weakness and all pain,
I shall be satisfied.

When I shall gaze upon the face of Him
Who for me died, with eyes no longer dim,
And praise Him in the everlasting hymn,
I shall be satisfied.

When I shall call to mind the long, long past,
With clouds and storms and shadow overcast,
And know that I am saved and blest at last,

COOK'S SURE COUGH CURE

A GOOD INDUCEMENT.—The Farm Journal is chock full of gumption and it has the largest circulation of any farm paper in the world. It is good everywhere. We offer it for a short time as a prize to advance-paying subscribers to the QUEENS COUNTY GAZETTE a year ahead and the Farm Journal five years, all for the price of our paper alone.

NOTICE.

I have in my possession a horse taken from the Incorporated Intervale Lands situated in the Parishes of Cambridge and Canning. Sorrel gelding, with light points, white spot on head and nose, spots connected with a small white strip; about three years old.
The owner may have the horse by paying the statute fine and costs.

AGENTS WANTED—FOR "THE LIFE AND ACHIEVEMENTS OF ADMIRAL DEWEY," the world's greatest naval hero. By Murat Halsted, the life-long friend and admirer of the nation's idol. Biggest and best book over 600 pages, 8x10 inches, nearly 100 pages of halftone illustrations. Only $1.50. Enormous demand. Big commissions. Outfit free. Chance of a lifetime. Write quick. The Dominion Company, 3rd Floor Caxton Bldg., Chicago.

I shall be satisfied.
When every enemy shall disappear,
The unbelief, the darkness and the fear,
When thou shalt smother the brow and wipe the tear,
I shall be satisfied.

When every vanity shall pass away,
And all be real, all without decay,
In that sweet dawning of the cloudless sky,
I shall be satisfied.
To Prevent Worrying.

If a woman is to protect herself from the ravages of worry and to retain her beauty for a longer period, she must come into more frequent contact with other people, as her husband does, and read good books. She must relieve the monotony of her duties and the limiting influence of confinement within four walls by taking outdoor exercise, a walk every day or a spin on a bicycle. In short she must exercise the body and mind in a healthful manner, and she will find the bloom of health and youth remain with her for years after it has faded in other women of the same age. "The ordinary woman," says a celebrated physician, "leads such a monotonous existence that her mind has no occupation but worry. She is almost made up of worry. What she needs is to come out of herself much more than she does. She must have intercourse with more people and take more exercise. This can be done without neglecting home, and every right-minded man will do his best to secure for his mother or his sister or his wife these aids to the retention of usefulness of body and mind."

Nothing is in worse taste than a really low corsage on a young girl, and those who understand how to dress properly never wear one.

The hair is worn on top of the head—at least that is what fashion decrees—but the mode of wearing the hair has always been modified more or less according to individual taste, as nothing has so powerful an effect upon the appearance of the face as the coiffure, and what is becoming to one person is often fatal to the beauty of another.

Regimen plays an important part with respect to the hair. An excess of animal food has a tendency to cause baldness, while abundance of fruit and vegetables has a contrary effect. Exposure to air and sunlight is also highly beneficial, and the use of the brush is recommended rather than the comb.

The use of this shampoo will keep the hair in perfect condition, rendering it soft and glossy: Shake the yolk of an egg in half pint of alcohol till thoroughly mixed. Strain and you will have a clear fluid left which will keep for an indefinite period.

Into each basin of water used for washing the hair put one or two tablespoonfuls of this liquid. Rub well into the scalp and through the hair. Rinse with clean warm water. Rub with a linen towel till partly dry, and then take a large Japanese fan and fan vigorously till partly dry, when the hair will be delightfully soft and glossy.—Home Notes.

"Behold the fool saith: 'Put not all thine eggs in the one basket,' which is but a manner of saying: 'Scatter your money and your attention.' But the wise man saith: 'Put all your eggs in one basket and—watch that basket.'"

Prosperity rarely brings out the best there is in a man. A man's adversities are often his most stimulating friends.

Did you ever look over a book on human ailments that you could not make one of them at least fit your case, even though you thought you were quite well when you began reading?

The Princess of Wales, as president of the Soldiers Families' Association, has issued an appeal for subscriptions for befriending wives and children of men who have gone or been ordered to South Africa.
