Special Session of the Synod

For the Election of a Bishop, October 10th, 1917.

The Synod was opened by the Chairman, the Rev. Canon Smith, formerly Bishop's Commissary, at 9 p.m. After the calling of the rolls of the Clergy and Lay Representatives, the Chairman delivered an address to the Synod.

The Rev. Canon Bolt, Clerical Secretary, on behalf of the Executive Committee, moved the adoption of an address to the Bishop. The motion was seconded by Sir William Herwood and supported by Mr. Withers and the Rev. Canon White, and was unanimously carried by a standing vote of the Synod.

The address, which was as follows, was presented to His Lordship on the following day:

To the Right Reverend Llewellyn Jones, D.D., Bishop.
The Clergy and Lay Representatives of the Diocesan Synod of Newfoundland, in Special Session convened, desire to convey to your Lordship their sympathy with you in the illness which rendered necessary the resignation of your charge of this Diocese, and also to record their appreciation of the devotion with which you have performed your work as their Diocesan.

Many changes have taken place during the forty years that have elapsed since your Lordship became Bishop of Newfoundland; the Colony has passed through days of stress and trial, there has been great diversity of view on leading questions, public opinion has at times run high, but throughout all our varied experiences you have played a high and dignified part, and Churchmen have always felt that in their Bishop they had one who could be trusted to maintain the lofty ideals of his sacred office.

Extended as your Lordship's Episcopate has been, it is not possible within the limits of an address to recount the many agencies in our Church life with which you have been associated, but mention must be made of the zeal with which in the early days of your Episcopate you worked and inspired others to work for the completion of our noble Cathedral, and when it was laid in ruins by the fire of 1892 you were mainly instrumental in procuring funds from all parts of the world for its restoration.

A like devotion was shown by your Lordship two years later, when, owing to financial straits of the Colony, it was deemed necessary to appeal to England for funds to carry on the work of the Church in the Diocese, and there are few Church enterprises that have not at one time or another received your liberal support, while the help you have afforded to those in need by your timely aid has gone far to lighten burdens heavy to be borne.

It is with a sense of loss we realize that we are no longer permitted to profit by your Lordship's words of wisdom and sympathy delivered from the various pulpits of the Diocese with a simplicity and force all your own, nor are we unmindful of the fact that you will not in the future address the Synod in that choice and scholarly diction to which we all looked forward, and you will not again preside over our deliberations with that impartiality and dignity with which you graced not only our Church gatherings but all the public assemblies in which you took part.

It is indeed gratifying to us to know that your relations with those outside our communion have been such that the sense of loss which the Synod feels at your Lordship's retirement is shared by all classes and creeds in the community, and is striking evidence that you have merited the respect and affection which have been so abundantly and so generally extended to you during your long tenure of office.

We learn with genuine pleasure that it is your Lordship's wish to spend the evening of life in the Diocese, to which you have devoted so many years, and we humbly pray that in your retirement you will receive that comfort and support which the Chief Shepherd of the Church alone can give.

On behalf of the Synod,
WALTER R. SMITH,
Chairman.
GEO. H. BOLLY,
Clerical Secretary.
R. WATSON,
Lay Secretary.
St. John's, Nfld., October 11th, 1917.

The following was the Bishop's reply:—
"You will forgive me if I spare myself, and in so doing spare you, the painful effort to put into words, which would be utterly inadequate, what I feel in the prospect of leaving you.
The affection of a Bishop for his Clergy, and that of a Pastor for his flock, are forms of affection which are comparatively out of sight, but are very deep and deepen with every ministrations and with every intercession. And never had a Bishop Clergy more loyal and helpful. Colleagues whose sympathy and example were more uplifting, than have surrounded me. Never had a flock more affectionate and trustful than those among whom I have been privileged to go in and out these nine and thirty years. These are the wishes I would be impossible altogether to break.

I am most thankful that they be still cherished, and that by remaining a little longer in "Bishop's Court" the old relations will not be entirely broken.

After some discussion of the procedure to be adopted for the election the Synod adjourned until Thursday at 7.30.

October 11th.—The Synod met at 7.30 p.m. and after the adoption of the Rules of Procedure the Synod proceeded to ballot, which was not concluded when the house adjourned.

October 12th.—The Synod met at 7.30 p.m., and continued balloting until 1.30 a.m., when the Chairman declared the Rev. Canon White, Rector of the Cathedral, elected Bishop by both Clergy and Laity. On the motion made, seconded and carried the election was made unanimous by a standing vote. After which the minutes were read and confirmed and the Synod closed.

Rev. Father Coady Honoured.

After celebrating Mass at Kildriddle yesterday morning Rev. Fr. Coady, who takes up his residence in the Presbytery near Waterford Bridge this week, received a most agreeable surprise, when the ladies of the parish assembled in the Church and presented him with a purse of gold and the subjoined address. Father Coady was not alone taken by surprise but was much affected by this evidence of his parishioners' regard for him. Following is the address:—

ADDRESS.
Rev. J. J. Coady, P. P.
Dear Reverend Father,—Permit us, your loving parishioners, to extend to you our most cordial welcome to our Parish. You may rely on our unswerving loyalty, and our co-operation with you in whatever works you may undertake to promote God's glory and the advancement of our Holy religion. We humbly beg you, Dear Father, to accept this purse as a trifling token of our respect and esteem and as a little donation towards the furnishing of your Presbytery.

In conclusion, Dear Father, we pray that God may spare you for many years to labour in His vineyard, and that the blessing of Heaven attend you always.

Signed on behalf of the Parishioners:—Alice Ryan, Bridget Sinnott, Elizabeth Walsh, Ida Walsh, Bridget Treacy, Elizabeth Purcell.

Impressive Ceremony

AT THE PRESENTATION CONVENT, CATHEDRAL SQUARE, ON SATURDAY MORNING.

Bright sunshine ushered in the Feast of St. Elizabeth at an early hour the Cathedral grounds were a festive appearance in honour of His Grace the Archbishop, whose patron Saint is the King and Conqueror whose reign shines so brightly in English history.

At 9 o'clock the Archbishop in cope, mitre and crozier, accompanied by their Lordships Bishops March and Power and the attendant priests, repaired to the exterior of the new building attached to the Presentation Convent, and having blessed the corner stone placed it in position in presence of a large number of the members of the Association. Then the procession having entered the Oratory of the Immaculate Conception awaited the arrival at the Sanctuary of the novices to be professed. On their having reached the altar rail, His Grace questioned them as to what they demanded; in voices not very loud, but very clear, each answered that it was her petition to be received to the Holy Profession. Then having blessed them, the Archbishop assumed the chasuble and commenced the Holy Sacrifice. At the Communion each Sister pronounced devoutly and distinctly the vows which bound her to the obligations of Poverty, Chastity and Obedience in the Order which she had chosen, and the angels hovering round recorded the consecration of six young lives to the service of God and the education of youth, whose being concluded, each Sister received from His Grace the black veil and the ring the tokens of her complete self-immolation to her Saviour. Then followed the Te Deum, during which the newly professed in profound prostration at the feet of the Eucharistic Lord begged from Him the Grace necessary to be faithful to the end. The "Ecce Quam Bonum" was then sung by the Convent Choir. At the conclusion of the Mass His Grace Power (St. George's) in choice words laid clearly before the young Sisters, the duties and responsibilities which they had just taken upon them. Specially chosen by the Divine Master for a great and noble work—the religious and secular education of youth—they needed help and grace in abundance to fulfill well the task—these would never be wanting to them if they did their part to cultivate in their own souls all the Christian virtues and the greatest of these, is Charity. That Divine Spouse would be faithful to His part of the compact, thus they would be worthy members of the Presentation Order, worthy children of Mary, single their souls would be a success, their generous efforts would bring many souls in safety to the feet of God and when at length their own turn came—when they at last were called to give an account of their stewardship, they would go forth joyfully from their Convent Cell to receive the reward, succeeding, by great.

The sermon being over, Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was imparted by His Lordship Bishop March (Harbor Grace), and thus ended a solemn and impressive ceremony which will long be remembered by those who were present. The newly professed Nuns are Sister M. Bridget Gosse, Sister M. Columba Hipditch, Sister M. Loreto Conroy, Sister M. Lourdes King, Sister M. Genevieve Coady, and Sister M. Patricia Curtin, for all of whom we pray many years of usefulness in their noble calling. Among the clergy present on the occasion were:—His Grace Archbishop Roche, Rt. Rev. Dr. March, Rt. Rev. Dr. Power, Rt. Rev. Mgr. MacDermott, Rt. Rev. Mgr. St. John, Rt. Rev. Dean Doughty (Bell Island), Revs. T. J. Gough (Portage Cove), F. E. Ryan (Barin), Rev. Dr. Kitchen (St. Joseph's), Revs. Dr. Greene, Carter and Conway (The Palace), Rev. (Capt.) T. Nangle, Rev. Fr. Thibault, Rev. Fr. Kelly, (Manuels), Rev. Bros. Ryan, Cashman and Ennis.

Association Meeting.
Yesterday afternoon at 3.30 His Grace addressed a meeting of the members of the Presentation Convent Association. After having made brief reference to the ceremony of the preceding day he expressed his kindly appreciation of the good work done by the members during the past ten months. At all times the question of finance is a serious one and were it not for the generous assistance given by the people the church would be shivering in its foundations. He pointed out the demands for church buildings necessitated by the progressive spirit of the age. The stately building which is now nearing completion was as they were aware, an absolute necessity, since the number of Sisters must increase consequent on the central novitiates having been established at the Mother House. His Grace had hoped great things from the Association and he had not been disappointed. Two months ago the Treasurer handed him a cheque for a large amount, which has gone towards construction expenses. For the coming years the members must relax their efforts; he understood the many calls on the generosity of our people at the present time, still he felt confident that they would continue with even increased earnestness the good work which they had set themselves to accomplish, always remembering that they were assisting him in his work. Parish works in Canada and the States were largely supported by the activities of the Women's Associations and he felt sure that our "Association" would not rest satisfied until it had accomplished the object for which it had been called into existence.

Household Notes.
Nuts, butter, cream, olives, cottonseed and peanuts are the principal sources of fat.
Gooseberries and raisins can be combined and spiced to make a delicious preserve.
Coffee grounds can be boiled a second time and fairly good coffee will be the result.
Whole milk, skimmed milk and buttermilk all contain a great deal of nourishment, and should be used for food.
If the kitchen is kept clean as you go, it will not have to be thoroughly cleaned so often.
