Former London Lady Passes Away Suddenly in Siam.

Death Was Sudden—Rev. C. L. Mackay's Bereavement.

Londoners will be sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Jean C. Mackay, wife of Rev. Campbell L. Mackay, of Lakaw, Laos, Siam, and who was a daughter of Mr. J. G. Dodd, of 477 Queen's avenue, city.

The late Mrs. Mackay was married here about eighteen months ago, and immediately after the ceremony left with her husband for their field of labor in the far east. Being under the direction of the American Presbyterian Missionary Society.

Frequently Mr. Dodd has received letters from his daughter, each telling of the good work being done, and only two weeks ago a letter received by Wood, of 112 per cent. Operating expenses were $109,493.15, as compared with $92,248.40. The net earnings after paying all charges were 7.91 per cent on the capital stock. Two half-yearly dividends of 3 per cent, amounting to $7,000, were paid, and after deducting directors' and auditors' fees, there remained a balance of $4,124.10 to the credit of profit and loss account.

During the year an extraordinary expenditure, not provided for in the estimates for the year were made out, had to be met. This was the increase in the pay of the conductors and motormen to 16 2-3 cents per hour, or an increase equal to 1 per cent of the capital stock.

The cost of coal was also increased 25 per cent, and track and pavement repairs were greatly increased.

The amount placed in the estimates for accident claims was found to be more than sufficient, and this account showed a balance on hand of $1,077.55. Reference was made in the report to the power plant, tracks and other property of the company are in good repair.

The number of passengers carried during the year was 1,305,915, being an increase of 418,277. The cars were operated for a distance of 1,286,263 car miles.

Mr. H. A. Everett was re-elected president of the company, Mr. T. H. Smallman vice-president, and Mr. C. E. Carr, general manager and secretary-treasurer.

Two Rigs Struck at Railway Crossings Yesterday.

Horses and Drivers Escape Unhurt—No Damage.

A young man named Sidney Rogers, driver for a local grocer, had a close call for his life at the Adelaide street crossing of the C. P. R. yesterday.

Rogers was approaching the crossing, when he saw, he was given the signal by a man at the track to come ahead. He did so, but when he got on the crossing a train backed down, striking the sleigh and throwing it around. This frightened the horse, which ran up the track for some distance before it was brought to a standstill. Neither Rogers, the horse, nor the sleigh were injured, but the former was somewhat shaken up and frightened.

A boy, who was in the sleigh with Rogers, jumped before the car struck it. He has since been confined to the house, the experience having shaken his nervous system.

A London Township farmer, living east of the city, had an experience at the Pottersburg crossing of the Grand Trunk yesterday, which he will long remember. He did not notice a freight train approaching the road, until he was squarely on the tracks, and in the excitement he urged the horse for aid and pulled on it to stand still at the same time. The train, which was moving slowly at the time, overturned the rig, but did not damage either it or the occupant. The horse also escaped unhurt.

Mr. Gibson, Oak Hall's manager, wants all boys under 13 years of age to try and guess what the words "M. B." mean in their announcement. After making the selection, they must cut out the advertisement and send in their answer, and a definition of the name as relating to the sale. Two prizes of two suits of clothes will be given to the prize-winners. Not alone in this particular is the advertisement interesting. Prices have been so cut on suits and overcoats that profit is lost sight of. The balance of the winter stock must be sold to make room for spring goods.

ENTHUSIASTIC PRESIDENT

Mr. C. J. Fox Chosen by London Horticultural Society.

Succeeds Dr. Bethune—A Successful Year—The New Officers.

The annual meeting of the London Horticultural Society was held last night, when the work of the past year was reviewed and the officers for the ensuing twelve months were chosen.

In his annual address the president, Dr. Bethune, referred to the several flower shows held, the cancellation of the spring show, owing to the peculiar weather causing an irregularity in the blooming of flowers, and the fact that owing to the unfavorable season the display of roses in June was not as good as in former years.

This deficiency, however, was made up by a greater variety of other flowers. The second show, held in August, was in many respects the best yet conducted by the society. Dr. Bethune said the exhibitions were having the effect of improving the popular taste and developing a greater interest in the production of rare and choice varieties.

The election of officers for 1904 resulted in the choice of Mr. Charles J. Fox, of South London, to succeed Dr. Bethune as president, the latter having served in that capacity for two years. Mr. Fox is one of the most enthusiastic amateurs in the city, and has done a great deal to bring the Horticultural Society to the front.

The other officers chosen were: First Vice-President—V. H. Hamilton. Second Vice-President—B. J. Liddicoat. Board of Directors—Dr. C. J. Fox, Dr. Bethune, John Baskin, John Paine, C. Gilbert, W. E. Saunders, W. W. Gamble and open season, James H. Bowman and R. W. Rennie.

Auditors—J. S. Pearce and C. F. Compton. Representatives to Western Fair—R. W. Rennie and W. H. Hamilton.

Secretary-Treasurer—R. W. Rennie. Votes of thanks were tendered to Dr. Bethune for his services in the chair, and to the secretary, Mr. Rennie, upon whom much work has devolved in connection with the various undertakings of the organization.

Mrs. Marsh Gets Verdict for $1,000 Against L. E. and D. R. R.

Two years in Kingston Penitentiary was the sentence passed on William Cornell by Mr. Justice Britton, Cornell, it was found, stole goods valued at $5 from Young Bros., hotelkeepers, of Crumlin. Cornell claimed that he was innocent, and was undefended.

A verdict of $1,000 damages was awarded Mrs. Henrietta Marsh in her suit for $5,000 against the L. E. and D. R. R. for injuries which she received being struck by an engine at the Horton street crossing. The jury were out for an hour before they reached a decision.

In the case of Oscar Goldberg, of this city, against the Doherty Manufacturing Company, for $1,000 damages for false arrest, a settlement was reached out of court.

NEW PAINTINGS.

Toronto Telegram: Two handsome new oil paintings of the Alpha and Omega of the Ontario political arena—Hon. Sandfield Macdonald, and Hon. G. W. Ross—have found their way to the Parliament buildings. The new paintings are the work of a connoisseur of art to be masterpieces, and will decorate the walls of the Legislative corridors.

The likeness of Hon. Sandfield Macdonald is by J. W. Forster, from a painting of Berthia, which was presented to Cornwall and hangs in the court house
