Assistant Fire Chief Scott Claims Incendiary Is Mentally Deranged.

Notwithstanding the claim of the fire department that a fire bug is responsible for the series of fires perpetrated in London recently, the majority of citizens holding inflammable property are not especially worried. Assistant Fire Chief Scott advanced a theory today that the man if it is a man, responsible for the conflagarations is either mentally deranged or a dope fiend. The history of past fires in Canada and the Uni ted States reveals almost without a single exception that fire bugs are usually persons suffering from asthenia or some form of a or some form of abnorma psychology.

As suggested above, however, local fire insurance companies note no appreciable increase in business as a result of the scare London's fire eniast has given the city. Although business is reported to be slightly better than it was last month, not jot of it can be directly traced to the nticipated panic which such van would naturally seem to
