

LIBERALS URGE YEARLY BALANCE ON THE BUDGET

Introduce Amendment Urging Strict Economy To Make Ends Meet.

TORIES SPEND MUCH

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Feb. 27.—The Liberals today in the Legislature in the budget debate moved an amendment to the motion to go into supply. The amendment, moved by A. Belanger (Russell), states that the House express the view that the government should exercise such economy in its finances that the budget may be balanced yearly.

Mr. Belanger said that the differences yesterday by Hon. Manning Doherty and Hon. W. P. Nickle showed conclusively that the budget should have shown plainly how much had been spent by each government during the year 1923.

Comparing figures and admitting that ten millions had been spent by the Ferguson government that should have been paid by the Drury government, Mr. Belanger said he still found that the Ferguson government spent $1,500,000 more per month than the Drury government had.

Change School System.

Mr. Belanger said that the present system of education in rural districts educated children away from farms. He would have different textbooks in rural schools than in the cities. Ontario, he said, could not afford to be too niggardly on expenditure on forestry and fire protection.

Premier Ferguson announced that as the government had concluded there was nothing further to be gained by negotiating with the railways for a special rate on Alberta coal to this province, two counsels, George Kilner, K.C., and Earl Lawson, had been instructed to take the matter before the Dominion railway commission to get an order for a rate whereby coal from the West could be carried to Ontario at a reasonable cost.

Second reading was given a bill proposed by J. E. Jamieson (Conservative, East Simcoe) to increase the qualifications of candidates for municipal council. Under the terms of the bill the qualifications would be: Village, freehold $200, leasehold $400; township, freehold $400, leasehold $800; in a city, freehold $1,000, leasehold $2,000. Premier Ferguson said he had some sympathy with the bill.

Oke Backs Bill.

L. W. Oke (U. F. O., East Lambton) said municipal councillors should have some qualification, and he would support the bill. D. J. Taylor (U. F. O., North Grey) said that qualification could not be judged by worldly goods.

Other bills passed second reading and sent to committee for their fate worse. To have runners on sleighs four feet apart; to permit first meetings of municipal councils to be held the first Monday in January; to permit cities to tax dogs; Premier Ferguson said that the bill for the creation of liquor laws which would attract United States tourist traffic.

J. A. Currie said the work of the Legislature should be to get rid of much of the legislation already on the statute books as the people were being legislated to death. He thought the fifteen million deficit could be wiped out by having same liquor laws which would attract United States tourist traffic.

GOSSIP IS RIFE AS HOUSE MAKES READY TO OPEN

Parliament Opens Today With All Parties Fully Expecting Exciting Session.

SUCCESS FOR LIBERALS

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Feb. 27.—Parliament opens tomorrow for a session of uncertainty. Members are flocking into Ottawa. The capital is agog with gossip over the political situation and its possible outcome. Keen battling and exciting episodes are probable, but speaking generally it is not expected that the government will be defeated in a major issue and forced to resign.

Today Progressives met to discuss their policy; tomorrow they meet again for further discussion. Their attitude towards the government as last session is not one of formal opposition. At the same time there is a wing of the Progressives, which favors a more militant attitude, and herein lies a field for prediction.

It is with more than usual interest, therefore, that the government's budget proposals this year will be awaited. The more so, as last year the main body of the Progressives voted against the budget proposals which the government was able to carry only with the narrow majority of eight.

Since then, the Liberal party standing in the House has been reduced by the loss of two by-elections. In the speech from the throne it is expected that reference will be made to the imperial and economic conference attended by Canadian representatives in October and November last year. There will be mention of the legislation which the government expects to bring down during the session. There will be the redistribution bill, a superannuation bill for the civil service, amendments to the militia act in regard to the calling out of troops, among other items in the government's legislative program.

Following the speech from the throne and the debate on the address will come submission on estimates. Estimates it is estimated in Liberal circles are likely to show considerable during down World for staff reductions has gone around the departments, and the hope is expressed that the way to balance the budget will be found.

The Senate will meet with little change in personnel from last session, there being only one death among the senators, that of the late Hon. W. H. Thorpe, since prorogation last session. Only one new senator, J. Cote, Edmonton, will be introduced, unless Sir Alan Aylesworth, appointed in 1922, decides to occupy his seat. He has never yet taken the oath of office.

ADVOCATES BRITAIN RECOGNIZE MEXICO

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Feb. 27.—In the House of Lords today Lord Asquith advocated the recognition of Mexico as a means of promoting trade, and suggested that the course of events during the past three years had greatly diminished the difficulties in that direction.

All the great powers except England, he said, have recognized Mexico, and as Mexico could not enter the League of Nations without British recognition, he thought it might be accorded even without a settlement of the claims between the two countries.

Lord Parmoor, president of the council, replying for the government, said that as soon as conditions conformed with the League of Nations Government would recognize Mexico.

Lord Curzon said he thought there was no more disorderly country in the world than Mexico, and the Mexican government never had made any attempts to settle British claims.

BRITISH TOPIES FAIL IN EFFORTS TO GET LABORITES

MacDonald Easily Turns Effort of Opposition To Embarrass Government.

AGAINST HENDERSON

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Feb. 27.—Premier MacDonald had a complete and easy victory in the House of Commons tonight on a Conservative manoeuvre to make trouble for the government over the speech delivered last Saturday in Burnley by Arthur Henderson, home secretary. Mr. Henderson declared that the Treaty of Versailles must be revised in order to bring about an era of international goodwill.

Former Premier Baldwin and Ronald McNeill, former under-secretary of state, were among others of the opposition who had addressed the premier on the subject of Mr. Henderson's utterances. After the premier had made his reply, Mr. Baldwin announced that he would not press the matter to a division. Mr. McNeill then made a motion for adjournment, but this was unanimously voted down.

Mr. MacDonald, in replying to the criticisms of Mr. McNeill, declared that the real object of the Conservative opposition was an endeavour to influence the by-election in Burnley tomorrow, where Mr. Henderson is seeking to win the seat and return to parliament. Conservative agents in Burnley, the premier declared, had been parading the streets there carrying big placards inscribed "Premier Repudiates Henderson."

MacDonald admitted that Mr. Henderson should have been more guarded in his expressions, and said that all his cabinet ministers must speak with reserve and responsibility.

"But," he added, "if the honorable gentlemen opposite me want their resignations they won't get them, as far as I am concerned."

Declaring that his government's foreign policy remained as he announced it in his last speech at the opening of parliament and quoting Robert A. Auld, R.R. 3, Watford, MacDonald severely reproved Mr. McNeill for trying to embarrass the government in the settlement of the tangle of foreign relations which he said the Labor government had inherited from its Conservative predecessor.

MONTREAL MAYOR RAPES BECK PLAN

Special Meeting Called To Oppose
Proposed St. Lawrence
Waterway.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Feb. 27.—Opposition to the St. Lawrence deep waterways system and development of proposed water power at Morrisburg will have a venue in Montreal on Monday next when Mayor Martin will call a special meeting to discuss the project.

He will demand that the Ottawa authorities refuse to give ear to the propositions of Sir Adam Beck.

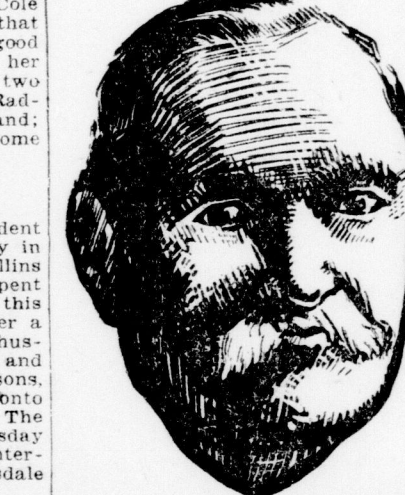

He stated this morning that he was unalterably opposed to the deepening of the St. Lawrence to accommodate ocean bottoms, as being detrimental to the interests of Quebec and to the whole country. He equally objects to the damming plans at Morrisburg, whereby the development of the Ontario hydro-electric jointly with American co-operation would be affected.

If inland water routes are required, he would prefer to see the government push the Georgian Bay canal, which would connect this body of water with Lake Ontario, thus cutting off the great stretches of Lake Erie, Lake St. Clair, Lake Huron and their connecting rivers.
