

ME FRIEND MOURNER. I was at one time employed in a government office. Every day from 10 until 4 I became a voluntary prisoner in a... I recall to-day one of my companions in captivity at that epoch. He was called Adelle Mourner, and certainly his face looked and his tall form seemed to warrant that name. He was a great big fellow about forty years old, without too much chest or shoulders, but who wore felt hats with wide brims, short but ample coats, large plaid trousers, and red neckties under rolling collars. He wore a full beard, long hair, and was very clean shaven. The chief boast of Mourner, otherwise the best and most amiable of companions, was to trifle with an athletic constitution, to possess the blood of a prize fighter, and, as he said himself, not to know his own strength. He never made a gesture even in the exercise of his possible profession that did not have for its object to convince the spectators of his prodigious vigor. Did he have to take from his case an empty pocketbook, he advanced toward the postboard box, he advanced toward the street porter, he stepped to the right with a slight lurch, and carried it with a stiff arm as far as the next table with a thrumming of shoulders and frowning of brow worthy of Milo of Crotona. He carried his case so far that he never used less apparent effort even to lift the slightest object, and one day when he had in his right hand a basket of newspapers, I saw him extend his left arm horizontally as if to make a counterpoise to the tremendous weight.

A New Treatment FOR THE RAPID AND PERMANENT CURE OF ATYPH. Opinions of the Press. Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern medicine has been attained by the Dixon treatment for catarrh. Out of 100 patients treated during the past six months, fully ninety per cent. have been cured. It is remarkable that not five per cent. of the patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioners are benefited, while the patient medicine and other never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the medical scientific men that the disease is first to the prostate of living parasites in the tissues, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his own treatment to this condition, and the result is the present success of the year is the most favorable for a speedy and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment. Patients should correspond with Messrs. A. H. DIXON & SON, 305 King Street West, Toronto, Canada, and enclose stamp for their treatise on catarrh. Montreal, Que.
