

Strawberry Plants and Seed Potatoes are the subjects of the Plansburgh & Pearson Co.'s spring catalogue, which has reached the office of The Canadian Horticulturist. The company carries on business at Leslie, Michigan, and while dealing in other lines make a specialty of strawberries and potatoes. Growers who raise these crops should secure one of these catalogues.

A New Catalogue.—Among the catalogues which have reached The Canadian Horticulturist is that of The Central Nurseries, A. G. Hull & Son, St. Catharines, Ont., growers and dealers in fruit and ornamental trees, roses, shrubs, etc. They also deal in thoroughbred poultry. This firm has been in the business for a quarter of a century and one of the most reliable firms in the Dominion. Their catalogue is very nicely printed and well worth writing for.

Write For It.—A catalogue has been received by The Horticulturist from James J. H. Gregory and Son, of Marblehead, Mass., covering the varieties of vegetable and flower seeds, bulbs, small fruits, etc., in which the firm deals. It will be sent free to anyone on application. Mr. Gregory is well known among horticulturists, being not only a seed grower and dealer, but the author of a number of works on horticultural subjects, such as Fertilizers; Onion Raising; Squashes, and How to Grow Them; Cabbages and Cauliflowers, How to Raise Them; Carrots, Mangel Wurtzels and Sugar Beets. The catalogue is well worth writing for.

Six exporters, representing the apple trade in all parts of Canada, were asked separately to name the best paying varieties of apples from an exporter's point of view. All named Baldwin and Greening, five named Spy, four Golden Russet, four King, four Ben Davis, four Canada Red, three Mann, two Cooper's Market, and one Hubbardston.—(A. McNeill, Ottawa, before Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association.

I am a subscriber to your excellent paper and would find it harder to give up The Horticulturist than any other of the fruit papers I read.—(R. J. Messinger, Bridgeton, N. S.
