THESE TEN BOOKS FORM A LIBRARY OF INCALCULABLE VALUE

1—CRUMBS SWEEPED UP, T. De Witt Talmage. 2—STORIES OF LIFE AND LOVE, Amelia E. Barr. 3—SELECT READINGS AND RECITATIONS, Harriet M. Van Orden. 4—TURNING POINTS IN THE WORLD'S HISTORY, Henry Mann. 5—THE ART OF BEING AGREEABLE, Margaret E. Sangster. 6—2,000 SUBLINE AND BEAUTIFUL THOUGHTS, James Clarence Harvey. 7—HOME BOOKS FOR MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS, Christine Terhune Herrick. 8—TREASURE BOOKS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS, Bishop John H. Vincent, D. D., LL. D. 9—FUN FOR THE HOUSEHOLD, Emma J. Gray. 10—HOW TO ACHIEVE SUCCESS, C. H. Kent.

1—"Fun for the Household" BY EMMA J. GRAY.

Our little folks can be children but once; so let us strive to make the years of their childhood happy. Emma J. Gray has this in view in her delightful book, "Fun for the Household." It explains a thousand and one ways of passing a pleasant evening.

2—"For Mothers and Daughters" BY CHRISTINE TERHUNE HERRICK.

There are, in every home, certain questions constantly arising that puzzle the housewife, and concerning which she would be only too glad to have a word of wise and timely counsel. In "The Home Book" Mrs. Christine Terhune Herrick has taken up and solved just these very problems.

3—"Crumbs Swept Up" BY REV. T. DE WITT TALMAGE.

In "Crumbs Swept Up" Dr. Talmage has given us a collection of unique literary gems. His marvelous knowledge of human nature, his power of vivid delineation, and his vigorous exposure of shams, are here seen at their best. His "Crumbs" are really masterpieces of concise criticism, social manners and customs, and of religious life.

4—"Stories of Life and Love" BY AMELIA E. BARR.

Mrs. Amelia E. Barr's "Stories of Life and Love" are unsurpassed in modern literature for sweet pathos, thrilling situations, and charming character sketches. Mrs. Barr's heroes and heroines are real people whose lives, loves, joys and sorrows bring them close to us in living companionship.

5—"Sublime and Beautiful Thoughts" BY JAMES CLARENCE HARVEY.

As a stimulus to lofty ideals and a noble life, this volume has probably never been equaled. Thousands will find it a mighty inspiration. In reading these gems of wisdom and philosophy, one feels a growing love of the noble and the beautiful.

We unhesitatingly and cordially recommend this Library to the favorable consideration of our numerous readers. Nearly all of the volumes were specially written for this library. It is a work for everybody, man, woman and child, and will be found of the utmost value and usefulness to all. No home should be without it.
