THORNHILL, VAUGHAN, AND MARKHAM SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

On Thursday, July 6th, the friends of Thornhill, Vaughan, and Markham Sunday Schools gave their annual fete to the children, who assembled at Trinity Church, Thornhill, about 2 o'clock, for public examination. The examination was conducted by their respected Rector, the Reverend George Mortimer, M.A., who, having commenced with praver, gave an account of the edings of the respective schools, and it must have een most gratifying to every one interested in the noble work of training up children in the knowledge and admo-nition of the Lord, to hear that, during the past year, the number of scholars had in each of the schools increased. He then proceeded to examine the children in the Collects st six months, in the Faith and Duty of a Christian, (a little work compiled from Bishop Gastrell's Christian Institutes), and in general questions; after which they walked "decent and orderly" from the Church to the spot where they were to regale themselves with the good cheer provided for them by their kind friends and teachers.

The booth, composed of evergreens, was erected by the united exertions of H. Mortimer, Esq., and others, while the laying out of the tables devolve I on the ladies of Thornbill, who, with their usual good taste, adding the ornamental to the useful, adorned the centre with vases of flowers, most beautifully arranged; it is true these presented but few attractions to the children, while their 'yes, glistening with delight, looked on the cake and pastry which lay in abundance yet untouched before them; but no sooner had they given practical demonstra-tion, as to their being highly pleased with the "useful," than many of the little CIRLS turned their attention to the ornamental," and from the different vases "cull'd the After tea, the prizes were distributed by the Rev. A. Townley, and if we may be allowed to judge of given, we should say that the question with the teachers must have been, not "who deserves a prize?" but, "to whom must we refuse one?" We must not withhold our meed of praise from the singers, to whom much is due for the manner in which they performed their part.

Notwithstanding the fête itself went off well, and both in weather and rather depressed prices, until the last week, when a change to a cold unseasonable atmosphere again caused when a change to a cold unseasonable atmosphere again caused.

improvement as the season advances, we have to note the op-posite result. The intelligence received from the United States, by the Acadia, on Thursday last, has tended, too, in no small degree, to increase the alarm which previously existed in consequence of the repeal movement now going forward in Ireland; not that any fear is felt that the sympathy in between England and Ireland will at all accelerate its consumation, as that it evidences a desire on the part of the American people to interfere with English affairs, not justifiable or sanctioned by any principle of law or honour. "What right," t is asked, "have the American people to interfere with English laws and English people? As well might the English people shouts of non placets rendered inaudible by the uproar in the get up an agitation and contribute money for the purpose of dissolving the United States of America." The first book to which we wish to call your attention is entitled "American Popular Lessons." The portion objected to by the Jews may be found on page 138, lesson, "Reward of Goodness;" page 143, lesson, "The Son of God;" page 144, lesson "Heaven;" pages 145 and 146, lesson "Scripture Lessons and Jesus Christ;" pages 148, 149, 150, 151, lesson Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself;" pages 151, 152, 153, 154 and 155, lessons "The Bible," "The Ten Virgins." There are also some other passages.

They (the Jews) also object to the last conversation in the

They (the word) are toget to the last conversation in the book entitled "Conversations on Common Things;" The Lesson for Schools taken from the Holy Scriptures;" the use of the "New Testament Scriptures;" and many of the lessons in Murray's Reader." We found the Profestant version of the Bible used in said schools, of which the Catholics complain, and by them deemed injurious to their peculiar faith, and calculated to advance the views of opposing sects. They also object to the use of the Lessons taken from the Holy Scriptures." The portion of the different books used in said schools, objected to by the denomination of Universalists, and by them deemed calculated to teach sectarian views different from their own, may be found in the aforesaid "American Popular Lessons," page 133, last verse of the lesson "God always sees me;" page 136, lesson "On Duties" eighth verse; page 141, lesson, "Punishment of Sin," last two verses; page 146, lesson "Scripture Lesson" last clause; page 154, lesson "Ten Virgins," last section. The selections from the Holy Scriptures are objected to on account of the heading of many of the lessons, particularly those on pages 136 and 164, the "Punishment of the Wicked," and the "Last Judgment." They also called our attention to the section headed "Altamont," pages 139, 140 and 141, Murray's English Reader, as well as some other books sons," page 133, last verse of the lesson "God always sees me; and 141, Murray's English Reader, as well as some other books which we have not here enumerated. If the religious opinions entertained by the Jews are to be regarded with the same favor as those of the various denominations of Christians, (and we can see no good reason why they should not) then we consider it the duty of your honorable body to either exclude all books from use in the schools participating in the public moneys, or withhold the money from such schools as persist in using books contrary to their belief. The reasons are obvious, for they pay their portion of the taxes necessary to support our common schools, and do not ask or receive any favor on account of their religious opinions, but are obliged by law to pay their portion of the public expense.

Besides, they have many children they wish to have educated, but so long as there are books used in the public schools containing sentiments diametrically opposed to their religious belief, their children must be excluded from said schools, and they not only lose the benefits resulting therefrom, but are obliged to support schools in which it is impossible for them to

The same may also be said of every other sect having similar reasons of complaint.

The undersigned have not, for the want of time, had opportunity to examine several other books used in the public schools in this ward, but intend at our earliest convenience to prosecomplaint that is now or may hereafter be laid before us, and if thought of sufficient importance, forthwith to lay the same before your honorable body

Deeming the matter we have thus far investigated of vast importance to the welfare of the public schools, and of great interest to many desirous of sending their children to said schools, we have thought best to submit the foregoing as the results of our examinations to your honorable body for such ise and the noblest liberality could do to foster, and for to an icably and satisfactorily settled, and justice be done to all We are, gentlemen, with great respect, Your obedient servants,
