

paged illustrations by Paul Thiriat, engraved on Wood by Eugène Dété (both of Paris), and artistically printed by Brendon & Son, Ltd. (of Plymouth), 4to, vi 312 pages, half parchment bound, with corners, and fleur-de-lys on side. 1908-9. Price 15s.

(X) Small edition, uniform with Messrs. Methuen's issue of "Oscar Wilde's Works" at same price. 12mo, xii and 352 pages. 2000 copies. Bound in green cloth. 1910. Price 5s.

It follows from all this that, with the exception of the version in Lippincott's Magazine only those editions are authorised to be sold in Great Britain and her Colonies which bear the Imprimatur of Ward, Lock & Co., London, or Charles Carrington, Paris and Brussels; and that all other editions, whether American, Continental (save Carrington's Paris editions above specified) or otherwise, may not be sold within British jurisdiction without infringing the Berne law of literary copyright and incurring the disagreements that may therefrom result.