

PERSON
Men
The many member of the ke your selections everything that is thing. The narrow roll and form features that of people will matters not what have it. Regular or coats to meet the and children's suits all mothers. We plain blue grey the effect in blue, greys and blues. suits, nothing finer our $20.00, $22.00, suits and overcoats the best manufac- morning that if suit and in a real THAT SELL IN 3.00, $20.00, England worsted brown greens, three-button style, price 11.95 CLOTHES. double-breasted pocket, full fitting materials the Eng- in the new spring pants with belt special Sat- 5.00 d in the new olive pants with belt 25 to 34 6.00 grey Eng- Worst- Piece- ner Suit double-breasted more vent, full-hill with belt loops, fine One of the suits for spring. $7.00 $7.50 Pictures D Each DAY, 8 A.M. Pictures, Regular 1.95 to $10 pastels, carbons, photogravures, etc., mated. mail orders. See- ly two to any one OR 13c with heavy lace cottage uses. 13 neatly trimmed with 70 in. Worth 39 rns, 63c terms and new 1.00, $1.25, .63 rtains fully, with rich bor- 1.69 of designs and col- atisfaction for 49 6 inches wide. 49 ns in iture mahogany, plain carved 45.00 gany panel backs, 55.00 seats and backs, strongly 60.00 shed finish, plain of silk 70.00 Price series per lb., 40c 3 packages, 25c nes, 15c and 10c, 15c 3 tins, 25c per tin, 15c 3/4 lbs., 25c and seedless, 25c per doz., 29c 2-lb. jar, 25c 2 tins, 25c bottle, 15c per lb., 15c 2 lbs., 25c Value per box, 20c

$65,000
Yonge St., W. S., near Gould
Excellent value; lot 25 x 201.
H. H. WILLIAMS & CO.,
85 King St. East.

YONGE ST. STORE FOR RENT
Yonge, near Shuter; 17x23; excellent play-window, very handsomely decorated; will lease for number of years.
Possession June, 1912.
H. H. WILLIAMS & CO.,
85 King St. East.
VOL. XXXII—No. 11,563

EIGHTEEN PAGES—SATURDAY MORNING MARCH 30 1912—EIGHTEEN PAGES

PEEBLE-MINDED NEED BETTER TREATMENT

Deputation From Associated Charities Will Ask Board of Control and Provincial Government to Make Provision for Insane Poor, Feeble-Minded and Nervous People.

"It is simply scandalous," declared Miss Boulton, father Minehan, Rev. Dr. Turnbull and Rev. Dr. Neil nodded assent. Free, fervid and frank were the description of conditions in Toronto at the meeting of the committee of the Associated Charities last night on the case of the feeble-minded and the cure of nervous diseases.

According to the statements of members of the committee the university authorities and the new hospital board are utterly opposed to wards for the treatment of nervous diseases being provided in the new hospital, although Miss Boulton said "It was supposed to be a so-called up-to-date hospital."

Miss Boulton argued vigorously that this was the only method by which the increase of insanity in the province, with the asylums overcrowded and indigent insane in jails, could be stemmed. New York had awakened and had wards for the cure of nervous diseases and the report showed a cure of 50 per cent. It was the only way to reduce insanity. It was a disease which usually came on gradually and not like a thunderclap.

Just Scandalous.
"It was just scandalous that the wards for such cases in the old general hospital should have been closed so that they could be used for rooms for the nurses in training. It appeared impossible to secure the co-operation of the new hospital authorities."

Father Minehan said the city had granted $200,000 and another million was wanted. It would be a good idea to hold up further grants until this matter was dealt with on its merits.

The committee decided to organize a deputation to wait on the new hospital board next week.

Equally clear cut were the statements respecting the confinement of prisoners whose double crime was poverty and insanity in the disease impregnated city jail.

ACCUSED WOMAN OF STEALING MONEY

Man Who Murdered Becky Cooper, Alias Berger, Started an Argument, and Mrs. Cohen Was About to Interfere When Man Pulled a Revolver From His Pocket.

The police spent yesterday combing out the Italian population of "The Ward," and they are still at it searching for the murderer of Becky Cooper, alias Berger, or some clue to his identity. From information supplied by neighbors and now confirmed by Mrs. Cohen, keeper of the house at 160 Chestnut-street, where the woman was shot Monday night, the police have learned that there was an altercation in the house between the murderer, his victim and Mrs. Cohen before the shooting.

The sordid details of the crime have become more sordid in the light of this information. It now appears that the place was a house of ill-fame run by Mrs. Cohen, and that the murderer called there Monday night. Some time later the man accused the murdered woman of stealing his money. There was an argument between him and the two women and he was put out of the house. The dead woman went to the door after him and Mrs. Cohen followed, armed with a heavy china bowl.

She heard the man and girl talking angrily and just as she got to where she could see him standing before the door, he pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired point blank at the girl, who staggered forward into the street, while her assailant fled south. From there on the details are as before narrated.

The Italian arrested Thursday was yesterday admitted to bail upon his own bond. He disclaimed ownership of the weapons found at the place where he was living, saying that they belonged to other Italians there. There was a great purchasing of picks and shovels in that locality yesterday, and many of these men went to work who have been idle for weeks.

Yesterday the police had got no nearer a solution of the identity of the wanted man than to have what they now believe is a comparatively accurate story of the circumstances surrounding the shooting. Mrs. Cohen now admits that these are the facts, although she at first denied them.

A Further Conference.
PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(Can. Press.)—Geo. F. Baer, president of the Reading Railway Co., to-day received a telegram from Cleveland signed by White, Fahey and Dempsey of the United Mine Workers, asking for a further conference with the operators. The message reached the offices of the president after he had gone to his home, and when its purport had been sent to him by telephone, he at once wired the miners' officials that he would gladly agree to a further conference.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(Can. Press.)—Geo. F. Baer, president of the Reading Railway Co., to-day received a telegram from Cleveland signed by White, Fahey and Dempsey of the United Mine Workers, asking for a further conference with the operators. The message reached the offices of the president after he had gone to his home, and when its purport had been sent to him by telephone, he at once wired the miners' officials that he would gladly agree to a further conference.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(Can. Press.)—Geo. F. Baer, president of the Reading Railway Co., to-day received a telegram from Cleveland signed by White, Fahey and Dempsey of the United Mine Workers, asking for a further conference with the operators. The message reached the offices of the president after he had gone to his home, and when its purport had been sent to him by telephone, he at once wired the miners' officials that he would gladly agree to a further conference.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 29.—(Can. Press.)—President White's ultimatum ordering a suspension of work in the anthracite region vending a referendum vote will be obeyed to the letter by the underground workers of the Wyoming region. A large number of miners practically obeyed the order this afternoon before they had an intimation of President White's order. They took their tools out of the workings and notified their foremen that they would not report for work to-morrow.

WORK SUSPENDS IN ANTHRACITE MINES

Order Goes Forth to Lay Down Tools in Hard Coal Regions To-day, Pending Vote on Strike—Will Continue Conferences, and Strong Hopes for Settlement Are Held.

There seems to be no question as to what the outcome of the referendum vote will be. The miners will undoubtedly stand by any policy outlined by the executive officers of the United Mine Workers. Despite the dark outlook an optimistic feeling prevails that the suspension will not be of long duration and that the operators and their employes will be able to get together at no distant day.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(Can. Press.)—Geo. F. Baer, president of the Reading Railway Co., to-day received a telegram from Cleveland signed by White, Fahey and Dempsey of the United Mine Workers, asking for a further conference with the operators. The message reached the offices of the president after he had gone to his home, and when its purport had been sent to him by telephone, he at once wired the miners' officials that he would gladly agree to a further conference.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(Can. Press.)—Geo. F. Baer, president of the Reading Railway Co., to-day received a telegram from Cleveland signed by White, Fahey and Dempsey of the United Mine Workers, asking for a further conference with the operators. The message reached the offices of the president after he had gone to his home, and when its purport had been sent to him by telephone, he at once wired the miners' officials that he would gladly agree to a further conference.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(Can. Press.)—Geo. F. Baer, president of the Reading Railway Co., to-day received a telegram from Cleveland signed by White, Fahey and Dempsey of the United Mine Workers, asking for a further conference with the operators. The message reached the offices of the president after he had gone to his home, and when its purport had been sent to him by telephone, he at once wired the miners' officials that he would gladly agree to a further conference.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(Can. Press.)—Geo. F. Baer, president of the Reading Railway Co., to-day received a telegram from Cleveland signed by White, Fahey and Dempsey of the United Mine Workers, asking for a further conference with the operators. The message reached the offices of the president after he had gone to his home, and when its purport had been sent to him by telephone, he at once wired the miners' officials that he would gladly agree to a further conference.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(Can. Press.)—Geo. F. Baer, president of the Reading Railway Co., to-day received a telegram from Cleveland signed by White, Fahey and Dempsey of the United Mine Workers, asking for a further conference with the operators. The message reached the offices of the president after he had gone to his home, and when its purport had been sent to him by telephone, he at once wired the miners' officials that he would gladly agree to a further conference.

CUSTOMS REVENUE BREAKS RECORDS

The customs revenue for the City of Toronto, for the year ending to-day, exceeds all previous returns. The following statistics showing monthly returns and amount of increase will give an idea of how Toronto's customs business is growing:

Month	1911	Gain over previous year
April	$1,182,022	$ 1,854
May	1,217,934	125,755
June	1,211,368	108,636
July	1,116,171	25,011
August	1,472,565	52,212
September	1,348,882	93,592
October	1,358,743	305,158
November	1,894,454	222,007
December	1,291,741	211,906
1912
January	1,289,321	169,751
February	1,559,047	199,010
March	1,650,900	165,627
Total	$14,067,178	$1,692,969

Yesterday's receipts, which are included in the above, amounted to $39,000.

WHAT DOES MAYOR GEARY SAY?

Has the Toronto Street Railway put up a job on the city council of Toronto in regard to a traffic expert, like the one they are putting up on the courts of the country and on Dr. Garraway? Perhaps the people of Toronto will now see why the solons of the city hall are not appointing a traffic expert.

THE TELEGRAM AND REAL ESTATE.

A real estate owner put away a Telegram editorial of two years and more ago on real estate. He has underlined it and annotated it, and as such we reproduce it by photograph. What The Telegram predicted is happening. But it is now trying to head things off by slump talk and cursing land butchers. The Telegram glories in the increase in values of downtown property (see its article on the Dominion Bank last night), but it regrets that the same thing has come to suburban property. Here is the photograph:

THE EVENING TELEGRAM

TORONTO, MONDAY, AUG. 10, 1908.
TORONTO REAL ESTATE
Toronto property will never again be as cheap as it is at this present moment.
A distinct hardening in the prices asked and offered for land in the city and surrounding the city, is looked for in the next three years.
The eyes that do the looking are in the cool heads of far-sighted men. Human eyesight is not infallible. The wisest men in Toronto put their money "a thousand fathoms deep" in the construction of the belt line. Other solons planned to buy up all the property on Yonge street, and gracefully submit themselves to the process of being made millionaires by the increase in values.
Still Toronto can do worse than offer a fair hearing to testimony as to the future of real estate values.
Land in Toronto and the suburbs appears to be at bed-rock value now. All the probabilities of the future seem to point first, to a hardening in prices, and then a marked advance.

The people of Toronto are looking for sites for houses and for houses; there are no sites in the city. Are they to delay buying until prices get still higher?

STARTLING ACCUSATIONS ARE MADE IN HOUSE AGAINST HON. A. B. MORINE WHO REPLIES WITH STRONG DENIAL

SERIOUS CHARGES RECITED BY CARVELL

Member for Carleton, N.B., Accused Hon. A. B. Morine of Accepting $10,000 a Year to Stay Out of Newfoundland, and of Having Betrayed His Employer.

OTTAWA, March 29.—(Special.)—Almost the last day of the first session of the 12th parliament of Canada was enlivened, not to say electrified, by the utterance of F. B. Carvell of Carleton, N.B., from his place in the house of charges of the most sweeping and serious nature against the personal and political honor of Hon. A. B. Morine, chairman of the public service commission.

Mr. Carvell went at length into Mr. Morine's political career in Newfoundland, stating that the latter had been twice dismissed from the premiership of that colony. The gravamen of the charge against him, according to Mr. Carvell's statement, was that while a member of a cabinet that had handed over vast concessions to R. G. Reid, the well-known railway magnate. Mr. Morine had been in receipt of a salary as legal adviser to Mr. Reid, a position which he continued to hold even when he assured Governor McCallum that henceforth he had no connection with that gentleman.

"Having betrayed the colony for the benefit of his employer," said Mr. Carvell, "he then attempted to betray his employer for the benefit of himself." Maintaining that a newspaper owned by Mr. Reid, the mortgage of which had been placed in his name, was his own property.

Mr. Morine, Mr. Carvell charged, had been driven out of Newfoundland by Reid, under an agreement, and dared not go back.

What evidence, he asked, could be placed in the report of a court presided over by a man whose record was such as had been set forth? Premier Borden in a dignified reply stated that the details of the allegations of Mr. Carvell were absolutely new to him, and were of an exceedingly grave character. "I stand exactly with regard to appointments to public office," said the premier, "where I stood when I made the statement my own friend has referred to in the Halifax platform of 1907. I shall place the charges which my hon. friend has made before Mr. Morine and give him an opportunity of making an answer to them. When Mr. Morine's answer has been made to these charges, I will announce to this house of commons and to this country what action the government purposes to take in regard thereto."

Objects to Campaign Literature.
When the house assembled at 3 o'clock, Mr. Rhodes (Cumberland) drew attention to the kind of literature which was being circulated in Quebec, particularly the County of Chambly-Vercheres, against the Conservative party, and bearing the frank of the member for Russell County. Mr. Rhodes read some of the literature, which was a rehearsal of attacks on the Borden Government in the house on the navy question. One sentence ran thus: "The Nationalists and Conservatives have broken their promises and the people have been shamefully deceived." The pamphlet also attacked the government.

Continued on Page 3, Column 3
"A BEVY OF BEAUTIES."
The chorus in "Jumping Jupiter," the new musical farce that Richard (Himself) Carle brings to the Princess for eight performances next week, beginning Monday night, and which includes a matinee on Friday and Saturday, is the first of its kind with the exception of the heavy of beauties now capturing in the other Lederer & Frasse sensation, "Madame Sherry." In "Jumping Jupiter," there are only twelve girls, but they are the prettiest that could be placed under contract. They are also required to sing, dance and speak lines. In fact they are not a chorus at all, but actresses, every one of them, as will be seen when this big variegated "fun" show is seen here next week.

Mr. Carvell's Charges.

That Mr. Morine, when finance minister and minister of customs for Newfoundland, surrendered to R. G. Reid, a railway contractor, a railway on which the government had spent $13,000,000, for 50 years, a condition being that it should become Reid's property on paying $1,000,000.

That Reid was also given 5000 acres of land and all the coal thereon, monopoly of steamship lines, St. John's docks, telegraph lines, etc., totaling $13,000,000 to $15,000,000.

That Mr. Morine, while a member of the executive council of Newfoundland, was legal adviser to Reid, and was dismissed from office by the governor.

That he was reinstated by the new governor and again dismissed.

That Mr. Morine was given $10,000 a year on condition that he would not go back to Newfoundland.

That Premier Borden knew all about Mr. Morine's record four years ago.

That the Bishop of Newfoundland had written a letter in which he said Mr. Morine was "the greatest scoundrel that ever entered the narrow."

That another letter, which he refrained from reading, but handed to Mr. Borden revealed Mr. Morine in a character so low that he (Mr. Carvell) would not disgrace the pages of Hansard by reading it.

Mr. Morine's Denial.
That Governor Murray asked for his resignation as premier because he (Murray) was bitterly opposed to the Reid railway contract, and was advised by his (Morine's) opponents to punish him.
That it was well known that he was general legal adviser to Reid while a member of the cabinet.
That the Reid contract of 1889 has since remained in force and is highly advantageous to Newfoundland.
That he was restored to office by Governor McCallum, and resigned after several months on a question of policy, then resuming his work as Reid's legal adviser.
That he severed his connection with Mr. Reid because he felt that his relation with the new government could never be friendly and the political opposition of Right Rev. Dr. Howley would not cease while he (Morine) acted as Reid's adviser.
That money since paid him by Reid, was in consideration of his having abandoned his private practice and that he had a moral and legal claim for unexpired time.
Premier Borden's Statement.
Three years ago certain charges were made against Mr. Morine by a resident of the U. S., whose name the premier doesn't recall, who wrote a "confidential" letter, and who refused to allow Mr. Borden to lay the matter before Mr. Morine. That the matter will be investigated and the government will announce its decision later.

MORINE TELLS OF DEALINGS WITH REID

Defends Contract With Railwayman as Beneficial to Newfoundland—Acted Openly as Reid's Legal Adviser, and Money Since Received is Legitimate Compensation.

OTTAWA, March 29.—(Can. Press.)—A. B. Morine, K.C., issued the following statement to-night to the press:

"Being informed, over the telephone, that Mr. Carvell, M.P., was speaking about me in the commons, I at once went to the gallery to listen, and I now submit a reply to what I then heard him say.

"I can give an outline only of the facts relating to my resignation from the government of Newfoundland in 1898, at the request of Governor Murray; they are as follows:

"Governor Murray was personally opposed very bitterly to the Reid railway contract, adopted by the legislature, and after its passage became embittered against me for some fanciful slight I was accused of showing him. The opponents of that measure urged him to punish me, the man most connected with the measure, in their opinion, and the most energetic member of the administration. One of the most active of these politicians was the Very Rev. M. F. Howley, whose letter abusing me was read by Mr. Carvell.

Was Reid's Legal Adviser.
"It was a public fact that I was and had been the general legal adviser of R. G. Reid, the contractor. No secret had been made of this, for I openly acted in that capacity in the courts. I had specially asked the premier, Sir James Winter, if it were desirable that I should remain in the cabinet, and had remained at his request. Other counsel for the contractor had sat in the previous cabinet with the knowledge and acquiescence of Governor Murray himself. The governor knew that I acted for Reid, and he made no protest or took any action till moved to do so for party ends and because of his personal feeling. Any objection there might be to the situation on principle was offset in this case by the fact that the Reid railway contract, 1889, was unanimously supported by the members of the legislature supporting the government and by half of the opposition, led by the present premier of Newfoundland, Sir E. P. Morris. The amended disadvantageously, that measure remains in force to this day, to the general advantage of the country, and now it is almost universally admitted that the contract was a splendid one for the country. I may add that St. John's newspaper, which asserted that corrupt influences were used to support the measure, was sued for libel and most unreservedly withdrew its imputations.

Restored to Office.
"After my resignation my colleagues urged my reappointment. Gov. Murray, who reconciled to me personally, demurred to a reappointment and soon retired. His successor, Gov. McCallum, Continued on Page 8, Column 8.

USE BOYCOTT TO GET VOTES
Mrs. Despard Urges Women to Stop Buying Millinery and Aiding Churches.
LONDON, March 29.—(Can. Press.)—At a meeting of suffragettes held to-night in protest against what the speaker described as their "Base betrayal by the house of commons," Mrs. Despard, who was sentenced to prison in 1909, and was once arrested for picketing Premier Asquith's house, said the time had arrived for the militant suffragettes to adopt more effective methods to gain their ends.
She urged, in effect, a boycott. She said the women should not buy hats, which would hurt the tradesmen worse than window smashing, declared that they should not go to a seaside resort represented in parliament by men of anti-suffragist tendencies, and should not subscribe funds to churches or institutions or invest their money in England.

Continued on Page 3, Column 3
Continued on Page 7, Column 3
Continued on Page 8, Column 8