Rousing Big Meeting for McCallum Appears as a Man Who Will Work

Tells Audience, Which Overflows Hall at Sutton, That He Will Go to Ottawa Pledging to Fight the Battles of the People—W. F. Maclean, M.P., Points the Need for Non-Partisan But Earnest Representation.

Sutton, Nov. 6.—(Special.)—It was a warm reception that Archie McCallum got at the opening meeting of his campaign here to-night. The train was packed and the crowd was content to wait, and when at 9 o'clock the candidate entered the hall, his head bowed and his hands clasped, he was at once recognized and heartily applauded. The hall at this time was comfortably filled, but by the time the preliminary business was over every seat was taken and standing room was at a premium. Nor was the reception Mr. McCallum received a whit better than the impression he made on the audience. He expressed himself quietly and clearly, was attentively listened to, and at the close was liberally applauded.

There were on the platform Isaac Fenton, Sutton; D. W. McDonald, Sutton; Donald Ego, Georgina; W. F. Maclean, M.P.; T. H. Lennox, M.L.A.; Walter Holburn, formerly deputy reeve of East Gwillimbury, was in the chair. He explained that it had been impossible to reach Mr. McCallum by telephone or phone, but that in all probability he would address the electors of Sutton before election day. He called on Archie McCallum, and as the long man from King rose to his feet, he got a reception that did him heart good. Archie McCallum was glad to see so many ladies present. "He is a bachelor," shouted T. H. Lennox, and the laughter that followed served to loosen the tension.

Just an Ordinary Man.
"I am a farmer and a workman like yourselves, but I just want to tell you in a few words what I intend to do when I am elected as member for North York, as I am going to be on Nov. 22."

He would at all times support the public rights against the encroachments of the large corporations. Such protection was needed, and for that reason they should elect as the representative one who was a resident of the riding and knew its needs.

He was in favor of national telephones and telegraphs. Government should be made to pay for the telephone for a farmer, at $10 a year. At the present time he was trying to get a rate for his own farm of $25 a year. It would cost him $25 per year.

NORTH YORK MUST HAVE SOME OF THE GLOBE'S LIBERALS WHO RESENT LAURIER'S COERCION OF THE WEST.

The Globe is now saying that all the row about coercion comes from a few ultra-Protestants and Orangemen. Here is its own deliverance when the subject was before the house. There are the mainline Liberals in North York who at the time the following article appeared in its columns thought it voiced their views exactly:

IN A FOOL'S PARADISE.
Editorial in Toronto Globe, April 19, 1905.

Those who suppose that opposition to the educational clauses in the Northwest autonomy bill is confined to Toronto and that is dependent on Orange-Toryism for its vitality, are living in a fool's paradise; it may be that the noisiest clamor is being made by Toronto Tories and by newspapers catering for ultra-Protestant and Tory or quasi-Tory support. But such opposition is utterly without significance, and may safely be disregarded both by the public and by parliament. And it may be, too, that public opinion on this and other questions is represented as inadequately and as unreasonably in a Toronto club as in the lobbies and smoking rooms of the house of commons. That point need not be argued.

GLOBE AND AYLESWORTH TOGETHER WORKING GOVERNMENT GREAT HARM

That's the Frank Opinion of Hon. Mr. Tarte—Their Attitude "An Inconsiderate Condemnation of the Policy Championed by the Prime Minister, Colleagues and Party."

Montreal, Nov. 6.—(Special.)—It looks as if Hon. Mr. Aylesworth stands between the devil and the deep sea. Here is what Hon. Mr. Tarte has to say about the minister:

"Mr. Aylesworth," he says in La Patrie, "thought he had nothing better to do than to condemn the policy of his colleagues." The editor of the subject, The Daily Witness says:

FOUNDER OF Y.M.C.A. PASSES AWAY SIR GEO. WILLIAMS AND HIS WORK

Sixty-One Years Ago Organized in Garret Room Society That is Now World-Wide—Visited Toronto in 1876.

London, Nov. 6.—Sir George Williams, president and founder of the Y.M.C.A., died to-day at Torquay, in his 84th year.

Sir George Williams, born in 1821, was educated at Guy's school, Twickenham, Devonshire. He was a member of the firm of Hitchcock, Williams & Co., a prominent London firm. The movement began in a remarkable way 61 years ago. George Williams and Edward Clarke, a clerk, were going over to Alderbury's bridge in London one night, on their way home from work, when they began a serious conversation.

"Teddy," asked Williams, "are you willing to make a sacrifice for your religion?"

Teddy replied in the affirmative, "If you will, I'll follow," he said simply.

Williams' proposal was that they should get their fellow clerks together and set a society on foot so that they might help one another to keep their lives. Their projects were made known, they were undertaken, Ten other clerks became converts, and, fortunately, their employer was sympathetic. He gave them the use of a little room in a garret of the store, and here on June 6, 1844, the first Y.M.C.A. was organized by the 12 young clerks. The society became less and less, and by and by the room in the garret became too small. Then for 40 years a week at a time in a little coffee house was rented. Clerks in other towns bestirred themselves, and the movement spread to England, and in seven years there were branches in Scotland, Ireland, Canada and the United States as well as in 1851 that the first American Young Men's Christian Association was organized in Boston. It was the Y.M.C.A. who wrought such a wholesome change in the condition of the London shopmen, that of you are a young man, you can't see a cow and given food dogs would not eat. When one hears complaints of the living in systems as they call it in the old country, the life of shop employees six decades ago must have been indescribable. HUNGRY MEN ARE DESPERATE WIVES' WARNING TO BALFOUR

Deputation of Women Wait on British Premier With Plea for Aid to Unemployed to Avoid Bloodshed.

IS SYMPATHETIC, BUT UNPROMISING

At Mass Meeting Afterwards Labor M.P. Says Agitation Should Be Continued Even to Point of Revolution.

London, Nov. 6.—The desperate condition of the poor of London was brought to the notice of the British Premier today by a remarkable deputation of the wives and other women relatives of the unemployed, who did not hesitate to tell the premier that unless something is speedily done to lessen their sufferings there will be bloodshed.

"Don't forget that hungry men are desperate men," said one of the speakers. All had the same tale to tell of husbands out of work and starving wives and children.

Enormous crowds of women from all parts of London marched thru the streets, headed by a deputation, which Mr. Balfour received at the office of the local government board.

Only thirty of the women were admitted to the meeting. Mr. Balfour, the Premier was very sympathetic. He acknowledged that the evil was very real, but he had started the agitation in the way of alleviation, except an expression of hope that public charity would continue to support his wife and children.

A mass meeting of the women was held at 3 o'clock. Mr. Balfour, Mr. Crooke, M.P., and others made speeches. Mr. Crooke said that the Premier's reply to the deputation was unworthy of the premier of a great country. He added that they had started the agitation which would not cease until every man who wanted work was supplied with it, and that they would continue to fight for the rights of the poor.

Simply Go and See It. There isn't a store in any retail store in Toronto at the present time to compare in value and interest with the fur-lined overcoat special at $12.50.

It is the Dineen $50 coat and it is even better value for money than it will be two months hence for there are days when it will be needed long before Christmas.

It is thoroughly first-class in quality of goods and manufacture, and the workmanship being of the careful kind, the cloth an unfadeable black veer, and the fur lining far exceeding $50. See it, dinarily, $22.50.

SCATTERED SHOWERS.

Lower lakes and western waters moderate to fresh westerly winds a few light scattered showers, but for the most part fair, not much change in temperature.
