Mosquites Swarm in City Park; Water Draws Them There

Pests Bad in Victoria, and No Fight Made Against Them.

Even the mosquitoes in these days of diluted prohibition and weather drought are on the search for wet This accounts for the swarms

Prof. John Dearness said today in explanation of the abnormal number of mosquitoes noticeable in some parts of the city that the prolonged dryness weather this season accounts probably for the mosquito pest which is attacking unwary park benchers. In South London few have been noticed. Professor Dearness explained that water is necessary to the life of the mosquito, and that it lays its eggs only in water, choosing stagnant pools, such as soft water rain barrels and ponds. Under normal weather conditions the mosquitoes scatter when hatched, but at present they are congregating wherever there is water.

Very little is being done by the Government in this country to fight the mosquito, the professor said, and believed that there was practically no decrease in recent years in the pests. A great deal of money, he stated, is being spent in some parts of the country, especially in New Jersey, which holds the record as the habitat of the largest and most voracious variety of mosquito, in employment of methods to fight them. Other places, principally summer resorts near water, are also conducting campaigns with excellent y summer resorts near water, are also conducting campaigns with excellent

Prof. John Dearness said today in explanation of the abnormal number of the park benches hand out the following campaigns with excellent results.

Probably with more frequent rains in the future, the park mosquito will become less noticeable.

In the meantime, those who sit on park benches hand out the following campaigns.

GERMANS ALARMED AT COAL SHORTAGE

Conference of Experts Called To Discuss Situation.

SITUATION IS CRITICAL

Many Will Freeze To Death This Winter Unless the Supply Is Increased.

Berlin, Aug. 7 .- A commission of employers and workers was appointed at yesterday's coal conference of experts from all parts of Germany to devise neans of increasing the production of coal so that Germany will not freeze r starve during the coming winter. Its first session was held today at the minstry of labor.

The only result of yesterday's confer ence seemed to be the pointing out that the situation is desperate. No concrete steps were decided upon, but the conference was unanimous in its view that the situation must be improved at any price. Although experts made a large number of suggestions it was recog-nized that hard work would be one of the best solutions of the problem.

that Germany cannot even hope to have enough coal to meet the country's mos urgent needs. The people have bee warned already to prepare for the coming winter and laymen are rapidly being converted to the opinion that the Government should sacrifice some of the national forests, arguing that the national forests, arguing that it would be better to encroach on part of Germany's potential capital than to allow freezing and starvation. The idea, however, does not appear to attract much attention in governmental circles. According to present plans, the first call for coal will come from the railroads. This will assure the transportations of the component of the coal coal coals. tion of food. Industry will come next, so that credit can be created abroad by the production of articles of commerce. Prematurely Loosening Teeth

It is surprising how little attention is given to this most common of diseases by the average person. It must be because there is very little pain accompanying its development. And therein lies its danger. If people suffering with such discusse as Rheumatism, Neuritis, Kidney and Heart Troubles, Stomach Disorders, etc... would attend to their diseased gums much unnecessary discomfort and result of amoeboid germs eating away the membranes surrounding and supporting the teeth. There flows into the system of a person suffering with a typical case of Pyorrhea over a gallon of pus in a year. Think how this must poison the body. Don't expect to cure diseased gums with tooth pastes or powders. A very different method must be used.

"Pemetine" penetrates deep into the dental tissues, neutralizes all unfavorable acids, stops instantly fermentation and putrefaction, deodorizes offensive breaths, and destroys all mouth germs and Pyorrhea Amoebae.

GRASS FIRE SWEEPS OVER TWO FARMS IN VICINITY OF DELMER

DELMER, Aug. 7.—The much needed rain still keeps away from here. With a continuation of fine weather harvest-ing will soon be past. Fire has caused considerable trouble along the railway here and has had to be fought persistently in several places. Recently it broke out along the G.T.R. on the rear end of Mr. Shattuck's farm, west of Springford, and with a good Speedwell Military Hospital pleaded stiff north wind was carried across the
