Recruits Are Still Scarcer

Last Fortnight Shows Another Decline in Total—News of the Soldiers

Ottawa, July 18.—Total enlistments for the first two weeks of July were 2,166, as compared with 3,955 for the last half of June. The shadow of conscription which stimulated recruiting to some extent during the latter part of May and early in June is apparently not having the same influence now. It may be noted, however, that the enlistment call for farm labor and the fact that there has been no special effort made to stimulate voluntary recruiting since the conscription policy was announced, explain to some extent at least the falling off in recruiting this month.

A considerable proportion of the new recruits now coming in may be credited to the drafts of men who have been enlisted for the Canadian colors in the United States.

Toronto military district headed the list for the past fortnight with 886 men. The London district recruited 160 men; Kingston district 144; Montreal district 229; Quebec district 18; maritime provinces 219; Manitoba 228; Saskatchewan 79; Alberta 37, and British Columbia 220.

One Man in City.
One man signed on in the city yesterday and joined the Happy Eight—J. G. Bailey, of Winnipeg (Ont.).

West Side Soldier Honored.
Sergeant-Major O. O. Wilson, who left St. John with the 8th Army Service Corps as a private and has been through the fighting in France ever since that unit reached the front, has been awarded the Meritorious Service Medal and was recently decorated by the king in person.

Casualties.
Mr. and Mrs. James O. Sentell of Salisbury were advised yesterday by Ottawa that their son, Private Victor Sentell, had died of wounds. Private Sentell was turned down when the battalion to which he belonged was sent out to sea for overseas. He learned that one of the members of the unit had deserted, as Private Sentell took this fellow's name and by that means got to England.

Councillor and Mrs. Robert Murphy of Bass River have received word that their son, Ross Eldon, has been killed in action.

Mrs. Charles Whalen, 24 Chapel street, West St. John, received word yesterday that her son, Private Frederick Whalen, was killed in action between September 15 and 17, 1916. Private Whalen was previously reported missing. Previous to enlisting he served twelve years in the Partington Pulp mill as a machinist.

Mrs. Harry White, 18 Orange street, was advised yesterday that her husband, Private Harry White, had been killed in action. He is survived by his wife and two children.

Schooners and Coal.
One of St. John's most prominent shipping men contends that the crux of the coal situation as it stands today is due to a scarcity of coasting vessels. This, he contends, was brought about partly because ships built in the maritime provinces are rapidly absorbed by American capital. The question of the price of coal, he said, is largely a question of freight rates. If Canadian vessels were kept in the Canadian coast-al trade, plying between Canadian and United States ports, there is little doubt, he said, that the freight rates on coal would resume a more normal level.
