Why Dempsey Lost Causes Much Speculation by

Fans

By HENRY L. FARRELL United Press Staff Correspondent PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24-There is a new heavyweight champion of the world. Gene Tunney, formerly of the United States Marine Corps, as is known in every spot in the world where wires reach, won the heavyweight championship of the world and the richest prize in the sporting world

when he was awarded a ten round de-cision over Jack Dempsey here last In these modern days of the prize ring since Tex Rickard started offering millions of dollars to fighters, it has been the opinion of those close to the game that the heavyweight title would never be passed on a decision.

NO PROTEST

But the title passed last night before a mile. Two might have been awarded to Dempsey on the efforts of the champion.

"Don't worry," said Tunney in reply, his two word total of conversa-tion between the first and final bell. "At that," said Bronson, after the bout, "he was mixing it at the close." Bronson lost one argument before the championship struggle got under way. When Dempsey entered the ring wearing pads of collodion and cotton over his eyebrows, Bronson challenged the patches as filegal on the ground that they gave a second skin in two vulnerable spots.
