CLASH AT JOINT POLITICAL DEBATE

Trouble Starts at Nashwaak-sis Meeting When Dr. J. W. Edwards, M. P., Refers to Sinn Feiners.

Fredericton, May 18.—The joint meeting at Nashwaak-sis tonight, addressed by Dr. John Wesley Edwards, M. P. for Frontenac, on behalf of the Conservative party and William Irvine, of Moncton, United Farmer organizer for New Brunswick, on behalf of the Progressives, was the liveliest feature which the York-Sunbury by-election has yet produced. The hall was entirely inadequate for the audience which had assembled and one much larger easily would have been filled. Councillor Fred Seymour was chairman by mutual consent.

The outstanding feature of the meeting was that the audience was overwhelmingly Progressive and was not backward in showing it. This is the more remarkable because Nashwaak-sis in previous elections has been a Conservative community, giving substantial majorities for Conservative candidates. If tonight's meeting can be taken as an indication, E. W. Stairs, Progressive candidate, will take a majority from that poll. Mr. Irvine was the more popular of the two speakers and was cheered repeatedly. Dr. Edwards was given an attentive hearing and was cheered by the Conservative section of the crowd.

Toward the close of his address interruptions, which had been occasional, united into a hostile demonstration which prevented him speaking for a short time. The cause of this was a statement by Dr. Edwards to the effect that among the opponents of the Meighen government at the present time could be found "every Sinn Feiner, every German and every Austrian." A reference by Dr. Edwards a few minutes before to "men of the type of Lindsay Crawford" had caused a similar interruption with yells of "cut it out," "the old game," "old stuff."

Maxwell, a representative of labor; St. John, and Amos O'Brien, secretary of the Moncton school board.

This is the first meeting of the board in Moncton since its inception.

FRUIT FARMING IN NOVA SCOTIA

Wolfville, May 18.—Starting out to work a farm with a mortgage necked on it for more than the farm was worth was not the very encouraging prospect of Sam Chute of Berwick twenty-five years ago. Last year he sold 20,000 barrels of his own apples and about 60,000 quarts of strawberries. The old mortgage, of course, is gone and forgotten, except as a memento.

Mrs. Chute is known by his neighbors in the Annapolis Valley as the "international farmer." Besides owning 220 acres of the precious Valley land, he owns a citrus farm in Florida, among other possessions. He has a couple of autos, besides three tractors. His neighbors call his house a three-story mansion, with a sun parlor such as few city houses afford.

STREET RAILWAY EMPLOYEES MEET

The Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees held their meeting yesterday afternoon and evening with the president of the union, Ira Ferris, in the chair. The various reports of the conferences with the New Brunswick Power Company were placed before the men and several propositions of the officers of the union were brought up and discussed. The union representatives are expected to meet the directors of the company today to discuss the wage situation and the dismissal of the two union employees.

LEAVES TRAGIC NOTE FOR WIFE

Reuben Hiltz of Dartmouth, N. S., Says His Body Will be Found in Pond.

(Halifax Echo, Tuesday.)

"I am of no use to anyone. You will find me in Allison's Pond."

Descending to the kitchen this morning shortly after her husband had left the house, Mrs. Reuben Hiltz, Hawthorne street, Dartmouth, found the above note written on a scrap of paper and lying on the untouched breakfast table. Mr. Hiltz had given no indication of unusual mental worry and had such a course was in his mind came as a terrible surprise and shock to his wife.

Mr. Hiltz, a highly respected citizen, spent practically all his life in Dartmouth. He was for over twenty years employed with the Acadia Sugar Refinery Company at the Woodside plant. During all the years he had never missed a day from work and was in good physical condition. About a week ago when business became very dull a number of the employees were laid off, including Mr. Hiltz. He spent part of the week fishing and was this morning to have gone to work with a Halifax construction company.

It had been the family custom to leave breakfast prepared the night before, Mr. Hiltz arising early, lighting the fire, and making tea for his breakfast. When this morning brought such a grim change to the habit of years, Mrs. Hiltz, suffering from shock, alarmed the neighbors and then collapsed.

A gang of men were rushed immediately to Allison's Pond, where dragging operations were commenced. It is a small ornamental pond on the grounds of Mr. J. Walter Allison and is situated a short distance above the shore. A picturesque little place with duck houses and surrounded by light trees, it is not very large or deep. Dragging operations began shortly after nine o'clock and continued until noon. Nets and grappling irons were used, but the body was not found. The greatest care was exercised by the men, who at the end of three hours' search announced that it was impossible for a body to be in the pond. The men shifted their operations to the head of Mott's wharf, Dartmouth Cove, very near Allison's Pond. A diver will explore the waters about the cove this afternoon.

Mr. Hiltz is about forty-five years of age and has four children.
