

HATS ARE MADE IN BRILLIANT COLORS WITH TILTED BRIMS

(New York Evening Post)

It is the privilege of the hat this season to be a bit erratic in its lines, a trifle inconsistent in its trimmings, somewhat contradictory in color principles, but wholly charming and irresistible. In other words, Paris is true to her belief that versatility and the modiste's art are interchangeable terms, broad as the world-wide sources of inspiration which are reflected in autumn and winter millinery.

The Correct Slant.

Tip-tilted effects are prominent in several of the dressy chapeaux, especially when composed of black velvet, of which Paris is inordinately fond this season. It is not so much the posing of the hat on the head to get the correctly slanting line as it is the method of placing the trimming wholly on one side to impart a suggestion of over-balance—a delightful drugging down of the brim by the fancied weight of ostrich plumes, of clusters of loops of sash ribbon, of bunches of cog feathers or festoons of beads.

The shaping of many brims to a greater width at the sides helps out the diagonal sweep of the hat brim. It is rather during, very dashing, and unquestionably effective, especially when the hat is worn with the afternoon dress of formal character. Almost without exception such a type of hat is included in the collections of the prominent modistes among the importations from France. It may be designated as the Gainsborough, brought quite up to date.

An unusual combination of materials is shown in a hat from the Rue Royale, with the crown and top of the upturned brim of navy blue velvet, the brim facing of soft white kid, elaborately embroidered with silver threads and black silk. About the base of the crown is draped a broad ribbon of grosgrain silk, of the same blue shade as the velvet, and finished with outstanding loops at one side. One is doubtful whether to put it in the category with dress hats or with sports headwear. Perhaps it is intended for women who like to include the latter among the winter chapeaux.

It is in this case it may be worn with the fur jacket, the cloth tailcoat, or the velvet frock.

Unique Use of Color.

The colors used are astonishing not alone for their brilliancy and seasonal appeal, but also because of their unusual association. And in this respect the small shapes of Elise should be given a place all their own. This modiste is very partial to leather, which is tooled and colored to give the effect of old opaque jewels overwrought with faint traceries of woad or silk—which seem to have been cast there by a spider.

artist. Elise also employs rose petals applied to the basic fabric of the hat with hand stitching, and confetti of velvet, satin or metal, is another unique media for the expression of color in the new headwear.

While black is overwhelmingly a favorite, and velvet the most popular material, there are certain exceptions that prove the general rule. Such an exception is a Lewis model of black hatters' plush with brim faced with blue ostrich feathers and strands of jet, the latter entwined here and there by great clutches of jet. Lewis has also designed a small hat of sapphire blue velvet, and directly in front has placed a great wing of the same brilliant shade that seems in imminent danger of taking flight at any moment and carrying the hat off with it. It is this very sense of nerve and the modeling that constitutes the charm of the model.

There could be no French season without the sweeping algrette. The new hats are not content to use only one, but two or more are lavished on both large and small shapes. The natural color has been revived, but black is usually preferred.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and more healthfully prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as good a result as this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain or flavored sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of cough syrup that you could buy better cough syrup than you could buy anywhere else and save easily $2. Tastes pleasant, and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty irritation, and heals the sore, irritated membrane so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, there is nothing better. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Eno's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate to the very air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly. It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffy and miserable.

HON. J. A. CALDER'S POSITION.

(Vancouver Sun.)

What is the exact political complexion of Hon. J. A. Calder? Probably he would find the question hard to answer himself. He is a member of the Meighen government, but is behaving something like a burglar who props open the back door so as to have a line of retreat.

When Mr. Calder joined the Unionist coalition in 1917 he was careful to explain, on many platforms, that the arrangement was only for the duration of the war. When the piping times of peace should once more return he would be back at the old stand.

Subsequent events have hardly borne out this promise. True, he is reported to have come pretty nearly wrecking the Borden combination at one stage by intriguing for the leadership. But for this he has presumably been forgiven because of his inspiration in inventing the name of the National Liberal and Conservative Party, a hybrid designation wide enough to shelter anybody.

Since performing this service he has been moving cautiously. He has avoided committing himself very definitely on the tariff, and has kept away from most of the meetings of the tariff commission, of which he is a member. It is noticeable, also, that in the 1920 edition of the Parliamentary Guide he describes himself as a Liberal.

This leaves Mr. Calder's admirers a little in the dark. He has the air of a cat poised for a jump but not quite sure where he might land. His present office is comfortable, but he fears it may not be permanent. He has a notion that if he were to stroll back to the Liberal camp his bland smile might be collected by somebody with a club.

A successful mother and daughter banquet was held last evening by the six C. G. T. T. girls of the German street Baptist church, with Miss Dorothy Hunt presiding. Toasts were proposed and responded to by Miss Mary Lewis, Mrs. S. S. Poole, Miss Ina Magnuson, Miss Helen McGowan, Miss Blanche Macdonald, Rev. S. S. Poole, Miss Margaret Golding, Donaldson Hunt, Miss Minnie Poole, Miss Hatfield, Miss Martine Belding, S. South, Miss Margaret Brown and Miss Florence Brown. Those who took part in the programme were: Miss Dorothy Hunt, Miss Phyllis Woods, Miss Bessie-Tyner and Miss Ethel McAdams. Miss Fern Balser was initiated as a new member.

HUNTER KILLED IN MAINE WOODS

Companion Could Not Find Body Till General Search Was Made.

Biddeford, Me., Oct. 30.—The body of Henry H. Gove, of this city, was found in woods near here late yesterday afternoon by a company of militia after John R. Bradford of New York who had accompanied him on a hunting trip, had reported that Gove had accidentally shot himself.

Bradford, a summer resident here, reported that Gove, who was hunting several yards ahead of him, appeared to fall, causing his gun to discharge. He said he then went to a nearby house for assistance, but the body was not found until a general search was instituted.

EXPLOSION BLOWS MAN CLEAR OUT OF BUILDING

Hamilton, Oct. 30.—David Corri, an operator in the D. P. & T. Co.'s power house at Stony Creek, was blown out of the building when lightning struck a large transformer, causing a sharp explosion, which blew a heavy door across the nearby creek, shattered windows and bulged the walls of the building. Corri was not injured. A heavy storm was prevailing at the time. Officials, while admitting that considerable damage was done, said the service was not likely to be affected.

THESE BEETLES EAT LEAD.

A sensation was caused some while ago by the discovery of a beetle that likes eating lead.

Considerable damage was being done to some lead-covered cables and it was found that the damage was caused by a beetle which bored into the lead casing.

Specimens of the beetle had been found in lead-foil packets of tea, and naturalists concluded that the insect was coming from India or China.

It is more probable, however, that the lead attracted the beetles.

Women of Middle Age

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change in her life without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, smothering spells, fainting spells, nervous troubles and irregularities are symptoms that should have prompt attention. These two letters prove what a successful remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women at this time of life.

These Two Women Helped During Change of Life.

Taunton, Mass.—"I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months, caused by female trouble. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for it."—Mrs. SARAH C. STAPLES, 157 B School St., Taunton, Mass.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I want to tell you know what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I had organic troubles and am going through the Change of Life. I was taken with a pain in my side and a bad headache. I could not lie down, could not eat or sleep. I suffered something terrible and the doctor's medicine did me no good at all—my pains got worse instead of better. I began taking the Vegetable Compound and felt a change from the first. Now I feel fine and advise any one going through the Change of Life to try it, for it cured me after I had given up all hopes of getting better. I will tell any one who writes to me the good it has done me."—Mrs. MARGARET DANZ, 743 N. 26th St., Philadelphia, Pa.
