HAS WON FAME IN SPORTING WORLD

Jack Clements of Gloucester County Here in Uniform—Has Met Big Men in The Squared Arena

Jack Clements, a well known light heavyweight pugilist and wrestler, was a visitor at the Times office yesterday.
The primary object of his visit was to learn the whereabouts of Joe Walcott, a former world's middleweight champion, who recently arrived in port on board a trans-Atlantic liner, and incidentally to become acquainted with the Sporting Editor and learn something about local conditions. He was garbed in khaki and wore the insignia of the 68th Battalion.
That he is making good in his new arena is evinced from the fact that he already has two stripes on his arm designating him as a corporal.

Corporal Clements is well known, at least by reputation, from coast to coast by followers of the ring, and although a young man has won quite a name for himself. He has engaged in forty-three professional bouts and never once took the count. He lost three decisions and one to Billy Miske, another to "Fighting" McKay, and the third to Frank Farmer. Billy Miske, who is conceded to be the king of the light heavies, was the only man who ever knocked him down. He went eight rounds with him and lost on a referee's decision. He decisively defeated Jack Kelly and many other notables in pugilistic circles.

What the war is over Corporal Clements intends to go after the championship and meanwhile, in order to keep his eye sharp and his body in condition, he issues an open challenge to meet any person of any weight, of any nationality or color to a bout for patriotic or any other purpose.
Corporal Clements is also a wrestler of note and has worked out with Dr.
Roller and other great exponents of the game. While Dr. Roller was training for his bout with Joe Stecher, which took place last year in Kansas City, Corporal Clements was his assistant and worked with him until the day of the fight. In doing so he acquired knowledge which he never would have gained otherwise. Speaking of the match, he said that Stecher is a great wrestler, and his scissors hold is a terror. If he is in good condition he predicts that Stecher will defeat Zayzyske in their bout which will take place in New York city on March 1.

In addition to meeting many of the leading light heavyweight boxers, Corporal Clements has worked out with Mike Gibbons, one of the greatest middleweight fighters that ever donned a glove. He defeated Heron in four rounds and Zayzyske in six. He has also defeated Joe Rivers, who is quite well known in this city.
Corporal Clements was born in St.
Joseph's, Gloucester county, N. B., and resided for many years in Campbellton.
He joined the states from coast to coast and is a friend of Jim Corbett, formerly heavy weight champion of the world, promoter Jack Curley and other notables. Four of his brothers are in Canadian military units overseas.

Keen Competition Between Bowling Teams—No. 4 Now In The Lead With No. 2 Second

The following is the result of the last two match games in the Telephone League on the Victoria alleys on Saturday night. No. 4 team captured four points from the No. 1 team and last night No. 3 team succeeded in "white washing" No. 1 team again. Both games were close and exciting and much interest was displayed by the bowlers and spectators. The summary follows: Saturday's Game.

	No. 4 Team	No. 1 Team
Duncan	70	79
McCarroll	70	73
McAllister	67	80
Dakin	61	78
Kee	51	87
Tracy	312	355
Total	302	385

The following is the standing of the various teams in the Telephone Bowling League:
Teams P.W. P.L. P.P. P.C. G.P.

No. 3 3 0 8124 250 3
No. 4 1 1 8178 916 3
No. 5 9 7 4238 559 4

This league has been formed among the employees of the telephone company, many of whom are followers of the game for the exercise they derive from playing. Although the scores made are not very large, nevertheless the games are just as interesting and enthusiastic as those of the professional players, although this is their first year at the game, have already developed into good bowlers, and no doubt next season will see them in faster company.
Following is a partial list of those averaging over 200—Marshall, 86 5-4; Len-son, 84 1-3; Wasson, 79; Fitzgerald, 79;
