AN BATHS' LATEST FAD OF LONDON FASHIONABLES

Edon, Aug. 12.—The latest medical craze is somewhat startling, but a certain seagull is always on the lookout for vats has pounced upon it with avidity. It is the airbath, not sunbath, and simply consists in exposing the body to the air for an hour each day. This is supposed to have a wonderful effect on the pores and to render the air bather immune from colds. The first to start the cure was M. Wehler, a well-known sportsman, daughter of Colonel McDonald, who is well known as the "champion director." Mrs. Wehler sits in her boudoir one hour each day writing letters in a state of nature. Mrs. Wehler plays everything from polo to croquet. She once convulsed the late King when she came up to receive a prize of £10,000 in connection with a gymnastic. Mrs. Wehler appeared before the King very disheveled and heated and in some way her scanty riding habit had become hitched up and stuck out straight behind like an exaggerated rudder. The King turned away at the spectacle and took no special pains to conceal his mirth. Lady Constance Stewart Richardson is another air bather, and the Duchess of Westminster is also credited with being an unhesitating devotee of the new cult. Purchaser (to street peddler)—Call these safety matches? Why, they won't light at all! Peddler—Well, you could try 'em safer?

QUICK PROSPERITY

A New York Police Inspector's Profits—Known to Have Got $62,000 a Year From Gambling and Disorderly Houses

New York, Aug. 10.—The "J. G. Cullom" who deposited $3,000 in a Newark bank last June was Lieut. Charles Becker.

The "H. C. Kennedy" who put $3,000 in an Elizabeth bank at about the same time was Lieut. Becker himself who took Lawyer John W. Hart and Notary Public Richard G. Barker to call on Jack Rose at Harry Pollok's house on the Wednesday night after the murder.

The Rosenthal murder investigation had to do yesterday almost entirely with the lieutenant, who is accused of murdering a gambler because of the fear that his profitable blackmailing would be exposed. A new discovery of the district attorney is that it was Becker himself who took Lawyer John W. Hart and Notary Public Richard G. Barker to call on Jack Rose at Harry Pollok's house on the Wednesday night after the murder. It was Becker who hired the notary. It was Becker who gave instructions as to affidavits to be secured not only from Rose but from Harry Pollok. Pollok, at Becker's request, was to have backed up Rose's statement that Becker was not a grafter, but Pollok, suspecting that Becker and Rose were implicated in a worse crime than grafting, kept away from home that night.

Stanich Saw It All While investigating Lieut. Becker's bank accounts and Becker's communications with Rose after the murder Mr. Whitman found time also to question Giovanni Stanich, an Austrian business man, who was in front of the Metropolitan when Rosenthal was shot down.

Stanich is the new witness whose story in some detail was printed a week ago, but whose name was withheld at the request of the district attorney. He not only identifies Jack Sullivan as the man who stood with the group of detectives when the shots were fired but as the man who walked leisurely with the pistolmen to the gray car. Stanich describes the slothfulness of the police immediately after the killing. Save only for the discovery that Becker took his lawyer, John W. Hart, to the fugitive Rose the district attorney was most interested in the story of the man who asked them to favor the candidature of the Labor candidate in an approaching by-election. The Liberal Middlesex Association did not appreciate the interference and nominated Alex. Shaw of Duferrine.

After a deposition made by Dr. Grenfell in St. John's, Newfoundland, yesterday, C. J. Cullom, superintendent of the Grenfell mission, was arrested and charged with misappropriation of the funds of that institute to the amount of $1,000. Different opinions are entertained in Canadian and English political circles regarding the proposed visit of Winston Churchill to Canada. By some it is stated that if he comes to Canada it will greatly retard the naval program and will be looked upon as an effort to exercise pressure in respect to the naval program.

French newspapers have come out in sympathy with Britain regarding the Panama protest against the action of the United States. The Temps, of Paris, says that the Americans would better serve their commercial interests by respecting their legal agreements. "Fidelity to a pledged word," says that journal, "is often sagacious."

WEDDINGS

At the parsonage of the Westbourne Baptist Church, Calgary, Aug. 2, the Rev. Alex. Torrie united in marriage George Tremblin Hutchings, formerly of Hampton (N. B.), and Edna Louise Williams, of Picton (Ont.). The happy pair will reside in Edmonton, where Mr. Hutchings is opening a wholesale tea, coffee and spice business.

Ancient Hidden Chamber

London, Aug. 12.—A fugitive's room has been discovered at the Fern Farm, near Mold, Flintshire, a building dating from the early part of the sixteenth century, and once the manor house of the Hartshill estate. While repairing an old fireplace and chimney the workmen accidentally uncovered a revolving stone. When this was moved it revealed a hidden chamber, which had been quite unknown to the inmates of the house. The room was fitted with antique oak furniture, including a table, on which were antiquated weapons and feeding utensils.

Killed at Norton

The body of Frederick McKinnon, I. C. R. baggage master at Norton, was found lifeless on Saturday evening a short distance from the station. It was terribly mangled, and it was thought that he had been run over by a train. The body was found by a party of young men returning from a dance, and was stumbled over by Vincent Cummings, one of the number. McKinnon lived with his widowed mother about a mile from Norton, and it is supposed that he was walking the tracks on his way home, when a train struck him and killed him. An inquest will be held.
