Flood, of the Irish Royal Artillery was the winner of the Hopton Challenge Cup.

and he used the Canadian Ross rifle throughout the competition from which the Hopton aggregate is taken, thus adding to the prestige of that weapon. The winner of the Clements Cup, which is the gift of F. M. Clements, of Sydney, Australia, was Sgt. Smyth, of the Limited Provincial Horse. Sgt. Carmichael, Calgary, was ninth in this competition, winning twenty shillings. Lieut. Spittal, of Bowmanville, thirteenth, each winning twenty shillings.

In the Schumacher, a squadded competition associated with the second stage of the Conna Doyle at 800 and 1,000 yards, the winner of the first prize of five pounds was Corporal Jeffries, of the Royal Marine Light Infantry. CITY ENGINEER INJURED.
For more than an hour on Saturday evening City Engineer Wm. Murdoch was unconscious in the office of Dr. W. F. Roberts in North End, as the result of having been thrown from his carriage in which he and Mrs. Murdoch had been driving. The horse was a spirited one, and when near the corner of Main street, got beyond the engineer's control, overturning the carriage with its occupants. Mr. Murdoch suffered a temporary concussion of the brain, and was painfully injured, but his wife was not severely hurt. It is expected that Mr. Murdoch will speedily recover.

Calais Won
The Marshtowns were defeated at Calais on Saturday by a score of 11 to 2. Sweet pitched for the Calais, but received poor support. Ryan twirled for the winners.

The game was protested by Manager Donald on ground of violation of the ground rules, the ball going among the crowd on a throw from first to third.

St. John's Victorious
The St. John's took the Woodstock team into camp here on Saturday to the tune of 12 to 5. The game was fairly interesting, but was marked by much kicking on the part of the visitors. In the first of the game Keany the Woodstock shortstop, started in to fight Eddie Ramsay, the latter having run into him unintentionally. Later on another Woodstock player ran at Umpire Stubbs because he was called out at second base. This sort of thing would not be tolerated for a moment in any of the big leagues, and if justice had been done at least two of the Woodstock team would have been put out of the game. The Saints played a good game throughout, and batted two pitchers out of the box. The game was called in the eighth inning in order to allow the visitors to catch a train.

New Local Record.
Match play against Col. Bogle was the event of the local links on Saturday, and a large field of players turned out. The feature of the day was the making of a new record for nine holes by Andrew Jack, who did his first round in 32. Clarence Sprague held the record up to Saturday with 33. Mr. Jack's play was remarkably steady and true. There was not a fluke or a lucky shot in his round. He made eight holes in 17 and two in five more, despite a rather poor lie on his drive. His card for the nine holes follows here:

	Holes.	Yards.	Bogle.	Jack.
1 Long Acre .....	4	150	4	4
2 Castor .....	3	155	3	3
3 Hill Top .....	3	215	3	3
4 Point .....	4	180	4	4
5 Halfway .....	4	240	4	4
6 Triangle .....	4	175	4	4
7 Tins .....	3	140	3	3
8 Birch Tree .....	4	235	4	4
9 Home .....	5	340	5	5
Totals .....	2,000	36	32	32

His handicap gave him a stroke on the Colonel at Nos. 2 and 7. He was six up on Bogle in his first round, and two up in his second round, leaving him four up for the eighteen holes. This is the best golf score here.

Frederick Reekwood is expected here tonight to spend a week or two here as professional coach.

Cricket
A Big Week
New York, July 16.—The flower of Canada's cricket players invaded the United States today with a ten-day campaign ahead, during which they expect to gather fresh laurels in contests with Americans in this city and Philadelphia.

The New York and New Jersey clubs, the New York veteran cricketers and the Canadian States League cricket club are on this week's card. A two-day match with the Philadelphia cricket club is planned for next week. Among the visitors is the famous Toronto cricket club eleven.

The Turf
Brought $36,750.
London, July 17.—Sir William Bass' famous brood mare Sceptre has been bought by Tattersalls for $36,750. This was the third occasion on which the daughter of Oranston and Oranston has appeared in an auction ring. The first time she was a yearling and was bought by Mr. Sievier for the record sum of 10,000 guineas. Her next appearance "under the hammer" was in the autumn of her three-year-old career, after she had won all the classic races except the Derby.

This year she had been trained to win the Lincolnshire handicap, and for eight months she was kept hard at work. Consequently when she appeared in the ring at Detmar morning at Newmarket she looked but a shadow of her former self. Mr. Sievier placed a reserve of 24,000 guineas on her, and there was no higher bid. The following March Sceptre again competed, and was beaten in the Lincolnshire handicap, and immediately afterwards she was sold privately to Sir then Mr. William Bass, for $100,000.

AMUSEMENTS IN ST. JOHN.
WHAT THE PLAYHOUSES OFFER

THE UNIQUE
The drama "From Death to Life," to be shown at the Unique Theatre today and Tuesday, contains a story unique at the same time interesting and plausible and is expected to be ranked with the best of photoplays. The scenic grandeur of this feature is declared to be worthy of the highest praise. This Lordship's Hunting Trip, a "Bioscope comedy," tells a rather amusing tale in the manner in which a lord is received in the "wild and woolly" by a gang of cowboys. The education department contains the weekly review of current happenings from all over the world, and is a most interesting study. Betty Dean, the winsome soprano, has a sort of a novelty number for today, the ragtime melody, Louise Anna Lou.

THE LYRIO
A good ventriloquist is always a welcome addition to a programme, and the management of the Lyrio Theatre believe they have been fortunate in securing the services of Christine, who is said to be one of the best in his line, for the first three days of this exhibition. The exhibition of ventriloquism as will be exploited by Christine, is declared away out of the ordinary and a strong vein of good will, some comedy is used to advantage throughout the act. He uses several figures, and their funny life like antics are Bioscope to prove most amusing. There are four pictures in today's programme, each one full of interest.

THE STAR
The first picture to be shown at the Star theatre this week is a drama taken from a story in the region now known as Calais, which was written by the famous rule in the early thirties. The picture is entitled "The Haven of Refuge," a production of the Selig Company. The Sheriff's Chum, a story of two western chaps who have been chums from boyhood and through an induction of the Sheriff's chum, a very interesting drama is brought about. This picture is declared of extraordinary strength. It is by the Essanay Company. Those of the Star patrons who witness the third picture on the programme will have stored enough good wholesome fun to last for a long time. The title is "How Spriggins Took Lodgers," and it is a jolly farce played in the spirit of rollicking good humor. The Edison Company are the contributors. Miss Newington will start the week in costume songs. She has secured three late American song hits for this week.

THE GEM
"The Still Alarm," is the title of what is declared the greatest sensational motion picture produced at the Gem Theatre since the "Runaway Engine" was shown, and patrons who remember that striking picture are assured that "The Still Alarm" has even more fascinating qualities. It is the romantic story of a courageous fire laddie, the son of a blacksmith in love with a broker's daughter, of his being turned down by the father, but eventually redeeming himself through the medium of the still alarm. When the home of his sweetheart is wrapped in flames. The fire scenes are particularly realistic, and the whole Selig production is announced as a masterpiece of motion picture work. Other pictures of attraction are a Bioscope story of life among the Corsican gypsies, "A Romany Tragedy," and two merry-making comedies, "Dusty Rhodes' Flight," and "Twin Cinderellas." Bob Delay sings Fifty Years Ago; the orchestra has new numbers, and special bills are announced for the silver spoon matinee on Wednesday.

cameo that she had once worn. The following day she received from her young friend a letter of enthusiastic thanks. This is too, too beautiful! etc.

"She is making sport of my little present," thought the good duchess. Then came a second letter, this time from the husband who was to be: "How can we thank you? We are delighted! This will spoil us."

"The impudent fellow," said the duchess, "he wants me to understand that I have been niggardly."

Nevertheless she went to pay a visit to the R's before the marriage. There, in the midst of her presents, exposed in a most prominent place, she saw the little cameo placed upon her card. An old gentleman approached her. He is a member of the academy of inscriptions and belles lettres.

"What a wonderful present you have given these children, Mme. la Duchesse," he said. "For forty years we have been seeking for this very cameo. It is of the era of Trajan, and this trinket is valued at 200,000 francs."

Ah, the poor duchess.—From Le Cri de Paris.

Not the Gift She Intended
Recently when the wealthy Mlle. de R. was to be married, one of our good duchesses had to make her a present. Just a little present. The duchess thought it would be useless to expend much money for a person so rich. She thought if she would look through her vast mansion she would be able to find something, some trinket, to which the addition of her card would give sufficient glory. She finally found in her writing desk an insignificant
