ILLUSTRATED ANGLES ON PEOPLE AND EVENTS IN WORLD NEWS

QUICK, SOMEONE, A CONTRACT!

Queenie Thomas, who has been delighting stage audiences in London with her beauty, plans to come to America if she can get a contract. London critics call her the most beautiful English actress.

THROUGH UNCHARTED LANES

Many thrills were witnessed by those in the great open spaces at the Belle Fourche roundup. Here we have Earl Garcia, broncho buster, sailing through the air when his mount, Black Serpent, tired of carrying him.

YEP, SPRING'S HERE

When the thermometer rose to 57 the horses at the state armory in Boston, Mass., began to canter and frolic.

CHARLIE ADMITS THAT HE IS FUNNY

Charley Chaplin, noted film comedian, is shown as he appeared on the witness stand in Los Angeles during a trial in which he sought to prevent Charles Amador, inset, from imitating him on the screen. Charley admitted he was funny and protested having his antics copied.

COUNT

Count Michael Karolyi, the first president of Hungary (now deposed), the entrance of whose wife into the United States was protested on the grounds of alleged communist activities, has arrived in New York to visit her, she having been ill with typhoid fever.

OPPOSES "MA."

Rev. Earl Anderson of Dallas, Tex., says the Bible forbids "Ma" Ferguson or any other woman from holding a public office. He donned woman's attire in his pulpit and quoted passages from the Bible to prove his point. The women came right back with a few quotations to prove Anderson is wrong.

AN "APEX"

Mrs. Helen Paul Purdy of Tulsa, Okla., found herself a part of a fatal "triangle" in her divorced husband, G. E. Purdy, shot and killed E. S. Hutchinson, wealthy Tulsa lumberman, whom he claimed broke up his home.

NEXT ROYAL MARRIAGE?

Prince Henry, third son of the King of England, and Lady Mary Scott, youngest daughter of the Duke of Buccleuch, whose names have been coupled in English society for the next marriage in the royal family. These intimate photos were made on the prince's recent visit to the estate of the Duke of Buccleuch in Scotland.

MODERN PRODICAL

Lieutenant Osborne C. Wood, who is in want in Europe, and his bride on their wedding day and (inset) Wood's latest photo with his baby.

HUSKY-DOG-SLED CHAMPION

Emil St. Goddard, driver of the winning team in the Eastern International Dog-sled Derby at Quebec, with "Yukon," his best dog, winner of the Balto trophy donated by Mrs. Edward T. Clark, of Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., in commemoration of the lead dog in the team which carried supplies of anti-toxin into Nome, Alaska recently, in the face of heavy odds and abnormally severe weather conditions. "Yukon" was considered the best representative of the husky breed entered in the Quebec race.

WHERE TWO WERE KILLED

This photo was made just a few minutes after a Philadelphia local train crashed into the rear of the Atlantic Coast Line express at Manhattan Transfer, Newark, N. J. Joseph Patrick and George Huber, railroad inspectors, were killed and more than a score of passengers were seriously injured. The injured were in a diner on the rear of the express when the local engine plowed into it.

MERRY WINTER DAYS IN QUEBEC

Looking down the toboggan chute towards the Chateau Frontenac. Inset—E. Des Balleys, well known figure in the field of winter sports, who is winter sports director at the Chateau Frontenac. He has charge of activities there for the season.

LANDING COAL FOR IRELAND

THIS SHOULD MAKE A WILDCAT WILD

"Kid" Johnston, an ex-prize fighter, who in his day could "lick his weight in wild-cats," keeps his hand in by capturing and training these animals. Here he is with a hundred pounds of full-grown mountain lion which he has taught to pull a four-wheeled contraption through the streets of Manhattan, N.Y. He always gets the right of way.
