The U. N. B. hockey team accompanied by a number of supporters passed through the city at noon today on their way to Sackville, where they will play the Mount Allison team. After the game they will return direct to Fredericton.

At White's restaurant this evening a dinner will be held by natives of Prince Edward Island now living in St. John. It has been found impossible on the part of the committee in charge to personally see all the former Islanders now here and those who have not been called upon are requested to attend without further notice. The affair takes place at nine o'clock.

The improved sleighing has given many of the country people an opportunity to get into the city and considerable country produce has been brought to the market. The storm today frightened some of those in the city who did not fancy being blockaded by drifts and a large number set out for home through the snow.

LAKE MICHIGAN GONE;

BENGORE HEAD GOING

And the Manchester Importer Here With a Heavy Cargo—Story of Bengore Head's Experience.

She will sail shortly after midnight with a large general cargo. One of the officers of the steamer has lately completed a story on the recent experience of the steamer off the Newfoundland coast. He intends to publish his account.

GOVERNMENT AID FOR ETHNOLOGICAL RESEARCH

Canadian Branches of Archaeological Institute Will Utilize—Mr. McCaskill Returns.

Rev. J. J. McCaskill returned today from Ottawa, where he attended the meeting of the Council of the Canadian Branch of the American Institute of Archaeology, while in Ottawa he was one of a delegation which waited on the government to urge that some support should be given to the study of ethnology in Canada. They were received very cordially by the government and it is probable that a permanent secretary will be appointed to prosecute this work. If appointed he will be connected with the Department of geological survey.

At the meeting of the Council it was decided to organize all the Canadian branches in one unit in order to secure more concerted work.

TWO FIRES IN THE ONE HOUSE; DAMAGE SLIGHT

R. N. Dean Found Gas Leak With a Match

Burned a Hole Up to the Roof—Another Fire in the Same Building This Morning.

The fire department was called out yesterday afternoon at 5:59 o'clock and this morning at 8:05 o'clock for fires in Richard N. Dean's three story building at 28, 30, James street. The damage to the building will not exceed one thousand dollars.

The basement is occupied by Hedley Watson and while his furniture is somewhat damaged by water the loss to him will be great as his property was well covered by the Salvage Corps. Mr. Watson's loss is a carpet and some other articles amounting to about one hundred dollars. He had no insurance.

Mr. Dean resided on the ground floor and had $700 insurance on his furniture. The damage will not be more than half the amount it is insured for. James Daley, I. R. C. conductor, resides on the upper flat and had his furniture insured for $50 in The Royal Company. The damage done to Mr. Daley's furniture will not exceed two hundred dollars.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Dean thought there was an escape of gas, and entering Mr. Watson's apartments he lighted a match. When he touched the match to a gas jet there was a flash of flame in a few minutes the fire had worked up through the walls. An alarm was sent in from box 45 and the department quickly responded. The fire worked up through the wall in the center of the house, along a portion of the ceiling and finally through a small section of the roof. The only damage by fire and by the tearing of the ceiling and walls was in this section of the house. It took about an hour's work before the all out blow was sent in. There was considerable damage by water in this section of the building. The fire was up on the eastern side of the house.

This morning at 8:05 o'clock the alarm again sounded and the firemen found that Mr. Dean's house was once more on fire. This time the fire was on the western side of the building but in the center of the house like the first fire. A large hole was torn in the side of the building, some portions of the ceiling and walls were torn away and there was more damage by water.

The parlors in the front of the house, the bedrooms and the ell of the building with the kitchens were not damaged by fire, while in the kitchens there was considerable water. The damage was slight. The furnishings in the parlors and bedrooms will only be damaged by smoke.

The dining room furnishings were ruined and covered by the Salvage Corps and are not much damaged.

Mr. Dean has $1000 insurance with the Western Insurance Company and $500 with the Equity Company. The cause of this morning's fire is not known.

RULES FOR EXHIBITORS AT THE BIG FALL FAIR

No Slipshod or Go-as-you-please Arrangements Allowed—Free Space to All—A Fine Lot of Regulations.

The first proof sheets of the Dominion Exhibition booklet of rules and regulations contain among other things the following gems of information to intending exhibitors:

All applications for space must be in the hands of the management by June 1st. A $5.00 fee must accompany all applications.

Allocations of spaces will be made commencing June 1st, and all things being equal the first application will naturally receive the first consideration.

Entries arriving after June 2nd will deal with according to the space remaining. It must be thoroughly understood that there will be no measurement rate of paying for a space this year, the $5.00 entry fee being the expense.

To assure the completion of exhibits at an early date so that the opening days of the Exhibition may not be marred with construction noises and incomplete displays the board of directors reserves the right to declare any space cancelled if the exhibitor fails to have it in order by Friday, September 2nd.

Every facility will be afforded exhibitors for the taking of orders, but there must be no delivery of goods, except in special instances when the full permission of the management is granted. No price tickets or markings will be allowed except in special cases, and the regulation of sign boards, display cards, etc., will be carefully regulated.

No gasoline or explosives of any kind will be allowed in the buildings. Driving nails and cutting holes are also prohibited. Platforms in the erection of booths must not be higher than seven inches. Uniformity in this matter is desired.

The strict observance of a rule prohibiting the distribution of hand bills, business cards, and other printed matter throughout the buildings and grounds will check what has in the past been drawback to the cleanliness of Exhibitions.

The immigration and steamer officials left at noon today for Halifax to meet the Congress of Ireland. This is the first trip the big steamer has made since her accident and the first to St. John this winter.

In addition to the match between the Tigers and Sussex this evening at the Opera, two other hockey games will take place. The Robbies septette will clash with the Giants, while two picked teams will furnish a match.
