

This and That

MOTHER'S SONG.

My heart is like a fountain true
That flows and flows with love to you.
As chirps the lark unto the tree
So chirps my pretty babe to me,
And it's O! sweet, sweet! and a lullaby.

There's not a rose where'er I seek
As comely as my baby's cheek.
There's not a comb of honey-bee
So full of sweets as babe to me,
And it's O! sweet, sweet! and a lullaby.

There's not a star that shines on high
Is brighter than my baby's eye.
There's not a boat upon the sea
Can dance as baby does to me,
And it's O! sweet, sweet! and a lullaby.

No silk was ever spun so fine
As is the hair of baby mine—
My baby smells more sweet to me
Than smells in spring the elder tree.
And it's O! sweet, sweet! and a lullaby.

A little fish swims in the well,
So in my heart does baby dwell.
A little flower blows on the tree,
My baby is the flower to me,
And it's O! sweet, sweet! and a lullaby.

The Queen has a scepter, crown and ball,
You are my scepter, crown and all.
For all her robes of royal silk,
More fair your skin, as white as milk.
And it's O! sweet, sweet! and a lullaby.

Ten thousand perks where deer run,
Ten thousand roses in the sun,
Ten thousand pearls beneath the sea,
My baby more precious is to me,
And it's O! sweet, sweet! and a lullaby.

West of England Lullaby.

PROMPT PAYMENT.

A capital story is told of an old Methodist minister, who believed in improving every opportunity to "sow the good seed." Traveling along a country road one day his horse lost a shoe, and the minister stopped at the next blacksmith's shop to have the damage repaired. Several loafers were about the shop. The minister told them who he was, inquired their names and occupations, and had a cheery talk with them. When the horse was shod he asked what was to pay, and the blacksmith said carelessly:

"Oh, nothing; just remember me in your prayers."

"Very well," said the minister promptly. "As my motto is 'pay as you go,' I'll just settle the bill now."

Down on his knees he went, and the loafers and the blacksmith could not help following his example.

CHINESE GAMES.

A missionary, writing of the girls in the school in China under her care, speaks of their games, which, she says, are their own, and yet exactly like games at which American or English children play, except that in "battledore" they use their feet instead of their hands.

"Knuckle-bones" is played exactly as boys play it in England, only they use stones. "Hunt the Slipper" is also just the same. The Chinese, too, have the most beautiful swings—and such kites! I wish you could see them!

EXPERT TESTIMONY

Coffee Tried And Found Guilty.

No one who has studied its effects on the human body can deny that coffee is a strong drug and liable to cause all kinds of ills, while Postum is a food drink and a powerful re-builder that will correct the ills caused by coffee when used steadily in place of coffee.

An expert who has studied the subject says: "I have studied the value of foods and the manufacture of food products from personal investigation and wish to bear testimony to the wonderful qualities of Postum Cereal Coffee. I was an excessive coffee drinker, although I knew it to be a slow poison. First it affected my nerves and then my heart but when I once tried Postum I found it easy to give up the coffee, confirmed coffee fiend though I was."

"Postum satisfied my craving for coffee and since drinking Postum steadily in place of coffee all my troubles have disappeared and I am again healthy and strong."

"I know that even where coffee is not taken to excess it has had effects on the constitution in some form or other and I am convinced by my investigation that the only thing to do if health and happiness are of any value to one is to quit coffee and drink Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

called 'Mothers and Fathers,' and another called 'Keeping School?' Here we have just the same.

"These Chinese know no end of riddles, both spoken and written, and they have all kinds of puzzles."

"They have a funny way of choosing who shall be 'he' in a game. One of them holds her hands out with the open palm downward; then all the others stand around with the tips of their fingers touching her palm; then, after repeating a few words, she suddenly closes her fingers and tries to catch theirs. Sometimes she fails to catch one, and then it has to be done again; but if she does manage to imprison one finger, the owner of that finger has to be 'he'."—Ex.

"THAT'S WHAT I'M HERE FOR"

It was the uniformed porter who said it, as he smiled pleasantly on the woman whose bundles he had started to carry for her. The station was full of travelers, hurrying to and from their trains, but the porter was not in the least hurried. He was quiet, ready, helpful; and he found a seat for the woman in the right car, and repeated, as she thanked him for his trouble, "That's what I'm here for, madam, all day long; just to see that people get aboard all right." Then he went back to the gate, and promptly helped somebody else to another train. Cheery and pleasant, he carried babies, lifted heavy bags, reassured nervous people who were afraid the train would start without them, and made himself generally helpful, hour after hour.

"That's what I'm here for." The cheerful words carried an unconscious message. The porter's lot was not a very pleasant one. Perhaps he, too, longed to travel away from the hot city to the sea or the woods, yet all the year round he was shut within the crowded station, with its tracks and platforms. Few thanked him for helping them, and he could hardly have been blamed if he had been a trifle cross over his work. But he had no such thought; he was there to be helpful, and his heart was in his work.

The woman who had been helped to her seat by him thought it over as the train rolled away. She was one who had carried many burdens for other people, and had had few thanks. She seemed to herself to have spent her life in starting other people off where they wanted to go, and stayed behind herself; and, lately, she had felt rebellious about it. But the young porter's word started a new line of thought. "That's what I'm here for," she said to herself, "and it isn't my business to complain or to question. If he can do his day's work in that hearty spirit, I guess I can too," and she felt her heart lighter than for many a day. The porter did not know it, but he had preached a whole sermon in five words that afternoon.—Michigan Christian Advocate.

TRUE GIVING.

Dr. Miller tells the story of Henry Thornton, who was a most generous giver to good causes. A visitor called on him one day and asked for a special subscription for missions, and he made out a check for twenty-five dollars. Before the ink was dry, a messenger boy came in with a telegram. Mr. Thornton opened it, and the visitor noticed that his face turned very pale and his hand trembled. He said to the visitor, "I have received terrible news. I have lost thousands of dollars. Give me back that check." It was hard to give it back, so, of course, the visitor expected to see it torn up. But Mr. Thornton, on receiving it, changed the twenty-five dollars to two hundred and fifty dollars, saying, "God has taught me that I may not much longer possess my property, and I must use it well." That man had chosen the true way to contentment. Contentment is always possible when we keep an open mind to be taught of God, and realize that in everything we are his stewards.

BOWEL TROUBLES.

Dr. Radway—For 30 years we have been using your medicine (Ready Relief and Pills) always getting the desired result, and we can truly say that they are worth ten times their weight in gold. Especially so in a climate like ours where all kinds of fevers are raging the year around, and where bowel troubles, such as dysentery, are epidemic. I have converted hundreds of families to the use of your remedies, and now they would no more be without them than their family Bible. I am now 73 years old, hale and hearty, and would like your advice regarding my hearing, that has been troubling me lately, etc., etc.
