NATIONAL TENNIS TOURNAMENT IS EXPECTED TO MARK NEW ERA IN SPORT

From all sides one hears the thought expressed in various ways that the thirty-fifth holding of the annual national lawn tennis championship tournament is to mark a new era in the American game. There is not a doubt, however, that the great tournament, with its 128 entries, on the turf of the West Side Tennis Club, at Forest Hills, Long Island, will be remarkable. This is the first competition for the American honors ever held away from the Casino at Newport, R. I. While the setting has much to contribute to a tournament it is, after all, the players and the eager intensity with which they strive for the laurels which is the most important feature. Of all the great wielders of the racket who may advance so far as to contend for the finals none is attracting more attention than Maurice E. McLoughlin. He has been critically watched and studied during his playing at Seabright, where he yielded to Karl H. Bahr, and at Newport, where he fell before the attack of R. Norris Williams, 2d. It may be stated that McLoughlin desires with all the intensity that is in him to win the national singles at the tournament his year.

ONLY ONE SWATSMITH WHO CAN PLACE HITS

When should a catcher call for a pitchout? Is the waste ball a good defence? These two questions were recently put to Hugh Jennings, manager of the Detroit Tigers. His reply was:

"There is only one out-and-out reliable hit-and-run batter in the American league. That is Eddie Foster, of the Washington club. With only one such consistent hitter and runner why should catchers be so prone to call for pitchouts?"

"Two of the best catchers who ever lived were Duke Farrell and Wilbert Robinson. Seldom did either call for a pitchout, except when Willie Keeler was at bat, for he could hit to any field."

Tends to Wildness.
"My belief is that the waste ball should be called for but rarely, and never if the pitcher shows a tendency to be wild. There is an opposite rule to be followed as well, which is never hit and run when the pitcher is wild, as a base on balls is much more to be desired than the chance of poking a ball through vacated territory."

"I have known instances where there was a wild pitcher in the box, and the team at bat hung out the hit-and-run sign so that it could be read by a blind man. Why? They wanted the catcher to see the sign and to call for pitchouts, knowing it was a hard job for the pitcher to get it over as it was, and that a few waste balls would have him up in the air completely, and either passing the batters or grooving the ball for them."

Cobb Never Uses It.

"Of course, I do not know much about the National league batters, so I cannot speak for the old league. But I do know that the batters in our league do not practice hit and running. Ty Cobb is the greatest hitter the world has known, but he is no hit-and-run batter, for the reason he has not given it any attention to speak of. The tendency of all the would-be hit-and-run batters is to hit the ball as hard as they can, and trust to luck to it going safely. The true hit and runner, like Foster, however, has the knack of just meeting the ball and making a real effort to hit it through the territory vacated by the fielder who goes over to cover the base."

"But, up to date, the hit-and-run play as it is attempted in the American league, is little to be feared."

GRAND
IN QUEBEC

Yonkers, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Over a track which trainers estimated to be from three to four seconds slow, Directum I. paced a mile in 2:02 1/4 at the Grand Circuit meeting at Empire City Park here today. His performance under the circumstances was regarded as one of the best he has ever made. Starting to beat his own unequalled record of 1:58, without a windshield, he paced the first quarter in 32, the second in 34 1/2, the third in 31, and the fourth in 29.

The star performer in the other events was the 3-year-old filly, Miss Harris M., winner of the pacing division of the national championship stake. Driven by Lou McDonald, she reeled off the second heat in 2:07 1/4, convincing horsemen that on a firm, fast track she can beat 2:05.
