THE WATER PRESSURE. A blowout developed yesterday morning in No. 3 main and the water had to be shut off at seven o'clock. This brought the pressure at Leinster street down to 19 pounds from a normal pressure of 25 to 30 pounds.

AT THE TABERNACLE. A large crowd last evening listened to the earnest and interesting message delivered by Mr. George E. Knight at the Tabernacle. There was a fine spirit in the meeting and some responded to the invitation and accepted Christ.

A splendid testimony service followed and solos were rendered by Peter C. Murray and Mr. Knight.

LARGELY ATTENDED MEETING. At a largely attended meeting in the Carleton Methodist church last evening, presided over by the pastor, Rev. J. Heaney, the Rev. H. A. Goodwin, secretary of evangelism and social service, delivered a timely address on "The Church's Task and the Necessary Equipment." A feature of the musical programme was a solo by Mrs. D. Burnstrom.

STEAMER PRINCE ARTHUR. It was announced yesterday that the steamer Prince Arthur would take the place of the Empress on the Digby-St. John route, while the latter was off having her furnaces changed over to oil burners. It is understood she will be taken off on April 24 and be laid up for three weeks.

SURPRISE PARTY. The home of Mrs. M. A. Good, 504 Waterloo street, was invaded by a number of her friends on Tuesday evening last, who called to honor the anniversary of her birth. A very pleasant evening was spent in various games. The hostess was pleasantly surprised when a member of the party presented her with a fine rocking chair and some beautiful linen. Delightful refreshments were served during the evening.

NOT YET APPREHENDED. Harry Bailey, who escaped Monday night from the Fredericton jail, where he was being held on a charge of theft, committed in this city, has not yet been apprehended. After leaving the cell he returned the keys to the hook, and made good his escape.

The treasurer reported receipts totaling $6,490.61 and expenditures amounting to $5,808.62, with a credit balance on hand of $681.99. The members decided that an increase in dues was necessary, and an initiation fee was also decided upon. The election of officers resulted as follows:

W. E. Golding—President.
George L. Warwick—Vice-President.
Directors—F. J. Likely, D. W. Ledingham, D. W. Puddington, H. W. Bling, Fred F. Mackin.

Another Good Day For Motor Show

Large Attendance Yesterday — Interesting Address by Rev. R. G. Fulton on "Development of Sport."

Another successful day for the motor show was yesterday and the fine exhibits of automobiles excited a keen interest among the large number who attended. Every one of the exhibitors had extra salesmen on hand and at that they were hardly able to wait on all the prospective buyers, and all were not prospective buyers as was evinced by the "sold" signs to be seen on some of the cars.

The accessory exhibits came in for a good deal of attention and the many refinements of motor travel, in the way of outfits, had an attentive audience. The "Red Indian" booth with its tasteful decorations setting forth in lurid red signs the many advantages their oil possessed for perfect lubrication and the fact that it was "All Canadian" was a source of attraction for every visitor. Messrs W. H. Thorne and Co. in their exhibit had everything needed by the motorist for his comfort and pleasure.

Yesterday's programme included music by Jones' Orchestra, solos by E. C. Gilvan and an address by Rev. R. G. Fulton on "Development of Sport." The tea room operated by Fundy Chapter, I. O. D. E., was well patronized.

Rev. Mr. Fulton was introduced by F. W. Coombe, as the son of a man who had been instrumental in making the name of St. John known all over the world. Robert Fulton of the famous Paris Crew, champion oarsman of the world.

The speaker in opening, said it might seem strange to some who had not the true idea of sport, that a minister should speak on this subject, but when they got the right viewpoint it was the most natural thing in the world. Sport did not apply only to physical man but to man as a whole, rightly understood, and applied, it built up his mental and moral nature as well, and it was in this connection he wished to deal with the subject.

A love of true sport was born in him and his earliest recollections were of men who loved sport for its own sake, and who had always played the game square, and his definition of sport was, something in which we find pleasure and at the same time build up a strong physical man and a strong moral nature. To illustrate what he meant he told a story of the world he golfer who broke three clubs and was unable to hit the ball. The trouble with him was that his eye had not been trained and his judgment had not been developed. Time spent in training the eye and developing the judgment was well spent, and helped a man in all the activities of life. It enabled him to outguess the other fellow, for the man who had learned through his sport to judge truly, and act promptly, carried the same ability into his business and was thereby made a more valuable man. It had been said that England's battles were won on her playing fields, and this was true, for it was there her soldiers received the mental and physical equipment that carried them through.

Clean sport made a better man and brought his body under the control of his mind and was one of the first things in the building of character. He had no use for the milk and water saint, but liked to see every man go in for good clean, healthy sport.

In closing he, as a St. John man, urged those present to keep up their interest in good clean sports of all kinds and to help our athletes. He urged that Milton Belyea be given a good send off when he started out on June of this year, and to help the juniors in the rowing game, men who would in time bring other championships to St. John.

"Red Letter" Day in G. W. V. A. Circles

R. B. Maxwell, Dominion President, Will Arrive Today — Addresses Public Meeting Tonight.

This is a "Red-Letter" day in local G. W. V. A. circles, the St. John Branch having as their guest R. B. Maxwell the Dominion President of the organization. Mr. Maxwell, who yesterday visited the Fredericton Branch via the Valley trail at 12:30 p.m. and he met at the depot by a committee from the local branch consisting of Pres. S. C. Tippec, Vice Pres. Dr. G. B. Peat, Secretary Alex. I. Machan and Messrs. W. W. Donahue, J. V. Shea and A. C. Ellis. After lunch he will be shown the points of interest about the city and meet the executive of the local branch at the G. W. V. A. rooms, Wellington Row, at 4:30 p.m. At 6 p.m. he will be the guest of the executive at dinner at the Union Club after which will address a public meeting at the G. W. V. A. Assembly Hall, speaking on matters of prime interest not only to returned soldiers but as well to citizens generally, who are cordially invited to attend the meeting. Mr. Maxwell is a speaker of considerable ability and as a leader of returned soldiers has an exceptional record. He is now serving his second term as Dominion Pres. of the G. W. V. A. of which he was one of the founders. He represented the Canadian ex-servicemen at the Empire Conference at Cape Town, South Africa in February of last year when the British Empire Service League, under the chairmanship of Earl Haig, was formed and again was a representative of Canada's ex-soldiers at the National Convention of the American Legion at Kansas City last fall when that body was addressed also by Marshal Poch and Admiral Beatty. An interesting programme of musical nature has been arranged for tonight's meeting in conjunction with President Maxwell's address and a large attendance is expected. Leo Duffy, a former St. John boy, now head of the musical section of the Dominion Command of the G. W. V. A. at Ottawa is re-visiting his home in the City and is expected to accompany President Maxwell in today's activities.

Natural History Society Museum

Collection Greatly Augmented by Addition of Many Interesting Curios and Other Features.

The collection at the Natural History Society's Museum has been greatly augmented recently by the addition of many interesting curios and collections of birds, mammals and other natural interest. All these gifts are exceptionally good in their nature, and the society is to be congratulated on getting them. The curator, Dr. William McIntosh, has been kept busy recently making room for the additions to the collection, and the museum presents a very attractive appearance.

Among the donations made to the society in the last few days was an interesting model of a full-rigged ship of the type built in St. John between 1885 and 1890, the time when the wooden ship building industry in this city was on the wane. The model is eighteen inches long, constructed of mahogany, and complete in every detail of equipment. The donor, having seen the other vessels on exhibition in the museum, and noticing that the collection lacked a model of this description, went to considerable trouble in constructing the ship in order to make the series complete.

Two fine oil paintings have been loaned to the society by Mrs. W. C. Wood, one a picture of Moses and the other a portrait. The pictures have been viewed by several local connoisseurs and have been pronounced to be of exceptionally good quality, especially the painting of Moses. Both pictures were done by the donor's aunt.

In addition to these gifts, the society has received four fine oil paintings, depicting landscape scenes. Among these is one painted by J. F. Stanton in 1840, and another depicting a fishing scene on a Scotch loch, from the brush of C. C. Wayne.

These donations will soon be on view at the museum, Union street.

Doctors And Nurses Being Kept Busy

Four Hundred Cases Presented Themselves at Various Clinics Yesterday for Examination.

"The response of the public to the anti-tuberculosis campaign being conducted in your city has been the greatest I have ever witnessed in all my experience in this work," said Miss C. M. Inglis, tuberculosis nursing expert, to a standard reporter last night. Miss Inglis, who has been connected with similar tuberculosis prevention campaigns in other provinces and in the United States, said she had never seen a community so responsive to a publicity campaign as the citizens of St. John.

Four hundred cases presented themselves at the various clinics throughout the city yesterday, and as on the preceding day completely swamped the faithful band of nurses and doctors who are conducting the work. As many examinations as possible were made and orders were turned out. Much gratification was expressed by the doctors in that very few advanced cases have as yet been encountered.

At the Prince William street clinic yesterday, eighty-five cases were examined, from fifteen to twenty were sent to the County Hospital for X-ray examination to confirm the diagnosis, and some of the other cases will not be diagnosed until the sputum has been examined.

Although all the clinics had more cases than they could attend to yesterday, that at City road had the greatest number of any, and some eight or nine active cases were discovered there.

Fifty-three histories were taken at one centre, and these cases will be further examined. A night session was held at the Prince William street clinic and forty-seven cases made. Glandular tuberculosis was the most prevalent form of the disease amongst the children examined, and a large proportion of the adults had adenoids, bad teeth and kidney complications were found.

Commenting on this feature of the campaign, Dr. Parris, superintendent of the County Hospital, stated last evening that this emphasized the need of a community centre such as that in Halifax, where these diseases might be detected and treated in their earlier stages.

The overworked doctors and nurses for assistance and several of these, along with volunteer trained nurses from the Victorian Order of Nurses, helped in the afternoon, while several trained nurses and probationers from the General Public Hospital gave of their services in the evening.

Dr. Parris said so many have applied that it was expected the clinics would have to be kept open for at least a couple of days longer in order to complete the examinations, but no new cases would be examined after today.

Dr. D. A. Craig, Red Cross Commissioner for Nova Scotia, arrived in the city yesterday and will assist at the clinics.

Four men were sentenced to serve terms in Dorchester penitentiary by Mr. Justice Barry, in the circuit court yesterday morning. Hugh Briggs, Walter Northrup and John D. Wills, found guilty of receiving stolen goods, and Edward Ritchie, convicted of theft, were sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

In referring to Briggs, while delivering judgment, Mr. Justice Barry said that there had been recommendations and references in his case, showing a straight career up to that time, and it would probably not be long before clemency would be shown him by the Department of Justice.
