Dublin.

At a recent meeting of workingmen, in Dublin, a proposition was mooted that they should beyoott public-houses, and thus deprive the Government of the income it receives from the liquor duties. That would be an admirable scheme—if it could only be accomplished.

Sir Richard Martin, Bart, who received his title for kowtowing before the Prince of Wales, in Dublin, during that fat personage's recent visit to Ireland, is said to be the chosen "loyalist" candidate for the Stephen's green division of the city. It is hoped that, as he is a Catholic, he may be able to scrape together a few "Cawtholic" votes, in addition to the Tory ones in the division.

It is pretty well understood that Mr.

Jas. Leaby will again offer himself for one of the divisions of Kildare, and will, of course, be recommended by the Irish Parliamentary Party. The name of Mr.

John O'Connor, Lord Mayor of Dublin, has been spoken of as a candidate for North Kildare, and Mr. Gerald Alymer will, it is probable, also be put forward. Very many influential men in the county are anxious that Dr. P. L. O'Neill, of are anxious that Dr. P. J. O'Nell, of Athy, would permit himself to be nomin-ated.

Speaking at a very large meeting, in Listowel, on October 18, Mr. Wm. O'Brien, M. P., referred at length to the great misery that had been wrought in Kerry by landlordism, and pointed out that while Irish judges and English landlords were foregoing gales of rent, the landlords of Ireland only desired to wring the last shilling of their rack-rents out of the people, even if it had to be coined out of the people's heart's-blood. He strongly condemned outrage, and asserted that at the present moment the very thing that alarms and dismays the landlords most was the fact that there were no murders to be had at any price. It was the landlords that were responsible for any crimes that occurred. It was the gentlemen conspirators who met in Cork a short time ago and their imitators in Kerry. These were the men who have themselves declared war to the death; and before that was over either the landlords would exterminate the Visib records or the Lish was over either the landlords would exter-minate the Irish people, or the Irish and he should say that of the two he would be much inclined to back the four millions against the few thousands.

Clare.

At the Kilrush Quarter Sessions, on Oct. 21, Mr. Kelly, Q. C., County Court Judge for Clare, was presented with a pair of white gloves, their being no criminal business to be transacted. The O'Gorman Mahon and Mr. John McInerney, of Cratice, will be the Nationalist candidate for county Clare.

Limerick. About seventy ejectment cases for non-payment of rent, are listed at the Limerick Quarter Sessions, a fact that is pronounced by the Pall Mall Gazette, to be the most serious news of the day, and the most evident proof of the inability of tenants to pay even the judicial rents.

Waterford. Waterford.

A rumor afloat in Waterford states that Lord Charles Beresford, brother to the Marquis of Waterford, will oppose Mr. P. J. Power, M. P., for the Eastern division of that county, in the Tory interest. The proceeding would be silly enough by itself, but it is made too laughable by a report which says that a Whig candidate will also run for the division in the person of Mr. William De La Poer, brother to the Count De La Poer who so scandalthe Count De La Poer who so scandal-ously sold the county by a hurried retire-ment from its representation in favor of Mr. Villiers Stuart, in 1873. Alderman James Haslett, J. P., a Tory and an Orangeman, has been chosen to oppose the National candidate for West Belfast. He has been threatened with an belfast. He has been threatened with an absence of Whig support, but in any case the Nationalist electors in the division outnumber Whigs and Tories together by some hundreds.

To the readers of the Catholic Record.

Why does the government spend so much money and risk so many lives in trying to capture the counterfeiter?

"Suppose he does counterfeit government is rich enough to stand any loss his act may confer!"

But the individual citizen could ill afford to be put to continual financial loss if such desperadoes were let go unwhipped of justice.

It is only the valuable thing that is counterfeited; it is only in the light of purity and virtue that impurity and viccan be known. No one in these days would counterfeit a Confederate bond or note.

can be known. No one in these days would counterfeit a Confederate bond or note.

People who commit fraud always do it by stimulating the highest virtue; by preying on the cleanest reputation, by employing the fair name of virtue with which to give respectability to vice.

Let us explain: Seven or eight years ago, so we have been informed many times in public prints, a New York state gentleman was pronounced, as many millions have been pronounced before, incurably sick of an extreme disorder. By suggestions which he believed were providential, he was led to the use of a preparation which had been for several years employed by a select few physicians in New York city and one or two other prominent places. The result was that he was cured, he whom doctors without number and of conceded ability said was incurable. Having secured possession of the formula, absolutely and irrevocably, he determined to devote a portion of his accumulated wealth to the manufacture and sale of this remedy for the benefit of the many who suffer as he suffered, in apparent hopeleseness. In less than three years, so tremendous became the demand for this remedy and so exalted the reputation, that he was obliged for his purpose to reset a laboratory and warehouse containing four and a quarter acres of flooring and filled with the most approved chemical and manufacturing devices. Probably there never was a remedy that has won such a meritorious name, such extraordinary sales and has accomplished so much good for the race.

Unprincipled Parties who flourish only upon the ruins of others, saw in this reputation and sale an opportunity to reap a golden harvest, (not legitimately, not honorably) for which purpose they have made imitations and substitutions of it in every section of the country, and many druggists, who can make a larger profit on these initiation.

their honor by forcing a sale upon the unposted customer.

Yes, undoubtedly the manufacturers could well afford to ignore such instances of fraud so far as the effect upon themselves is concerned, for their remedies have a constant and unremitting sale, but they feel it to be their duty to warn the public against such imitations and substitutions, non-secret and otherwise. The individual who buys them and the public who countenances their sale alone suffer in mind, body and estate therefor. body and estate therefor.

The authors of some of these fraudulent

The authors of some of these fraudulent practices have been prosecuted and sent to prison for their crimes, but there is another class who claim to know the formula of this remedy and one Sunday school journal, we are told, has prostituted its high and holy calling so far as to advertise that for twenty-five cents it will send all new subscribers a transcript of the Warner formula! This formula, by the way, must be a wonderfully kaleidoscopic affair, for there is hardly a month passes when some paper is not issued which pretends to give the only correct formula!

The manufacturers inform us that they would be perfectly willing that the public should know what the true formula of Warner's safe cure is, (none that have been published are anything like it), but even if every man woman and child in the United States were as familiar with this formula as with their A B C's they could not compound the remedy. The metaod of manufacture is a secret. It is impossible to obtain the results that are wrought by

The truth of an old adage, that "there is nothing new under the sun," is exemplified in the case of the parcels post. In the archives of the London (Eng.) General Post Office are preserved records of goods and parcels, and even human beings, being entrusted for transit to the post officials between 1692 and 1720. Thus we read that "fifteen couples of hounds were sent through post to the King of the Romans; two servantmaids going as laundresses to my Lord Ambassador Metheun; Dr. would be perfectly willing that the public should know what the true formula of Warner's safe cure is, (none that have been published are anything like it), but even if every man woman and child in the United States were as familiar with this formula as with their A B C's they could not compound the remedy. The method of manufacture is a secret. It is impossible to obtain the results that are wrought by this remedy if one does not have the perfect skill acquired only by years of practice for compounding and assimilating the simple elements which enter into its com-tice for compounding and assimilating the simple elements which enter into its composition.

The learned Dr. Foster, the honored head of Clifton Springs sanitarium, once said that having roughly analyzed this remedy he recognized that the elements that compose it were simple but he attributed the secret of its power to the method of its compounding, and this method no one knows except the manufacturers and no one can acquire it.

Our advice to our readers, therefore, cannot be too strongly emphasized. As you would prefer virtue to vice, gold to dross, physical happiness to physical misery, shun the imitator and refuse thereby to lend your aid financially to those who seek to get, by trading upon another's reputation and honesty, a sale for wares and goods which on their merits are fit only to be rejected as the veriest refuse. You can neither afford to patronize such people nor can you afford to take their injurious compounds into your syssem. When you call for Warner's Safe Cure see that the wrapper is black with white letters and that the wrapper and label bear an imprint of an iron safe, the trade mark, and that a safe is blown in the back of the bottle and that a perfect 1 c promissory note stamp is over the cork. You can't be imposed on if you observe these cautions.

We have the highest respect for the cautions.

We have the highest respect for the remedy we have mentioned and the highest regard for the manufacturers, and we cannot too highly commend their dignified and considerate tone in relation to those who would traduce their fair name and ruin the best interest of the public in such matters.

We have rarely seen a more touching little incident than this, told by a New Haven paper. A widow's child received a reward of merit in school, and ran eagerly home to her mother, saying, as she entered her humble dwelling: I held it must the sky all the way home manual. it up to the sky all the way home, mamma, so that papa might see what a good girl I

Catarrh is a dangerous disease which thousands are consciously or unconsciously suffering from. It is a muco-purulent discharge caused by the presence of a vegetable parasite in the lining membrane of the nose. The predisposing causes are a morbid state of the blood, the blighted corpuscle of tubercle, the germ poison of syphilis, mercury, toxomosa, from the retention of the effete matter of the skin, suppressed perspiration, badly ventilated sleeping apartments and the germination of other poisons in the blood. Irritated by these, the lining membrane of the nose is ever ready for the reception of the parasite, which rapidly spreads up the nostrils and down the fauces, or back of the throat, causing ulceration of the throat; up the eustachian tubes, causing deafness; burrowing in the vocal chords, causing hoarseness; usurping the proper structure of the bronehial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death.

Many ingenious specifics for the cure of catarrh have been invented, but without success, until a physician of long standing discovered the exact nature of the disease and the only appliance which will permanently destroy the parasite, no matter how aggravated the case. Sufferers should send stamp at once for descriptive pamphlet on catarrh, to the business manager, A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 King street west, Toronto, Canada.—The Mail.

The Mail.

An Alarming Disease Afflict ing a Numerous Class.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and, in fact, the entire glandular system, and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering. The disease is often mistaken for other complaints; but if the reader will ask himself the following questions, he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted:

—Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in questions, he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted:

—Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in breathing after eating? Is there a dull, heavy feeling attended by drowsiness? Have the eyes a yellow time? Does a thick, sticky, mucous gather about the gums and teeth in the mornings, sccompanied by a disagreeable taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there pains in the side and back? Is there pains in the side and back? Is there a fulness about the right side as if the liver were enlarging? Is there costiveness? Is there vertigo or dizzlness when rising suddenly from a horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys scanty and highly coloured, with a deposit after standing? Does food ferment soon after eating, accompanied by flatulence or a belching of gas from the stomach? Is there frequent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dreadful disease progresses. If the case be one of long standing, there will be a dry, hacking cough, attended after a time by expectoration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold, sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against this latter agonising disorder. The origin of this malady is indigestion or dyspepsia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipiency. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, when a little medicine will effect a cure, and even when it has obtained a strong hold the correct remedy should be persevered in until every vestige of the disease is eradicated, until the appetite has returned, and the digestive organs restored to a healthy condition. The surest and most effectual remedy for this distressing complaint is "Seigel's Curative Syrup," a vegetable preparation sold by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, 17, Farringdon Road, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch out of the system.

FIVE-MINUTE SERMONS FOR EARLY MASSES By the Paulist Fathers.

NOV. 21, 1888

Preached in their Church of St. Paul the Apostle, Fifty-ninth Street and Nin Avenue, New York. TWENTY-FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOS "Bearing with one another and forgiving another, if any have a complet gainst another. Even as the Lord hergiven you, so you also."—Col. iii., 18. This, my dear brethren, is the law thrist. It is a law we are bound Christ. It is a law we are bound keep. We cannot save our souls unle we do keep it. There is no possible we to escape its requirements, for our Lot Himself declares positively: "But if you will not forgive me, neither will you Father forgive you your offences" (Matt, v 15). Therefore, there is no way to sat our souls, no way to be true Christians life unless we forgive all and every or without exception, every injury they have done us. done us.

But one may say, I do forgive all whaye injured me if they repent, say the are sorry and ask pardon! My debrethren, this won't do. You must for give whether they repent or not. Nothin less will satisfy the Lord. The best reson is that because the Lord has forgive us, so we also are bound to forgive a A true lover of the Lord doesn't want better reason. A greater or a better cannot be given. Our Lord Himself has set the example. He has taken our sins up. Himself and caused the Eternal Father forgive us our sins for His sake befor

Do wen receive in our baptism, as infants, ti grace that destroys original sin? Origin ain placed us under the power of the de-and made us unworthy to be called ti sons of God, but our Christian baptis made us again the sons of God. Does n some of God, but our Christian bapties made us again the sons of God. Does n God seem to forgive us also a great ps of our mortal sins, in as much as I gives us time to repent and was apatiently for our repentance? Remet ber, these sins after baptism are all t greater because after being made innoce we again become guilty.

To make this reason all the strong call to mind what our Lord has done persuade us to forgive one another for E sake; not only did He suffer and die the cross for us, but even gave up His own Mother to suffering and agony unspeasable that she might merit a right to pretent and aid us when His justice deman our punishment eternally. No, my debrethren! No greater nor better reas can be given than this: that we ought forgive all simply because our Lord as us to do so.

can be given than this: that we ought for give all simply because our Lord as us to do so.

But some try to excuse themselves a say, It is hard to have to do this. I ca do it. The sin against me is too great, ought not to be forgiven. This is r true. There is nothing we can't forgi nothing we are permitted to leave unfigiven! We can forgive any sin agains if we will. If it is hard, pray and will become easy. Sincere prayer for hwho is our enemy is sure to remove ve soon all feeling against us. This is cain: that it will, without fail, prevent overcoming us and causing us to sin griously against charity. Remember the everything we do well for our Lord is hat first, but it is made easy by prayer a faithful, persevering effort.

Again some object, I try to pray! cannot, because when I pray I think my wrongs and begin to hate my enems of that my prayer is insincere or stops my lips! Then pray for all poor sinnand don't mean to leave your enemy of your prayers. This is a good beginn and keeps you from mortal sin, for p we must for our memics. This is the funmental law of the Christian life. If intentionally leave out one single when we pray for all poor sinners, we

To encourage us to forgive, let us what it does. It saves God's honor, prevents His being insulted. For ample: when one insults us, he against God and insults Him also, we answer back, we also insult God, make two sins instead of one. Next, answer makes our enemy reply ag For another sin we are responsible, it goes on until a number of sins are omitted by each one.
