

COMMUNITY :—

"	when wife may renounce	1347, 1348
"	her renunciation may be attacked by her creditors.....	1351
"	rights of wife to subsistence during the delays	1352
"	partition of,	1354
"	what things must be returned into,	1355, 1356
"	what things may be pretaken.....	1357
"	pretakings of the wife.....	1358
"	pretakings of the husband	1359
"	replacements and compensations bear interest from the dissolution of the community	1360
"	how property is divided.....	1361
"	how division takes place when heirs disagree.....	1362
"	how partition is effected	1363
"	recourse of copartitioners for their individual claims	1365
"	interest upon such claims	1366
"	gifts from one consort to the other are not chargeable to the community	1367
"	how debts of community are borne.....	1369, 1378
"	wife is not bound for debts beyond benefit she claims	1370
"	husband bound for the whole of the debts as regards the creditors	1371
"	exception as to private debts of the wife	1372
"	wife may be sued for the whole of her personal debts saving her recourse	1373
"	wife cannot get back what she pays over her share unless she expressed her intention of paying only her half.	1375
"	:—See RENUNCIATION.
"	conventional, is susceptible of different modifications.....	1384
"	:—See MOBILIZATION, PRECIPUT, REALIZATION, SEPARATION OF DEBTS.
"	wife may stipulate that she will take back free and clear what she brought	1400
"	consorts may stipulate for unequal shares.....	1406
"	share in debts is proportionate to share in assets of com- munity.....	1407
"	definitive agreement for a certain sum in lieu of share....	1408
"	" as regards the heirs.....	1409
"	" recourse of creditors and payment of debts in the case.....	1410
"	when it is stipulated that the survivor shall have the whole of the community, the heirs of the other may take back what he brought into it	1411
"	may be stipulated to be by general title	1412
"	remains subject to rules of legal community.....	1414
"	may be excluded	1415
"	powers of the husband in such case	1416 to 1419