Ottawa, Feb. 7, 1910.

Dear Mr. Luce,-

I have your letter of the 28th ultimo, and am much obliged to you for your kindness in having forwarded copies of the letter you received. Some of these letters are particularly interesting, and will, I think, prove to be of considerable value.

I was also particularly pleased to receive the letter addressed to you from Mr. Charles Francis Adams. I have always had a warm admiration for Mr. Adams, and have known of and been helped by his pamphlet advocating a measure to effect publicity in connection with industrial disputes for some years past. The pamphlet was one, as you will see by reference to a debate at the time our measure was introduced, which was used effectively in the House of Commons. I wish you would convey to Mr. Adams an expression of my thanks for his kindness in writing you and allowing his letter to be forwarded to me. It was a regret to me that I had not the pleasure of making his acquaintance while in Boston, but, should I be in your City at any time in the near future, I shall hope to give myself the opportunity of calling upon him. I agree most cordially with all Mr.
