*Article
hall room
Fielding*

Mr. King:

Colonel Ralston called at Laurier House, evidently just after calling at the house of the late Mr. Fielding.

Colonel Ralston is anxious to speak to you about arrangements for Mr. Fielding's funeral. He says that the family have not yet decided where they wish ~~the funeral~~ to be. He said the members of the family were appreciative of all that had been done by the Government for Mr. Fielding, and were somewhat averse to the public expense involved in a state funeral.
