ASIATIC LABOR.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN FRANKLY GIVES HIS VIEWS.

Would Not Consent to it For Transvaal so Long as Public Opinion is Hostile.

London, July 28.—During the course of the debate in the House of Commons, on the second reading of the Transvaal loan bill, Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, referring to the proposal to introduce Asiatic labor into South Africa, declared that so long as public opinion was hostile to the proposition he would not consent to it. He believed, however, that opinion on the subject was changing, and if the majority demanded the importation of Indian coolies, he would not object to it. In regard to Chinese labor, Mr. Chamberlain said that not a single suggestion looking to the employment of Chinese in South Africa had ever been officially brought to the notice of the Transvaal Government.

DESPERATE CONVICTS.

Successful Fight for Liberty at Folsom, California.

Sacramento, Cal., July 28.—A despatch from Folsom says: Thirteen desperate prisoners, confined in the Folsom Penitentiary, made a successful break for liberty at the breakfast hour. After a fierce fight in the captain's office, during which Turney Cochran was fatally stabbed, Guard Cotter was killed and Officer Palmer was cut on the head, they seized their arms and ammunition, and using the warden and other officials as shields, escaped. To-night, it is believed, they are making for the Bald Mountain. State troops, ordered out by Governor Pardee, have gone to the scene. The fight took place after the convicts had gone to the office of R. J. Murphy, Captain of the Guard, and seized Warden Wilkinson, his grandson, Harry Wilkinson, Captain Murphy and several other officers and guards. The convicts were armed with knives and razors, and with these they assaulted Warden Wilkinson and his officers. The warden's clothing was slashed into shreds, but he was not wounded. Turney Cochran fought the convicts with a chair, raining blows upon them right and left. Finally, he was felled by a knife-thrust in the back. Guard Cotter was dismembered by a cut in the abdomen, and died a few hours later. Palmer was severely cut. The floor of the office was covered with blood.

The officers were outnumbered and soon relieved of their arms. Then, using the officers as shields, the convicts started for the armory on the outskirts of the penitentiary grounds. They passed a Gatling gun on one of the walls, but the guards were afraid to shoot for fear of killing the prison officials. When the armory was reached, the officers there attempted to interfere, but were quickly overpowered, and the convicts took a supply of weapons and ammunition and made a dash for the country. The convicts marched beside Wilkinson, and the officers were told if any of the pursuers took the life of one of their number that they would retaliate, life for life. At Mormon Bridge, about a mile from the penitentiary, the warden, his grandson, and Captain Murphy were released and sent back. Others were marched along with the convicts. Further on the convicts went to a farmer's house, seized his four horse team and wagon, robbed the house, took the farmer with them as a driver, and headed for Bald Mountain.

LYNCHED A WOMAN.

The Brutal Work of a Mob Near Shreveport, La.

Shreveport, La., July 28.—Information has reached Shreveport that the negroess, Jennie Steer, who it is alleged, administered poison in a glass of lemonade to Lizzie Dolan, the 10-year-old daughter of John Dolan, from the effects of which she died, was lynched by a mob Saturday night. The lynching occurred on the Beard plantation, near the spot where the woman's crime was committed. She denied committing the crime to the last. It is claimed the negroess fled from the Dolan household as soon as the crime was discovered. She was pursued by a posse, who found her crouching in a hayloft. She was dragged out and taken to the Dolan home, and fully identified as the woman who had placed the poison in the lemonade. The mob took her to a nearby tree, placed a rope around her neck and again asked her to confess. She was strung up without making any admissions. While the body was dangling in mid-air several bullets were fired into it by the enraged citizens.

SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS.

A Recorder's Clerk in Montreal Missing.

Montreal, July 28.—A. Fournier, an accountant in the office of the Recorder's Court, is missing, and a shortage of $500 has been discovered in his books. The city holds a guarantee from a private individual of $500, so that the net loss will be small. Fournier has been missing since last Thursday. It is alleged that he left a note for his wife, confessing his guilt and stating that he had lost the money in stock speculation. His operations in this direction began in January, and appear to have been prompted by the advice of a friend, who was an insurance agent. Fournier was at one time manager of a branch bank at a salary of $800 per year, but lost the position and obtained a post in the Recorder's Court. He received the payment of fines, and in this way was enabled to secure possession of the money.

"FRUIT OF THE LOOM."

Men and women of taste and judgment go into ecstasies over the wonderful patterns, textures and colors which are "the fruit of the loom." But there is one they rarely consider, and that is the frail and faded woman, old before her time, because necessity compels her to work under conditions, which send her more favored sister to bed and the doctor's care.

The diseases which weaken and torment women, may in almost all cases be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I had female trouble for eight years," writes Mrs. L. J. Dennis, of 888 East College Street, Jacksonville, Ill. "Words cannot express what I suffered. I sought relief among the medical profession and found none. Friends urged me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I commenced taking this medicine I weighed ninety-five pounds. Now I weigh one hundred and fifty-six pounds—more than I ever weighed before. I was so bad I would lie from day to day and long for death to come and relieve my suffering. I had internal inflammation, a disagreeable drain, breaking-down pain, and such distress every month, but now I never have a pain—do all my own work and am a strong and healthy woman."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

THEY WANT RECIPROCITY.

American Furniture Men in Canada.

New York, July 27.—The second session of the first national convention of the National Furniture Association of America was held Friday. Eugene N. Foss of Boston made the principal speech in the evening on reciprocity with Canada, saying among other things:—

"Canada is the largest purchaser of our manufactures on the face of the globe, and we ask our Government to deal justly and fairly with our best customers. Our demand for closer trade relations with Canada rests upon broad foundations. Pre-eminently is the need of our manufactures for cheaper raw material, iron, coal, wood, hides, etc.

The following resolutions were adopted:—

"Resolved, that the Furniture Association of America regards with approval the action of the United States Government in seeking to reconvene the Anglo-American Joint High Commission for the purpose, among others, of negotiating a reciprocity treaty with Canada.

"That it is the sense of this convention that reciprocal relations, beneficial to both countries, should preferably follow the general lines of the removal by both countries of the duties on some or all of the natural products of each, and such mutual extensions of the free list and reductions and changes of the duties on the manufactured products of both as will give to each as low a rate of duties as is given to any other country."

SET FIRE TO THE HAY.

Boys' Mischief Causes a Loss of $40,000.

Winnipeg, July 28.—Fire last evening destroyed the large storehouse of the Arctic Ice Company, at the corner of River avenue and Main street, together with their stables and wagon sheds, and the two residences on River avenue, immediately to the east. The loss is about $40,000. A load of hay was being unloaded into one end of the icehouse, when a small boy with a match ignited the load. In the endeavor to get it away from the building the load upset, scattering the fire in all directions, and the result was as above stated. About 10,000 tons of ice will be rendered useless.

ANOTHER DRUCE CLAIMANT.

Issues Bonds on Claim to the Dukedom of Portland.

There is another claimant from the Druce family for the title and estates of the Duke of Portland. The claimant in this instance hails from Brighton, a suburb of Melbourne, and his name is George Hollanby Druce. He is a carpenter. He is pro-

THE DUKE OF PORTLAND, according to England with his solicitor.

Druce claims to be the illegitimate descendant and grandson of Thomas Charles Druce, who from 1835 to 1864 carried on business as an upholsterer in the Baker street bazaar in London.

A strong syndicate at Melbourne, having at its head J. McA. Howden, has been formed to finance the undertaking. Druce having issued bonds of £100 ($500), salable at £10 ($50), which will leave a fairly large margin of profit to the investors should his endeavor to prove his case and obtain the estates be crowned with success.

Joaquin Miller's Funeral Pyre.

The following anecdote is told of Joaquin Miller, the reports of whose death published recently were promptly denied the poet, who had a funeral pyre and monument built after his own designs.

Years ago he was journeying on foot, and was overtaken by an honest countryman, who took him up on his loaded wagon and gave him a long ride. Tired, at length, of conversation, the poet took a novel from his pocket and poured over it long and silently.

"What are you reading?" said the countryman.

"A novel of Bret Harte's," said Mr. Miller.

"Well, now, I don't see how an immortal being wants to be wasting his time on such stuff."

"Are you quite sure?" asked the poet. "Are you quite sure I am an immortal being?"

"Of course you are."

"That is so," responded Miller, "I don't see why I need be economical of my time."

The accompanying sketch of the pyre and monument—it is to serve both purposes—was taken from a California paper some time ago. It is described as follows:—It has already been built under his own supervision, and from his own designs, in a romantic spot on the top of a hill back of the poet's home in Oakland, where big trees thrust themselves up into the air and huge boulders dot the ground. Upon one of these is carved in big letters, "To the Unknown." The poet's greeting to the future which his eyes cannot pierce. The pyre itself is square, solidly built of 620 rough blocks of stone. Three steps lead up to it. It is ten feet square and eight feet high, so that from the top step a man can look over and see in its top only a shallow depression.

Here the poet has directed that his body be cremated, and the ashes scattered to the winds.

Know What He Was About.

It was just past midnight, says Tit-Bits: "John," whispered his wife, in a hushed voice, "John, wake up, there is a burglar downstairs."

John jumped from his bed and hastily rushed out of the room. Mrs. John goes to the door, and hearing nothing, calls out, "John, where are you?"

"Here I am," came a voice from above.

"What are you doing up there in the attic?"

"Confound you, woman, didn't you say there were burglars downstairs?"

He Rather Liked It.

The Frigate Bird.

The majority of sailors on the Atlantic ocean religiously believe that the frigate bird can start at daybreak with the trade winds from the coast of Africa and roost the same night upon the American coast.
