A SPLENDID VICTORY.

There never was a time when th future of this city appeared more bright and promising than it doe to-day. Chatham's real boom start ed yesterday when the ratepayers of this city passed with such an overwhelming majority, the by-law to grant a loan to the Wolverine Brass Company

The significant feature of the pass ing of this by-law is not alone the fact that a large new, industry will be brought to Chatham. True, this is one of the most important points for congratulation, but the outstanding feature of the victory yesterday, and the one upon which the deep thinking citizens look with pride and satisfaction, is the fact that the ratesatisfaction, is the fact that the ratepayers have proven that they are wide awake and progressive. There are no dead ones in Chatham, in the face of the large vote yesterday, and it is this spirit of interest in the affairs of the city which causes the future to appear so bright and promising.

It has been a very hard fight, and on this account the victory is all the more creditable. It is a well known fact that money by-laws are the very some time, returned to their home in hardest to pass. In Chatham it is especially difficult in view of the high tax rate. The terms of the present agreement are so favorable to the city that no extra expense will be added to the ratepayers.
