

Notes and Comments

Hon. F. B. Carvell has sold his residence in Woodstock, N. B., and has moved his family to Ottawa where he will permanently reside.

Major Gen. L. Wood will retire from the United States army as his friends are bound to have his name up for Republican nomination for President.

The sufferers by the Oromocto fire have been granted $2,500 by the New Brunswick Government; and the city of Fredericton has contributed $1,000.

Twenty seven war vessels were lost by France during the period of hostilities. Included in the list are three battleships, the Danton, the Gaulois, and the Suffren.

At Atlantic City some $20,000,000 are to be spent in new hotels to make this sea-side place an American Riviera. There will be a Ritz-Carlton hotel costing $8,000,000.

The Daily Mail, London, Eng., says the Government's Irish policy is rapidly taking shape and before long Ireland will have a good measure of Home Rule, that will kind of knock to smithereens that "Irish Republic" business.

Sir Herbert Holt, President of the Royal Bank, who has just returned from England, declares that only steady and intensive work can save the country from ruin. He says that there is at present a delirium of spending over there, this in spite of strikes.

There are 274 Canadian soldier prisoners in English jails;—a small percentage when we consider the tens of thousands of men that we had in England waiting for the homeward trip; less than one-fourteenth of one per cent. Well done, boys; you fought well and almost universally behaved well.

Bodies of American soldiers, who fell in the war, will, as far as possible, if requested by relatives, be returned to the United States. Secretary Baker said it was hoped that the great majority of American parents would decide to let them remain there but that the wishes of the relatives desiring the bodies returned would be carried out.

The Literary Digest has overcome the difficulty created by the typesetters' strike in New York by printing the whole magazine from plates made by photographing the original typewritten copy. Each page is in effect a photographic copy of the original article as written on the typewriter. The publishers intimate that this method may supplant the old method entirely.

One Toronto firm of jobbers in boots and shoes made a profit of $190,000 last year, and a net profit of $800,000 between 1912 and 1919, according to the evidence before the Board of Commerce. This, the Globe argues, confirms the view that the middleman, standing between producer and consumer, is responsible for much of the high cost of living.

Cigarette smoking is on the increase in England, especially among women, according to experts. One estimate places the demand for cigarettes at twice what it was before the war. 'Women smoke a great deal more than formerly,' said one tobacco man, 'and some of them can't even hang out the washing unless they have a cigarette in their mouths.'

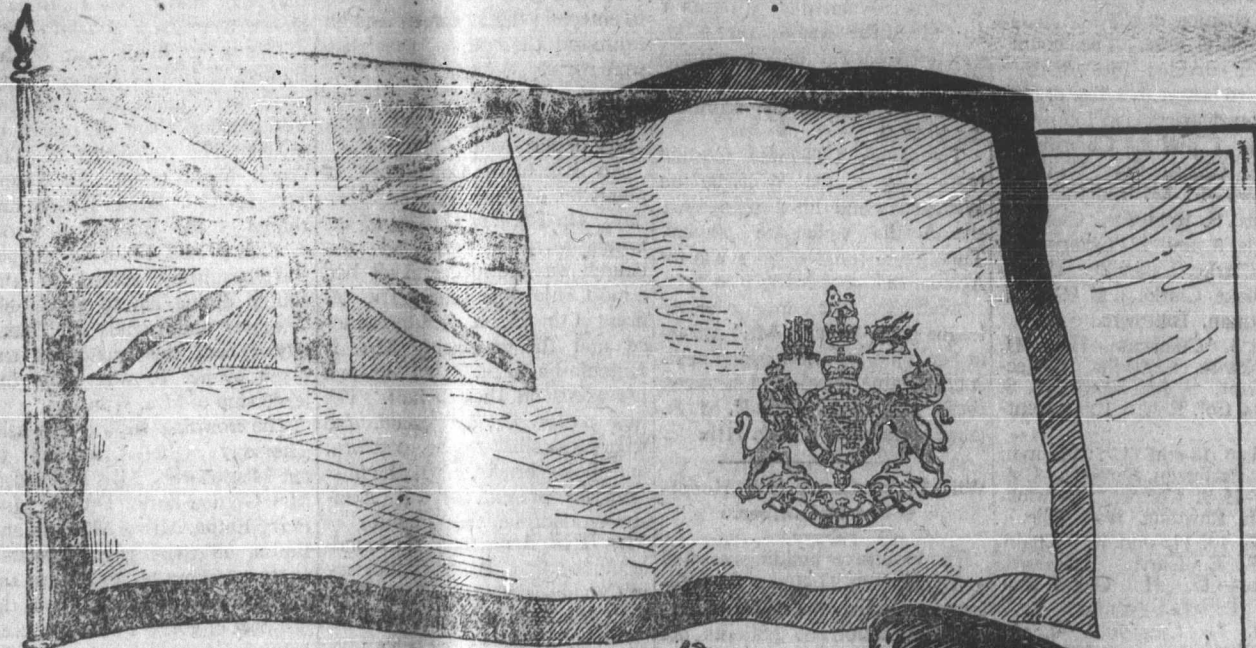

In a hearing before Judge Alshuler, arbitrator of Chicago Stock Yards wages, G. B. Fitchie head of the milk waggon drivers, testified: 'Drivers in the city are working on an average wage of $35 a week, and commissions bring the weekly pay up to about $56 for men peddling milk to residences. Of course the men who drive the big automobile trucks which deliver the large consignments in hotels, restaurants, manufacturing and the like, can make more, some of them as high as $80 a week.'

Confidence men in London have a newer means of victimizing credulous persons. Dressed in an army officer's uniform, these tricksters produce papers purporting to show that they are entitled to a monthly allowance payable the following day and offer to sell the paper at a reduced figure. A desire to render a service man some return has led many persons to the exchange of $75 or $100 for one of these worthless allowance forms, according to police reports. Public warnings have resulted.

"I Hope Every City and District Will Win My Flag"

When Edward, Prince of Wales—eager, bright eyed, smiling and sincere—arrived in Canada in August, and when he voiced his great admiration of the wonderful achievements of Canadians, on the fields of battle and at home, once again we were thrilled with joyous pride.

He asked concerning Canada's reconstruction programme, and when he was told of the Victory Loan 1919, he graciously consented to the use of his Coat of Arms on a flag, which is to be the prize of honour for districts achieving their quota in the loan.

In dedicating "The Prince's Flag" at Ottawa on Labor Day, His Royal Highness said in part:—

"It is a great joy to me to be associated with the loan, which is the bridge between war and peace, and which is finishing off the job."

"I hope every city and district will win my flag." Striking, and beautiful in design, this flag will form not only a unique memento of Victory Year, but a lasting and outstanding souvenir of the visit of His Royal Highness—a visit which will remain as one of the most memorable events in Canada's history.

The reproduction above shows the design of the flag. The body is white, the edge red; in the upper left hand corner is the Union Jack, and in the lower right hand corner the Prince of Wales' Coat of Arms.

The flag is made in two sizes, 4 feet 6 inches by 9 feet for small cities, towns and villages, and 7 feet by 13 feet 6 inches for cities of over 10,000 population.

Canada has been divided into canvassing districts by the Victory Loan Organization. Each city forms one district. Other districts have been determined according to population.

Each of these canvassing districts has been allotted a certain amount in Victory Bonds to sell. To win the Prince's Flag, therefore, a district has to sell its allotment. That is the one and simple condition.

Anticipating that many districts will buy far beyond their allotment, the organization decided that for each twenty-five per cent. excess of the quota one Prince of Wales' Crest be awarded. Thus the workers in a district doubling its quota will be the proud winners of four small crests for their Honour Flag. These crests will be sewn to the flag. The Prince's Crest—the three ostrich plumes—is shown at the top of the coat of arms.

To every organization with fifty or more employees, where seventy-five per cent. of the enrollment invests a total of ten per cent. of the annual payroll in Victory Bonds, a supplementary Prince of Wales Flag in smaller form—48 inches by 34 inches—will be awarded.

The allotment for each district has been carefully considered, and is based on a conservative estimate of the purchasing power of the district.

Your district can sell its allotment and thus win the Prince's Flag, provided each person does his or her share.

You will gladly do your part and encourage your neighbour to do his.

Remember YOUR purchase may be the one that decides whether or not your district is to be the proud possessor of the Prince's Flag.
